'MAIN FLOOR: GIFTS, LINENS, WEDDINGS'

Their romance had its ups and downs after elevator repairman Robert McClure, 39, met elevator operator Lea Bonham, 27, a year ago. Naturally, they were married last night in the elevator of a department store in Riverside, Calif. The rites were performed by Rev. Jack Perkins a part-time Santa in the store—as the bride and bridegroom, best man and maid of honor crowded into the elevator, and friends watched from the store's main floor. (UPI Telephoto)

Imogene McNear Dies Unexpectedly

Mrs. Imogene C. McNear of San Rafael, socially prominent wife of brick company owner Lawrence P. McNear, died unexpectedly at home this morning. She was 64.

A member of the pioneer Cheney family of Sonoma County, Mrs. McNear was born in Sebastopol. She studied nursing at University of California at Berkeley and San Francisco in the mid-1920s, and came within a few weeks of graduation, but chose marriage over a degree. She wed McNear and left school due to a rule against married nursing students.

Her interest in nursing, however, continued throughout her life. She was active in the founding of volunteer and service groups at Marin General Hospital, San Rafael General Hospital, and Ross Hospital.

In 1962, the San Rafael hospital's volunteers honored her for organizing the group in 1958. She was named honorary president of the volunteers.

She has also been active in the Girl Scouts, San Rafael Guild of Sunny Hills and the Northgate Group of the Marin Art and Garden Center.

Mrs. McNear was corresponding secretary of the Marin Charitable Foundation, which sponsored last night's annual Marin Debutante Ball. She was unable to attend the ball because she felt ill. Her family believed her to be suffering from a temporary virus attack, but she became worse and died at 6:40 a.m. today.

She lived at McNear's Point the family-owned plant, which produces bricks and other building materials. Sale of family property to form the Peacock Gap development led her to an interest in the area's history. She had written many historical articles for the Peacock, published by Peacock Gap Country Club.

IMOGENE C. McNEAR
Death unexpected

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Lawrence P. and John E. McNear, of San Rafael; two sisters, Mrs. Dora Farley of San Rafael and Mrs. Dell Eykyn of Denver; a brother, Harold Cheney of San Francisco, and six grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael. Inurnment will be private.

Tributes may be donations to the Carole Farley Memorial Fund at San Rafael General Hospital, or to St. Paul's Church.

County, Architect Will Study 5 Bids

Bids on the hall of justice addition to the Marin County Civic Center exceeded everyone's expectations yesterday, with the lowest of five base bids coming in a half million dollars over the architect's most recent estimate.

Lowest base bid was $9,529,000 by Haas and Haynie of San Francisco. Resident architect Aaron Green of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation had estimated the job at $9,011,500.

The bids, opened by Marin County supervisors yesterday, do not include furnishing of the building or landscaping of the grounds. The entire addition, to include a jail, 10 courtrooms and other county offices now at the courthouse, will cost close to $12 million.

Bid separately yesterday was the site development job. Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick, builders of the present administration building at the Civic Center, jointly with Williams and Burrows, Inc., of San Francisco submitted the low site development bid at $485,568.

Green, however, said the contractors had the option of refusing the contract since their site development bid was submitted with a construction bid.

OTHER BIDS

Supervisors also opened 21 alternate bids, most of which would increase the cost through use of higher quality materials. All bids were referred to the Marin Department of Public Works and Green for study, with a recommendation expected in about three weeks.

Before bids were opened, County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell told the board that $223,969 was budgeted for site development and $8,953,000 for construction.

This assumes $399,000 to be raised in property taxes toward the project and $1.4 million from sale of the courthouse property.

The five base bids compared with the architect's $9,011,500 estimate were:

BID COMPARISON

Haas and Haynie, $9,529,000; Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick with Williams and Burrows, $9,575,000; Carl W. Olson and Sons Co. of San Mateo, $9,668,000; Robert E. McKee, Inc. of Glendale, $9,730,000; Donald M. Drake Co. of San Francisco, $10,336,000.

The site development bids, compared with the public works department estimate of $500,000, were:

Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick with Williams and Burrows, Inc., $484,568; Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael, $503,761.75; Maggiora, Ghilotti and Madsen of Corte Madera, $625,013.70; O. C. Jones and Sons of Berkeley, $719,796; Carl W. Olson and Sons, Co., $756,757.

AMID 'BLACKMAIL' CRY

Supervisors Hire Aide For Industry

By RICHARD LYTTLE

After a long argument in which one supervisor accused another of trying to "blackmail" votes, after a 3-1 vote, and well after 7:30 p.m. yesterday, the County of Marin acquired a director of economic development.

He is John Martin Douglas, 50, of San Rafael, until recently San Francisco branch industrial manager for Honeywell, Inc. He will receive $15,600 a year, $2,400 more than supervisors agreed upon in setting up the position last budget session.

The blackmail accusation was leveled at Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen by Supervisor Peter H. Behr. Kettenhofen declared that he would not vote to create a county department of economic development until industrial zoning proposed in the Marincello master plan was assured. He said he would change his position if fellow board members would agree not to reduce industrial acreage in Marincello.

"That's a form of blackmail that I resent," Behr declared.

Last Friday supervisors asked that the planning commission study the advisibility of industrial zoning on 70 acres in Marincello next to the proposed Golden Gate Headlands state park.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker told Kettenhofen he intended to keep an open mind to the planning commission's recommendations.

Leydecker moved that the department of economic development, intended to improve the county tax base through tourism and industry, be created. Behr seconded the motion.

By then, however, Supervisor William A. Gnoss had left the meeting, and the vote appeared headed for a 2-2 deadlock with Supervisor Thomas T. Storer voting "no" on the grounds that Gnoss should be present for such a decision.

Leydecker withdrew the motion before the vote was completed, saying further delay in creating the department would mean losing qualified candidates

Christmas Truce Left Up To Field Command

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas White House said flatly today that any Christmas pause in bombings of North Viet Nam would be decided in Saigon — not by President Johnson.

Joseph Laitin, assistant press secretary, was asked at White House press headquarters here whether Johnson was considering a holiday pause in bombings.

"That's a matter to be decided in Saigon, as the secretary of state has already said," Laitin replied.

In Washington the United States and South Viet Nam were reported planning a Christmas lull in the war to the extent that the Communists are willing to go along and refrain from shooting on their side.

The Communist forces broadcast two weeks ago a suggestion for a truce in the fighting on the night before Christmas. If both sides stop shooting, there could be an effective truce even though no formal cease-fire agreement is likely.

The Communist call was for a 12-hour cease-fire beginning on Christmas Eve and lasting until Christmas morning. Apparently the United States and South Viet Nam plan a 24-hour cessation of hostilities on their side provided that the Communists do not initiate offensive actions.

Sources said that a formal acceptance would be highly unlikely since the Communist proposal came in a radio broadcast, rather than through diplomatic channels.

A State Department spokesman said then that the real Christmas present for the world would be peace negotiations on Viet Nam. At the same time, U.S. officials showed no desire

Statue Again Stolen From Creche At Hub

San Anselmo's Christmas spirit was clouded today.

Police and firemen discovered that, for the second time in less than a week, someone has stolen a statuette of the Little Lord Jesus away from his manger on the front lawn of San Anselmo's City Hall.

Fire Capt. William Souza said he found the Christ Child tucked safely in the hay just before he went to bed at 1 a.m. by 7:30 a.m., the figure was missing.

Thieves snatched a similar figurine, donated this year by the chamber of commerce, from the same Nativity scene early Saturday. Today, they took the city's only remaining statuette of the infant.

Fire Chief Frank Souza said he does not know whether the city will replace the figure.

"I don't know if it's worth replacing if they are just going to steal them," he said. "We've been putting that Nativity scene out there for 25 years. All these years it's never been touched, before now. I don't know why anybody in his right mind would want to steal him."

Humbug Arsonist Burns Up Santa

Fire destroyed a paper-stuffed Santa figure in the yard of R. Keith Dearth at 121 Circle Road, Los Ranchitos, shortly before 2 a.m. today, Marin County firemen reported.

The figure had been doused with gasoline, firemen said, and a trail of gas across the lawn acted as a fuse.

MOSCOW (AP)— Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev met today with Le Thanh Ngi, deputy premier of North Viet Nam, apparently on Soviet aid to Hanoi.

Jack Frost Relenting As Christmas Nears

Marin's Christmas may be a bit less frosty than was feared.

The temperature in San Rafael today failed to drop to the freezing point for the first time in a week. Low temperature was 35 degrees.

There was frost again in Novato, Point Reyes Station and Woodacre, all of which dropped to 32. But temperatures rose sharply during the morning. Noon reading in San Rafael was 53 degrees, 16 degrees above yesterday's temperature at the same hour.

It was about time, commented Pacific Gas and Electric Co. officials. The company reported an all-time record for gas output in a single hour in the San Rafael area between 8 and 9 a.m. yesterday. Marin residents were using nearly twice as much gas this week as they did last year at this time, say Guy E. Pannyhill, division gas superintendent.

Marin Municipal Water District reported several cases of water pipes broken by freezing in the San Geronimo Valley.

Highway Patrol Vows Drunken Driving War

He called the tipsy motorist the "No. 1 enemy of all motorists" and "therefore all 62 patrol areas throughout the state will deploy their manpower to meet anticipated problems."

Now It'll Be Wigs

TURIN, Italy (UPI) — Giovanni Gentile, 29, received a 10-month suspended sentence yesterday for shaving his wife's head. He told the Turin Court that he did it when he discovered she had spent most of his $32 unemployment subsidy at the hairdressers.

Creek Project Is Attacked; Session Set For Defenders

The $1.3 million Corte Madera Creek flood control project drew strong attack and weak defense in a three-hour hearing before Marin County supervisors yesterday.

After listening to several residents of Greenbrae Broadwalk, some of whom stand to lose their homes to the project, supervisors continued the discussion until 8 p.m. Jan. 11.

At that time, the board hopes that a representative of the Army Corps of Engineers will be on hand to explain and defend the project.

First phase of the work would extend from Bon Air Bridge south to the mouth of the creek.

Ann McCorry, a resident of Greenbrae Boardwalk and a member of the newly created Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Advisory Board, said the project would do nothing to cure flood problems farther up the creek. She said it appeared to benefit only large land owners by deepening the existing channel and making fill of marshlands more feasible.

She also questioned the equity of leaving Ross, San Anselmo and Fairfax out of the district, even though the cities will contribute to maintenance cost

Soglo

In a proclamation read on Cotonou Radio this morning, Soglo said parliament, local government bodies and all political parties were dissolved, and the constitution suspended. A new constitution would be drawn up as soon as possible, he said.

Soglo forced quarrelling President Sourou Migan Apithy and Premier Justin Ahomadedbe to quit Nov. 29 and made National Assembly President Tihouri Congacou provisional president.

Refugee Aides Are Sentenced

BERLIN (AP) — Two American men today were reported sentenced to eight years in an East German prison for helping refugees escape to West Berlin. A Tennessee girl is being held in East Berlin apparently on the same charge.

Herrin

Moses Reese Herrin, 24, of Akron, Ohio, and Frederick Matthews, 23, of Ellwood City, Pa., were convicted yesterday in a Potsdam district court on nine counts of helping East Germans flee to West Berlin, their West Berlin lawyer, Juergen Stange, told newsmen.

A U.S. spokesman announced last night that Mary Helen Battle, 25, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was arrested in East Berlin Nov. 24. Stange said she was being held on suspicion of "aiding flight from the East German republic."

Stange said that five of the escape incidents of which the two men were accused were successful but the other four were not.

Humphrey To Discuss Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the war in Viet Nam will be a prime topic in his talks with the leaders of Japan, South Korea, the Philippines and Nationalist China.

He will Leave next week on a four-nation Far Eastern trip at President Johnson's request.

Humphrey

Humphrey, arriving in Minneapolis yesterday en route to his Waverly, Minn., home for a short Christmas rest, told newsmen there were "never any plans to visit Viet Nam." Earlier in the day, White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers had said a Viet Nam stop on Humphrey's trip "was never contemplated or discussed; it was never intended."

In his Minneapolis news conference, Humphrey said that each time a peace feeler is reported "either Hanoi or Peking blasts it out of the air."

Commons Backs Rhodesia Policy

LONDON (AP) — A foreign policy debate in the House of Commons ended in triumph for Prime Minister Harold Wilson last night and split the Conservative opposition.

The Conservatives divided over the Labor government's Rhodesia policy. Wilson's announcement that he plans to meet Soviet leaders in Moscow in February silenced critics of his own party who accuse him of too much support for the American stand in Viet Nam.

By a vote of 299-272, the House defeated a Conservative motion to restrict economic sanctions against Rhodesia.

RED CHINA VISITED

Nation Prepares For U. S. Attack

(EDITOR'S NOTE—U.S. reporters are barred from Red China. The writer of this dispatch, a Briton who lives in Palo Alto, Calif., has been there four times and has made films and written two books favorable to the country. This dispatch is presented to show the situation in China as he observed it on his latest trip).

By FELIX GREENE
Distributed by Associated Press

LONDON (AP) — The government in Peking is convinced that a U.S. attack on China has become highly probable.

I was not told this by Mao Tze-tung or Chou En-lai, but after five weeks of recent travel through Communist China, I find this conclusion inescapable.

There is evidence that the people are being prepared for a major confrontation.

Chen-yi, the foreign minister, declared last September:

"It is up to the U.S. President and the Pentagon to decide whether the United States wants a big war with China."

If the United States is determined to launch a war, he said, "they are welcome to come sooner — to come as early as tomorrow."

Empty bombast?

I don't think so.

Behind this "Come on, we're waiting for you," challenge is the belief that the United States if it faces an impasse in Viet Nam and is unready to concede defeat — may, against its better military judgment, attempt to find a solution by widening the area of conflict.

Wherever I went in China I saw young people drilling and taking target practice. The civilian militiaman has been reactivated and extended so that almost every 18-to 40, women as well as men, is in training.

As a result, China today can mount the greatest defense-in-depth that the world has ever seen.

Britain's Field Marshal Lord Montgomery was in China in 1960. After seeing the country's civilian militia he laid down a cardinal rule of war — never commit an army to fight on the mainland of China.

The civilian militia has since been greatly extended.

Yet with all this drilling the Chinese are not in what would be called a "militaristic" mood.

There is none of this in China today.

I have been to China four times in recent years. I have never seen them more militantly prepared yet more relaxed than they are today.

The people walking in the streets, or strolling through the parks, were more at ease and certainly less suspicious of a foreigner like myself, than I have ever seen them.

Part of the reason is that after years of difficulties, things are improving greatly in China.

Two years ago they were just pulling out of the lean years — the food shortages and industrial setbacks of 1960-62.

Today there were no signs of food shortages. Food stores have ample supplies. Meat is no longer rationed and seemed to be plentiful. Rice and wheat still are rationed, but the rations are generous and are not normally fully used.

Peking has imported several hundred million dollars worth of wheat.

The department stores are crowded and in the larger cities special stores have been opened for children's clothes and toys. For a year or more "quality" has been stressed in factories. Bicycles are up to Western standards and have come down appreciably in price since 1963. Streets are crowded with them.

Though there is certainly no traffic problem, there are many more automobiles on the streets than two years ago. As taxis become more available, pedicabs are being withdrawn.

From what I have seen I believe that within a few years China will need to import only a relatively small amount of the more advanced machinery and equipment.

Long General Assembly Session Unable To Solve Disarmament, Finance Issues

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly concluded its 20th session early today after a U.S.-Soviet clash on Viet Nam marred its closing hours.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko accused the United States of escalating the Viet Nam war, using toxic substances and stepping up "savage bombings."

Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg called the charges unwarranted and unfounded. He accused Fedorenko of "violating the most elementary good taste" by injecting cold war issues into the final hours of the three-month session.

"I believe many delegations share my feelings of outrage," he said.

Fedorenko retorted: "You are offended by words while peoples are being bathed in blood."

The clash followed approval of a resolution calling on all countries to refrain from intervening in the internal affairs of other nations, either directly or by subversion and terrorism. The vote was 109-0. Britain abstained.

This proposal, originally advanced by the Soviet Union, was aimed at U.S. policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. The references to subversion were written in by Western supporters, and Goldberg said the proposal had backfired on the Russians.

In many ways, the 20th session was reminiscent of the cold war days of Stalin. There was a difference, however.

Although the Soviet Union attacked the United States on many issues, there was a widespread feeling that the attacks were mainly for public show. Only Cuba and Albania among the Communist countries appeared to attack with vigor.

There was a brief note of East-West harmony in the final meeting when the assembly approved by acclamation an appeal to Communist and non-Communist nations of Europe "to intensify their efforts to improve reciprocal relations."

U.N. diplomats did not conceal their disappointment in the failure of the assembly to find a formula for financing future peacekeeping operations.

There were also no signs that the great powers were prepared to pledge the big contributions needed to liquidate the $100-million deficit already faced by the United Nations as a result of the refusal of the Soviet Union, France and other countries to pay past peacekeeping assessments.

In the final hours, the Soviet Union abstained on the vote approving the orld organization's $121-million budget for 1966 and warned that it would not pay its assessments for a half dozen items including interest on U.N. bonds and U.N. missions in Korea.

Presidential Family Goes To The Ranch

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and his family gathered at the old homestead in the Texas hill country today to celebrate Mrs. Johnson's 53rd birthday.

Johnson faced a heavy work load putting final touches on the new budget that will go to Congress next month.

Mrs. Johnson expressed the hope of getting some relaxation after three strenuous weeks of preparing for and receiving distinguished visitors from abroad — President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan, Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Great Britain and Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany.

Johnson, still recuperating from Oct. 8 gall bladder-kidney stone surgery, hoped to get in another measure of relaxation during his holiday stay before the heavy schedule that will await him when Congress reconvenes Jan. 10.

Because its waters are widely used for irrigation, the Colorado river has been compared with the Nile.

Air Force Puzzling Over Titan' Failure

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An Air Force investigative team probes through mountains of data today to learn why the upper stage of a Titan 3 rocket flubbed a final critical maneuver, failing to drive four satellites into their proper orbit.

At stake is a possible delay in the next Titan 3 launch, now scheduled to spread eight military communications satellites at various locations in space sometime in February.

Yesterday's failure came at the end of a complex six-hour flight and marred what otherwise had been a perfect mission yesterday.

The hefty Titan 3 successfully hoisted its 954-pound bundle of satellites into a looping orbit ranging from 120 to 20,900 miles above the earth.

Slightly more than six hours after the 6 a.m. PST liftoff, however, the upper stage — called a transtage — was supposed to restart and make the orbit a 21,000-mile-high circle.

Instead, the transtage failed to restart, and three of the four satellites went into the wrong orbit.

The Air Force said it did not know whether a fourth satellite, which was supposed to study the sun, had been released or not. At any rate, it wasn't working.

Two satellites designed to test future communications systems were sprung into the looping orbit, along with a third satellite, called Oscar 4, which beeps the signal "hi" to ham radio operators. Oscar 4 is also equipped to handle some voice communication between ham operators.

In Los Altos, Calif., a group of spare-time scientists announced it had made contact with Oscar Because of the nature of the satellites, however, they were built to function at the 21,000-mile-high circular orbit.

Dominican Capital Echoes Again To Deadly Shooting

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Gunfire echoed through the streets of the strife-torn Dominican capital last night and early today on the fourth day of an outbreak of sporadic violence which has taken a toll of at least 29 lives.

There was no immediate report of new casualties or of heavy fighting. So far as was known, no U.S. troops were involved in the overnight firing.

Union leaders agreed yesterday to postpone a threatened "general strike" for 72 hours to give Provisional President Hector Garcia Godoy time to investigate the air force attack on rebel leaders in Santiago Sunday.

The unions are demanding the dismissal of the military leaders they blame for the Santiago attack and the withdrawal from the country of the U.S. and other foreign troops who have been policing the nation.

Twenty-six persons were reported killed in the Santiago fighting, and two policemen were shot and killed by mobs here that same day. A teenager was killed in renewed rioting in Santo Domingo Monday.

Ex-Lawmaker Pardoned, Seeks Money

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Former Rep. Frank Boykin, joyful over his pardon from President Johnson, says he now hopes to recover the $40,000 fine he paid when convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States in violating conflict - of - interest laws.

"I thought all along that right would prevail," the 80-year-old Boykin said Tuesday. "And now it has. I was not worried, because I knew I had done nothing wrong. I'm very happy."

Boykin was fined $40,000 and sentenced to six months probation after he was convicted on eight counts in the U.S. District Court in Baltimore, Md., Oct. 7, 1963. He had been accused of attempting to influence the Justice Department in handling mail fraud charges in a savings and loan case.

Boykin, now active in the lumber and land business in Mobile after a 28-year career in Congress, was not given a prison sentence in view of his age.

The pardon was signed by Johnson last Friday and made effective as of Monday. The Justice Department said the former Democratic congressman has a serious heart condition and high blood pressure.

Million-Dollar Malpractice Suit Names Judge's Kin

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A $1 million malpractice suit against attorney Edward Mosk, brother of California Supreme Court Justice Stanley Mosk, was under consideration today by the District Court of Appeal.

The suit, filed by Monte Lee, charges that Edward Mosk and his partner, Norman Rudman, were "careless and negligent" in defending him against a Metro - Goldyn - Mayer, Inc., action in which MGM tried to prevent Lee from using the words "wonderful world" in a film production.

MGM filed the suit in 1961 against Monte Lee Enterprises to keep Lee from advertising a movie titled "Grimm's Fairy Tales" as "the Wonderful World of the Grimm Brothers."

MGM contended that such advertising would harm a film it planned to produce titled "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm."

The suit never came to trial.

Lee has contended that because of the MGM action, his film never was distributed, although MGM did make and distribute its picture.

In his suit, Lee asks $650,000 he contends he lost from not distributing the film and another $350,000 he claims he would have received from merchandising and promotional aspects of the film.

Water Like Wine

RAKTOVO, Yugoslavia (AP)—It's hard to tell a glass of wine from a glass of water here—until you drink it. The 300-meter-deep well that supplies this village has red water, colored by minerals in the rock. But although it looks like wine, it tastes like water.

Dominican Capital Echoes Again To Deadly Shooting

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Gunfire echoed through the streets of the strife-torn Dominican capital last night and early today on the fourth day of an outbreak of sporadic violence which has taken a toll of at least 29 lives.

There was no immediate report of new casualties or of heavy fighting. So far as was known, no U.S. troops were involved in the overnight firing.

Union leaders agreed yesterday to postpone a threatened "general strike" for 72 hours to give Provisional President Hector Garcia Godoy time to investigate the air force attack on rebel leaders in Santiago Sunday.

The unions are demanding the dismissal of the military leaders they blame for the Santiago attack and the withdrawal from the country of the U.S. and other foreign troops who have been policing the nation.

Twenty-six persons were reported killed in the Santiago fighting, and two policemen were shot and killed by mobs here that same day. A teenager was killed in renewed rioting in Santo Domingo Monday.

Ex-Lawmaker Pardoned, Seeks Money

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Former Rep. Frank Boykin, joyful over his pardon from President Johnson, says he now hopes to recover the $40,000 fine he paid when convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States in violating conflict - of - interest laws.

"I thought all along that right would prevail," the 80-year-old Boykin said Tuesday. "And now it has. I was not worried, because I knew I had done nothing wrong. I'm very happy."

Boykin was fined $40,000 and sentenced to six months probation after he was convicted on eight counts in the U.S. District Court in Baltimore, Md., Oct. 7, 1963. He had been accused of attempting to influence the Justice Department in handling mail fraud charges in a savings and loan case.

Boykin, now active in the lumber and land business in Mobile after a 28-year career in Congress, was not given a prison sentence in view of his age.

The pardon was signed by Johnson last Friday and made effective as of Monday. The Justice Department said the former Democratic congressman has a serious heart condition and high blood pressure.

Million-Dollar Malpractice Suit Names Judge's Kin

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A $1 million malpractice suit against attorney Edward Mosk, brother of California Supreme Court Justice Stanley Mosk, was under consideration today by the District Court of Appeal.

The suit, filed by Monte Lee, charges that Edward Mosk and his partner, Norman Rudman, were "careless and negligent" in defending him against a Metro - Goldyn - Mayer, Inc., action in which MGM tried to prevent Lee from using the words "wonderful world" in a film production.

MGM filed the suit in 1961 against Monte Lee Enterprises to keep Lee from advertising a movie titled "Grimm's Fairy Tales" as "the Wonderful World of the Grimm Brothers."

MGM contended that such advertising would harm a film it planned to produce titled "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm."

The suit never came to trial.

Herring Here, Birds Diving, Bass Coming

An abundance of diving pelicans and hungry sea gulls have been reported on Richardson Bay the past few days, heralding the start of the winter herring run.

Mrs. Ethelwyn Steese, who lives aboard the houseboat San Pablo at Waldo Point, said the birds were especially numerous during the weekend. "There were redheads, canvas backs, coots, terns, sea gulls and the pelicans were bumping into each other in mid-air," she reported. "It's an early Christmas dinner for the birds."

Many birds were reported also by S. J. Sturiale, owner of Sturiale Fish Co., Sausalito, who said today he believes this to be the start of the run although the bass, which follow the spawning herring, have not appeared.

Birds were also reported in multitudes off San Rafael Avenue in Belvedere.

CREEK

Donald R. Frost, county director of the public works said the lower channel work is necessary before work farther up the creek can be done.

Next year, the corps plans to extend the district from Bon Air Bridge to the Ross town limits.

The ditch will be earth-lined except through College of Marin, where cement lining will be used, Frost said.

Miss McCorry said there was no assurance that the corps would go ahead with the project next year.

Her statements were in the form of a minority report from the advisory committee. Other committee members, Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, of Corte Madera, and Mayor Neil R. Brixon and councilman Vaughn M. Marker of Larkspur, voted in favor of the project in a meeting of the committee last Friday. Councilman Charles F. Pendleton of Corte Madera was absent.

Miss McCorry said the main concern of the city representatives appeared to be in keeping the tax rate down.

The committee said the creek alignment east of Highway 101 should not be moved north to avoid taking Greenbrae Boardwalk homes if that would increase cost of the project.

Frost said 16 homes would be taken under the corps' original plan. Miss McCorry said 19 would go.

Frost said shifting the channel north into Wood Island would add $50,000 to construction cost but make little difference in land acquisition cost. Construction is estimated at $750,000 and acquisition at $600,000.

Frost presented several maps, including one showing possible areas where spoils from channel dredging could be dumped. A total of 700 acres were shown, with about 300 in one block east of Highway 101 and south of the creek.

Included in this area was the 100 acres under discussion as a possible county dump that would later become a Corte Madera town golf course. Also included were properties along William Avenue in Corte Madera, land along the north side of Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur, two parcels of College of Marin property, and the land of the San Francisco Roman Catholic Archdiocese west of Marin Catholic High School.

Vernon Humber, owner of 45 acres east of Highway 101, declared he did not want mud on his land in excess of a foot deep.

Frost said that owners involved are still to be consulted and more area was shown than needed.

Edward Epting of San Bruno, a San Francisco police sergeant, protested on behalf of his parents, who live on Greenbrae Boardwalk.

George Bertram, said he favored the project even though some of his land would be condemned.

Miss McCorry and others said the project would do nothing to improve navigation of the creek since it did not extend far enough into the bay to eliminate a large sand bar.

Frost finally concluded that the two issues raised were over the value of the project itself and over changing location of the channel in the Greenbrae Boardwalk area to save homes.

In addition to the homes lost at Greenbrae Boardwalk, seven structures at Larkspur Boardwalk No. 1 and 13 just south of Bon Air Bridge would be condemned.

Main complaint from those who own homes involved was that little advance notice had been given to the project design. Bertram countered that the corps had been studying the creek for 20 years.

Supervisors finally decided the corps should be invited to defend and explain the project.

HIRED

already interviewed for the job of director.

This argument eventually persuaded Storer to change his vote. The department was thus created with Kettenhofen dissenting.

Kettenhofer continued to argue that the board must show "if it sincerely wants industry" by approving the industrial section of Marincello.

Supervisors next went into brief executive session and hired Douglas, one of four candidates recommended by an oral review board several weeks ago.

Douglas is a 1940 graduate of Pennsylvania State College with a major in science. He rose from private to captain in the Army Corps of Engineers, serving in North America and Italy during World War II.

He joined Honeywell in 1950. From 1954 to 1962, he was branch manager for the company in Cincinnati, Ohio. He came to the San Francisco branch in 1963, first in charge of data processing and later being industrial manager.

He is married and has three children. Thef amily home is at 80 Oakmont Avenue, San Rafael.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said last night that he was not certain when Douglas would start work with the county. Bruce reported that Douglas had left Honeywell since being interviewed by the county board.

Headquarters Still Is Cold

San Rafael Recreation Department headquarters at Albert Park was "like an iceberg" today as the building entered its third day without heating.

Joseph D. Rodota, recreation director, said gas pressure failed Monday morning and a check by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. discovered water in underground feed lines. The water was blown out yesterday but as the gas still would not light, city employees were checking the line today for a possible break.

Rodota said department workers were being given work elsewhere as it was too cold to work in the building.

Marinite Dies In Car Crash

James Sanders Neal, 21-year-old son of Dr. William S. Neal of San Rafael, was killed today when the car in which he was riding slammed head-on into a tanker truck on State Route 58 about 12 miles east of Bakersfield.

The California Highway Patrol reported Neal was thrown from the westbound car, driven by Gordon Libby, 20, of Berkeley, when it drifted across the center line at 7 a.m. and rammed into the truck, United Press International reported from Bakersfield.

Both Neal and Libby were students at University of California at Berkeley. Libby's mother and Neal's mother are sisters.

Sausalito Auto Thieves Active, Police Report

Three automobiles were stolen last night in Sausalito, and two of them recovered this morning, police reported.

Deputies Cite Salt Shooter

The 17-year-old Terra Linda youth, who Sunday night shot a second youth in the left leg for what he said was an attempt to steal a Christmas tree light bulb, today was cited to the Marin County juvenile probation office.

The victim, 14 and also of Terra Linda, was not cited. Deputies said the older boy said he dressed himself in black clothing, put soot on his face, and staged the shotgun vigil because light bulbs had been stolen from his home's outdoor tree twice earlier last week. He had loaded shotgun shells with salt.

Coins Taken

Two vending machines in the teacher's lounge of Adaline E. Kent School in Kentfield were broken into and an undetermined amount of coins taken by the burglars, sheriff's deputies said today. The intruders also unsuccessfully attempted to enter two classrooms, officers said.

VIET

Earlier this year, there was a five-day lull as the Vietnamese observed the lunar new year. The lull ended with a Communist attack on Pleiku that killed seven Americans and wounded 109.

In Saigon, one authority at U.S. headquarters said a ceasefire of some sort may be in the wind for a 12-hour period.

But another officers empowered to know such decisions said:

"We're paid for 365 days a year. Christmas is like any other day. As for the 12-hour lull, I know nothing in that regard."

Meanwhile U. S. Navy jets smashed a key railroad bridge 18 miles west of Haiphong today in another heavy bombardment of North Viet Nam's heartland, U.S. spokesmen reported, while Air Force planes carried the air war in the South within 800 yards of Cambodia.

As U.S. fighter-bombers hammered 'round the clock at the Communist North with 174 tons of bombs, the Viet Cong struck three times on Saigon's door steps during the night and killed a village chief.

In the South, Air Force Skyraiders slammed into an old Viet Cong stronghold on the Cambodian border in the marshy Plain of Reeds 35 miles northwest of Saigon. Acting on information from a Viet Cong defector, the Air Force ordered a strike on a 3-mile-square area that spokesmen said had been used for years as a hideout by the Communists and a marshalling point for supplies dribbling in from Cambodia.

Planes from the carrier Kitty Hawk used radar delivery systems to zero in on the railroad bridge near Haiphong, North Viet Nam's largest port. The area, part of the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial complex, has been hit by U.S. planes daily in the past week.

U. S. spokesmen announced the number of Americans killed in combat last week declined to 10 compared with 91 dead, the second highest toll of the war, in the previous seven-day period.

The number of Americans wounded dropped to 126, compared with 316 in the Dec. 12-18 period, and 6 were listed as missing in action, one less than the previous week.

A guerrilla band attacked the "new life" hamlet of Tan Thuan Dong, less than two miles south of Saigon, and murdered the hamlet chief, his son and another youth.

Other terrorists threw a grenade and planted a mine at a U.S. military transportation compound three miles north of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport. There were no injuries.

Water Board Buys Insurance

The North Marin County Water District board last night awarded a contract for a combination insurance policy to Travelers Insurance Co. and Lloyds of London, lowest of six bidders for general liability and automobile insurance.

The three-year policy calls for an annual payment of $7,413 and carries a three million dollar limit of liability.

The board awarded Bobo's Construction Co. of Ignacio a $538 contract for compacted fill at the San Mateo Way tank site, and approved the color scheme for the new office building on Atherton Avenue submitted by John Dolles, architect.

OBITUARIES

Stanley Cowen, 75, Dies Getting Ready For Trip

Stanley Cowen, 75, a resident of Sausalito since 1952, died yesterday at his home at 2 Toyon Lane, apparently of a heart attack.

He was telephoning police to advise them that he and his wife, Leslie, would be leaving today for a trip to Mexico. Mrs. Cowen said she heard the telephone drop and entered the room to find her husband on the floor. Her screams brought police and firement to the Cowen home in five minutes, she said.

Cowen was taken to Marin General Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 10:25 a.m.

A native of San Francisco, Cowen had lived there all his life except for the years in Sausalito.

He worked in import-export business after being graduated from college and then went into real estate, becoming a broker and running his own business. He last worked in import-export work with his brother, Mervyn Cowen, retiring in 1955 after a heart attack. Following this, he and his wife spent a year traveling in Europe.

Cowen was past president of the Sausalito Rotary Club, a former director of the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District, and served on the Marin County Grand Jury two years ago.

He was an Army Reserve officer in World War 1, and left the service as a lieutenant colonel.

Cowen was a 33rd degree Mason.

He was also very interested in Synanon Foundation.

There will be no funeral. Cowen asked that his body be given for research to the University of California and his eyes be given to the university's eye bank.

DAVID KANTZ

David Kantz, a Novato resident for one and one-half years and a clerk at the Shoreline Market, Mill Valley, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness. He was 46 years old.

A native of Los Angeles and a veteran of World War II, he lived with his wife, Geraldine V. Kantz, at 57 San Benito Way. He was a member of Retail Clerks' Union Local 1119, San Rafael.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Paul E. Kantz and Wayne D. Kantz, both of Novato; his parents, Everett and Rosa Kantz of Los Angeles; a brother, Ray Kantz of Glendora, and a sister, Elizabeth Wheatley of Sherman Oaks.

Funeral will be at 8:15 a.m. tomorrow at Ashley and McMullen Funeral Home, 4200 Geary Boulevard, San Francisco. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

The family has requested that tributes be donations to the American Cancer Society.

Herring Here, Birds Diving, Bass Coming

An abundance of diving pelicans and hungry sea gulls have been reported on Richardson Bay the past few days, heralding the start of the winter herring run.

Mrs. Ethelwyn Steese, who lives aboard the houseboat San Pablo at Waldo Point, said the birds were especially numerous during the weekend. "There were redheads, canvas backs, coots, terns, sea gulls and the pelicans were bumping into each other in mid-air," she reported. "It's an early Christmas dinner for the birds."

Many birds were reported also by S. J. Sturiale, owner of Sturiale Fish Co., Sausalito, who said today he believes this to be the start of the run although the bass, which follow the spawning herring, have not appeared.

Birds were also reported in multitudes off San Rafael Avenue in Belvedere.

through a joint powers agreement.

Donald R. Frost, county director of the public works said the lower channel work is necessary before work farther up the creek can be done.

Next year, the corps plans to extend the district from Bon Air Bridge to the Ross town limits.

The ditch will be earth-lined except through College of Marin, where cement lining will be used, Frost said.

Miss McCorry said there was no assurance that the corps would go ahead with the project next year.

Her statements were in the form of a minority report from the advisory committee. Other committee members, Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, of Corte Madera, and Mayor Neil R. Brixon and councilman Vaughn M. Marker of Larkspur, voted in favor of the project in a meeting of the committee last Friday. Councilman Charles F. Pendleton of Corte Madera was absent.

Miss McCorry said the main concern of the city representatives appeared to be in keeping the tax rate down.

The committee said the creek alignment east of Highway 101 should not be moved north to avoid taking Greenbrae Boardwalk homes if that would increase cost of the project.

Frost said 16 homes would be taken under the corps' original plan. Miss McCorry said 19 would go.

Frost said shifting the channel north into Wood Island would add $50,000 to construction cost but make little difference in land acquisition cost. Construction is estimated at $750,000 and acquisition at $600,000.

Frost presented several maps, including one showing possible areas where spoils from channel dredging could be dumped. A total of 700 acres were shown, with about 300 in one block east of Highway 101 and south of the creek.

Included in this area was the 100 acres under discussion as a possible county dump that would later become a Corte Madera town golf course. Also included were properties along William Avenue in Corte Madera, land along the north side of Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur, two parcels of College of Marin property, and the land of the San Francisco Roman Catholic Archdiocese west of Marin Catholic High School.

Vernon Humber, owner of 45 acres east of Highway 101, declared he did not want mud on his land in excess of a foot deep.

Frost said that owners involved are still to be consulted and more area was shown than needed.

Edward Epting of San Bruno, a San Francisco police sergeant, protested on behalf of his parents, who live on Greenbrae Boardwalk.

George Bertram, said he favored the project even though some of his land would be condemned.

Miss McCorry and others said the project would do nothing to improve navigation of the creek since it did not extend far enough into the bay to eliminate a large sand bar.

Frost finally concluded that the two issues raised were over the value of the project itself and over changing location of the channel in the Greenbrae Boardwalk area to save homes.

In addition to the homes lost at Greenbrae Boardwalk, seven structures at Larkspur Boardwalk No. 1 and 13 just south of Bon Air Bridge would be condemned.

Main complaint from those who own homes involved was that little advance notice had been given to the project design. Bertram countered that the corps had been studying the creek for 20 years.

Supervisors finally decided the corps should be invited to defend and explain the project.

already interviewed for the job of director.

This argument eventually persuaded Storer to change his vote. The department was thus created with Kettenhofen dissenting.

Kettenhofer continued to argue that the board must show "if it sincerely wants industry" by approving the industrial section of Marincello.

Supervisors next went into brief executive session and hired Douglas, one of four candidates recommended by an oral review board several weeks ago.

Douglas is a 1940 graduate of Pennsylvania State College with a major in science. He rose from private to captain in the Army Corps of Engineers, serving in North America and Italy during World War II.

He joined Honeywell in 1950. From 1954 to 1962, he was branch manager for the company in Cincinnati, Ohio. He came to the San Francisco branch in 1963, first in charge of data processing and later being industrial manager.

He is married and has three children. Thef amily home is at 80 Oakmont Avenue, San Rafael.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said last night that he was not certain when Douglas would start work with the county. Bruce reported that Douglas had left Honeywell since being interviewed by the county board.

Headquarters Still Is Cold

San Rafael Recreation Department headquarters at Albert Park was "like an iceberg" today as the building entered its third day without heating.

Joseph D. Rodota, recreation director, said gas pressure failed Monday morning and a check by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. discovered water in underground feed lines. The water was blown out yesterday but as the gas still would not light, city employees were checking the line today for a possible break.

Rodota said department workers were being given work elsewhere as it was too cold to work in the building.

Marinite Dies In Car Crash

James Sanders Neal, 21-year-old son of Dr. William S. Neal of San Rafael, was killed today when the car in which he was riding slammed head-on into a tanker truck on State Route 58 about 12 miles east of Bakersfield.

The California Highway Patrol reported Neal was thrown from the westbound car, driven by Gordon Libby, 20, of Berkeley, when it drifted across the center line at 7 a.m. and rammed into the truck, United Press International reported from Bakersfield.

Both Neal and Libby were students at University of California at Berkeley. Libby's mother and Neal's mother are sisters.

The Neal family resides at 260 Margarita Drive, San Rafael.

Sausalito Auto Thieves Active, Police Report

Three automobiles were stolen last night in Sausalito, and two of them recovered this morning, police reported.

Deputies Cite Salt Shooter

The 17-year-old Terra Linda youth, who Sunday night shot a second youth in the left leg for what he said was an attempt to steal a Christmas tree light bulb, today was cited to the Marin County juvenile probation office.

The victim, 14 and also of Terra Linda, was not cited. Deputies said the older boy said he dressed himself in black clothing, put soot on his face, and staged the shotgun vigil because light bulbs had been stolen from his home's outdoor tree twice earlier last week. He had loaded shotgun shells with salt.

Coins Taken

Two vending machines in the teacher's lounge of Adaline E. Kent School in Kentfield were broken into and an undetermined amount of coins taken by the burglars, sheriff's deputies said today. The intruders also unsuccessfully attempted to enter two classrooms, officers said.

VIET

to foreclose a break in the fighting.

Earlier this year, there was a five-day lull as the Vietnamese observed the lunar new year. The lull ended with a Communist attack on Pleiku that killed seven Americans and wounded 109.

In Saigon, one authority at U.S. headquarters said a ceasefire of some sort may be in the wind for a 12-hour period.

But another officers empowered to know such decisions said:

"We're paid for 365 days a year. Christmas is like any other day. As for the 12-hour lull, I know nothing in that regard."

Meanwhile U. S. Navy jets smashed a key railroad bridge 18 miles west of Haiphong today in another heavy bombardment of North Viet Nam's heartland, U.S. spokesmen reported, while Air Force planes carried the air war in the South within 800 yards of Cambodia.

As U.S. fighter-bombers hammered 'round the clock at the Communist North with 174 tons of bombs, the Viet Cong struck three times on Saigon's door steps during the night and killed a village chief.

In the South, Air Force Skyraiders slammed into an old Viet Cong stronghold on the Cambodian border in the marshy Plain of Reeds 35 miles northwest of Saigon. Acting on information from a Viet Cong defector, the Air Force ordered a strike on a 3-mile-square area that spokesmen said had been used for years as a hideout by the Communists and a marshalling point for supplies dribbling in from Cambodia.

Planes from the carrier Kitty Hawk used radar delivery systems to zero in on the railroad bridge near Haiphong, North Viet Nam's largest port. The area, part of the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial complex, has been hit by U.S. planes daily in the past week.

U. S. spokesmen announced the number of Americans killed in combat last week declined to 10 compared with 91 dead, the second highest toll of the war, in the previous seven-day period.

The number of Americans wounded dropped to 126, compared with 316 in the Dec. 12-18 period, and 6 were listed as missing in action, one less than the previous week.

A guerrilla band attacked the "new life" hamlet of Tan Thuan Dong, less than two miles south of Saigon, and murdered the hamlet chief, his son and another youth.

Other terrorists threw a grenade and planted a mine at a U.S. military transportation compound three miles north of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport. There were no injuries.

Water Board Buys Insurance

The North Marin County Water District board last night awarded a contract for a combination insurance policy to Travelers Insurance Co. and Lloyds of London, lowest of six bidders for general liability and automobile insurance.

The three-year policy calls for an annual payment of $7,413 and carries a three million dollar limit of liability.

The board awarded Bobo's Construction Co. of Ignacio a $538 contract for compacted fill at the San Mateo Way tank site, and approved the color scheme for the new office building on Atherton Avenue submitted by John Dolles, architect.

OBITUARIES

Stanley Cowen, 75, Dies Getting Ready For Trip

Stanley Cowen, 75, a resident of Sausalito since 1952, died yesterday at his home at 2 Toyon Lane, apparently of a heart attack.

He was telephoning police to advise them that he and his wife, Leslie, would be leaving today for a trip to Mexico. Mrs. Cowen said she heard the telephone drop and entered the room to find her husband on the floor. Her screams brought police and firement to the Cowen home in five minutes, she said.

Cowen was taken to Marin General Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 10:25 a.m.

A native of San Francisco, Cowen had lived there all his life except for the years in Sausalito.

He worked in import-export business after being graduated from college and then went into real estate, becoming a broker and running his own business. He last worked in import-export work with his brother, Mervyn Cowen, retiring in 1955 after a heart attack. Following this, he and his wife spent a year traveling in Europe.

Cowen was past president of the Sausalito Rotary Club, a former director of the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District, and served on the Marin County Grand Jury two years ago.

He was an Army Reserve officer in World War 1, and left the service as a lieutenant colonel.

Cowen was a 33rd degree Mason.

He was also very interested in Synanon Foundation.

There will be no funeral. Cowen asked that his body be given for research to the University of California and his eyes be given to the university's eye bank.

Rights Boycott Curbs Dixie City Yule Trade

FAYETTE, Miss. (AP)—Civil rights forces have stiffened their support of a boycott against white merchants here in hopes the lack of Christmas shoppers will show a need to meet their desegregation demands.

State, county and federal law officers watched yesterday while 40 pickets backing a "Black Christmas" marched through near-deserted streets — proof of the economic pinch caused by the boycott.

Field director Charles Evers of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said he formed patrols to keep Negroes out of town and to watch for Ku Klux Klan attacks on pickets.

Evers said picketing would continue until Friday when the group would stage a demonstration.

Mayor R. J. Allen said the town was quiet and stores had remained open. He declined comment on a charge by Evers that someone had aimed a shotgun at a picket Monday.

Authorities slapped a holiday ban on beer sales in this southwest Mississippi town Monday to head off any prospect of racial violence in Jefferson County. The county is more than three-fourths Negro.

Evers has called a campaign of no buying or Christmas decorating until demands are met in full. Negroes want desegregation of all public facilities, including public schools, two Negroes on the police force and use of courtesy titles — Mr., Miss or Mrs.

Two Airports On Federal Plans List

The Federal Aviation Agency yesterday recommended inclusion of Marin County Airport at Novato in its five-year airport construction and improvement program.

The agency also included improvements to the Marin County Heliport and Commodore seaplane base at Sausalito in its forecast of the state's future aviation needs.

In October, Marin County Board of Supervisors launched a $500,000 plan for improving the county airport on being told the FAA would foot 54 per cent of the bill if certain lease changes were implemented.

The FAA gave no estimate for this or any other individual project suggested for California. However, the state's total aviation improvements are expected to cost $157,831,000.

In its annual forecast, the agency proposed constructing 887 landing facilities — 763 airports and the rest heliports — and improving 3,219 other facilities.

Aid Call Said Delayed In Fatal Fire

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — There was a "serious delay" in reporting a fire that killed 12 persons at a Jewish community center Monday night, according to a preliminary investigation report.

It is still not known what caused the fire, or whether some or all of the victims might have been saved if the alarm had been given earlier.

City Manager Frederick Adler, discussing the investigation yesterday, said an unidentified employee of the center had found the blaze out of control in an auditorium on the second floor.

Adler said the employee tried to fight the flames with a hand extinguisher, then started for the fourth - floor classroom here nine children and three adults lost their lives. Smoke and heat drove him back.

The employee did not turn in an alarm, Adler said.

Judge Steps Out Of Wolden Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Judge Leonard J. Ginsburg disqualified himself from the bribery trial of San Francisco Assessor Russell Wolden yesterday but called the challenge to his authority a "gratuitous demeaning of the judiciary."

James Martin MacInnis, a defense attorney, made the challenge saying the judge is a cousin of Mrs. Bert Hirschberg, wife of one of MacInnis' law associates.

Judge Ginsburg, who came here from Tulare County for the case, said he had not spoken to his cousin more than twice in the past 35 years. "In any event," he wrote, "relationships with a person associated with the defense would seem more properly to be the concern of the district attorney than the defendants."

DDT has been used as a pesticide for more than 20 years.

Heat Test Survived By Fastest Bomber

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—A 10-minute heat-friction test, with heat of 530 degrees generated at 1,920 miles an hour, has been completed successfully by the No. 2 SB-70A experimental bomber.

The Air Force said the control system for air inlets was tested yesterday during the 145-minute flight. Test altitude was near 65,000 feet, officials said.

Rights Boycott Curbs Dixie City Yule Trade

FAYETTE, Miss. (AP)—Civil rights forces have stiffened their support of a boycott against white merchants here in hopes the lack of Christmas shoppers will show a need to meet their desegregation demands.

State, county and federal law officers watched yesterday while 40 pickets backing a "Black Christmas" marched through near-deserted streets — proof of the economic pinch caused by the boycott.

Field director Charles Evers of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said he formed patrols to keep Negroes out of town and to watch for Ku Klux Klan attacks on pickets.

Evers said picketing would continue until Friday when the group would stage a demonstration.

Mayor R. J. Allen said the town was quiet and stores had remained open. He declined comment on a charge by Evers that someone had aimed a shotgun at a picket Monday.

Authorities slapped a holiday ban on beer sales in this southwest Mississippi town Monday to head off any prospect of racial violence in Jefferson County. The county is more than three-fourths Negro.

Evers has called a campaign of no buying or Christmas decorating until demands are met in full. Negroes want desegregation of all public facilities, including public schools, two Negroes on the police force and use of courtesy titles — Mr., Miss or Mrs.

Vandals Enter Reed School Second Time

Reed School in Tiburon was broken into last weekend, the second weekend in succession, principal John Usilton reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Teacher Ruth Wood went to the school Sunday and found doors to a classroom and the nurse's office had been pried open, Usilton reported. Bandages were thrown on the floor in the nurse's room and obscene words were left on a piece of paper in a typewriter in the office.

Sheriff's Sgt. George R. Barnes said entry was probably made through an unlocked window. Usilton said nothing was stolen.

On the weekend of Dec. 11-12 the school was entered by prying a window, obscene words were written on a blackboard, and $6 to $7 in change was stolen from a desk.

Insurance Decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration is expected to decide early next month whether to continue the practice of paying out GI insurance dividends in January.

'HOBGOBLIN'

Spirit Doesn't Move Marin's Supervisors

The Spirit of Christmas present did not make his presence felt yesterday before Marin County supervisors as they continued to give short tempers free rein.

Near the end of a long day, supervisors Peter H. Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen got into a heated exchange, with most of the heat coming from Kettenhofen.

Kettenhofen wondered, for the sake of consistency, if he should join other board members in voting to extend time for the planning commission to report on Marincello amendments.

"Consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds," Behr said jokingly.

Kettenhofen took exception and insisted that Behr's statement be entered in the minutes. Behr insisted that it was only intended as a joke, but Kettenhofen said that he thought it "completely discourteous" and petty.

Berl said he thought Kettenhofen was being childish, and Kettenhofen asked for an apology.

Report on the Marincello amendment, incidentally, was continued until Jan. 4. The board of supervisors will not meet next Tuesday in deference to the season.

Grape Picketing Across Nation

DELANO (UPI) — Pickets supporting the Delano grape workers strike yesterday demonstrated in New York City, Los Angeles and the San Francisco Bay Area.

In New York, pickets from the Congress of Racial Equality marched in front of the offices of Schenley Industries, one of the biggest wine producers in the Delano area.

Council Sees Need Of More Wise Men

ROSSFORD, Ohio (AP)—Rossford's City Council agreed to buy three wise men.

"We can always use wise men," said Street Commissioner Joseph Duly in reporting plans to buy the wise men—and an ox and a donkey—to complete the city's Christmas Nativity scene.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 22, the 356th day of 1965 with 9 to follow.

The moon is in its full phase; the morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1894, Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, an officer of the French general staff, was found guilty of treason.

In 1941, a message from Wake Island said the American stronghold in the Pacific had fallen to Japan.

In 1957, the Scottish freighter "Nerva" sank in the North Sea and 28 seamen went down with her.

A thought for the day — In the New Testament according to St. Matthew: "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

Opening lead — ◇ Q

North told his whole story in his first bid: he had 16 to 18 points in high cards, with no long suits and no short suits.

NORTH REPEATS

Still, North wasn't satisfied when East's overcall of two spades was passed around to him.

Since he had already told his story he should have passed.

North's double really meant: "Listen to me, partner, because maybe you didn't hear me the first time. I have 16 to 18 points, and so on."

South was not interested in twice-told tales.

If he passed the double, East would score game and rubber.

If South bid, he might have his head handed to him.

GETS DOUBLED

South's best chance was to bid his long suit and hope that nobody would double, but it wasn't South's lucky day.

West had an easy double of three diamonds.

West led the queen of diamonds, and South had to play hard to get two spade ruffs in his hand in addition to dummy's two trumps and the ace of clubs.

Even so, he was four tricks short of the contract, and the opponents collected a penalty of 1100 points.

If North had trusted his partner to hear the opening bid, he would have let East play the hand at two spades.

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

You have 12 points in high cards and 2 points for the singleton, enough for an opening bid.

Since you have 2½ Quick Tricks you have all of the requirements for a sound opening bid.

School Site Revamped By Lagunitas Trustees

The Lagunitas School District board last night agreed on a slightly modified version of a proposed school site in central Woodacre.

Two weeks ago, the board agreed to build in the center of the community if a $200,000 bond issue and $400,000 state loan request were approved Feb. 15.

A Woodacre resident who attended that meeting, however, took issue with Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff's report that the board's action had committed the district to a specific site.

Last night's action, which followed a report by counting planning aide David Van Pelt, was intended to clarify the matter, McCunniff said.

The board agreed on a site of about 8.5 acres, bounded by Railroad Avenue, Aspen Way, Garden Way and Oak Grove, and agreed to make minor changes recommended by Van Pelt. Among these were a promise to permit access on Railroad Avenue (used by the nearby county fire department) and to widen narrow boundary streets.

Board members also received copies of McCunniff's rough draft of the argument in favor of the bonds and state loan, to be printed on the ballot. They were urged to make any change in time to meet a Dec. 30 deadline.

Too, they learned that they will have to appoint an election board to count absentee ballots. This is a new requirement, brought about by the shifting of school elections from the office of County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis to that of County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

The board received a report of the audit from fiscal 1965, and learned that the first issue of the district's newsletter is being mailed to district residents this week.

The regular meeting, which ended at 10:15 p.m., was followed by an hour and 45 minute closed discussion on renewal of McCunniff's contract. At its end, McCunniff reported, board members announced they had informally agreed to renew the contract but had not agreed on its terms.

Fairfax Home, Safe Open, Burglar Gets $1,700 Loot

An open door and an unlocked safe made work easy yesterday for the burglar of a Fairfax home who made off with $1,200 in Series E U.S. Savings Bonds and $520 in cash.

Ernest Filiberti, 67, of 8 Creek Road, reported the burglary yesterday at 8:15 p.m. He said the burglar entered his house through a sliding glass door left ajar for a pet cat. The thief made his way through the house, entered the garage, and took the money and bonds from an unlocked floor safe, Filiberti reported.

"The burglar evidently knew what he was doing. Nothing else in the house was disturbed. It must have been someone who knew where the safe was," reported Police Chief James Orr.

Orr said the theft occurred yesterday between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. while Filiberti was working.

Hospitalized

Roy Keith Dearth, president of Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., has been hospitalized at Marin General Hospital. His physician, Dr. Carroll Russell, said it is hoped he will be able to return home for Christmas.

Line To Santa Open Tonight

Approximately 350 children from many parts of Marin County phoned Santa Claus at Novato last night to tell him what they wanted for Christmas, according to Eugene Strockbine, president of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce who tabulated the calls.

About half of the calls came from San Rafael, Terra Linda, Mill Valley and other parts of the county outside Novato, he said.

Santa can be reached again at 892-9000 from 7 to 9 p.m. today.

GRANDSON — Former president Harry S. Truman arrived at Kennedy Airport in New York City yesterday and was met by his grandson, Clifton Daniel Jr., 8, and the boy's father. He will spend Christmas with his daughter and son-in-law. (UPI Telephoto)

San Quentin Trio Dates Scheduled In Gas Chamber

Execution dates have been set for three inmates on San Quentin Prison's Death Row, Associate Warden James W. L. Park reported today.

Ernest Leroy Jacobson, 30, is scheduled to die in the prison gas chamber on Jan. 11. He was convicted of the drowning in Los Angeles in 1964 of the 2-year-old daughter of his common-law wife.

William Earl Cotter Jr., 25, has been slated for execution on Feb. 9. He was convicted of stabbing to death 63-year-old Elizabeth Buus in Los Angeles in October, 1963.

Dovie Carl Mathis, 29, convicted of beating to death Vernon Ray in the San Jose area in 1963, has been scheduled to die on March 1.

All three men have appeals filed, reported Park.

Trustees Near Agreement On Exchange Of Easements

San Anselmo School District trustees last night tentatively agreed to exchange roadway easements with developers of the Sunny Hills Shopping Center, if the developers pave approximately 75 per cent of the road to Red Hill School.

Earlier this month, trustees were told by two appraisers that the exchange would be even only if the developers paved all of the road to the school. Appraisers David Cohn and Neil Brodsgar are now reevaluating their appraisals, said Supt. Stephen Parodi.

Parodi said he estimates the cost of paving 75 per cent of the road at $9,000. Appraisers said the easement the district would give the shopping center is worth $13,000 more than the one at the base of Red Hill, which it would get in return.

Parodi said the trade is desirable because the district's present easement is bordered on both sides by shopping center property and the district would have to allow the center access across the road.

Trustees voted to apply for $25,267 in federal war on poverty funds. Parodi said three projects have been planned for use of the funds: Creation of a language laboratory, employment of library aides at school libraries, and employment of three teachers to work with pupils on projects which stem from classroom discussions.

Trustees accepted the resignation of Joseph Silveira, night custodian at Sleepy Hollow and Brookside schools, and hired Guido L. Ostaggi in his place at $420 a month.

School Site Revamped By Lagunitas Trustees

The Lagunitas School District board last night agreed on a slightly modified version of a proposed school site in central Woodacre.

Two weeks ago, the board agreed to build in the center of the community if a $200,000 bond issue and $400,000 state loan request were approved Feb. 15.

A Woodacre resident who attended that meeting, however, took issue with Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff's report that the board's action had committed the district to a specific site.

Last night's action, which followed a report by counting planning aide David Van Pelt, was intended to clarify the matter, McCunniff said.

The board agreed on a site of about 8.5 acres, bounded by Railroad Avenue, Aspen Way, Garden Way and Oak Grove, and agreed to make minor changes recommended by Van Pelt. Among these were a promise to permit access on Railroad Avenue (used by the nearby county fire department) and to widen narrow boundary streets.

Board members also received copies of McCunniff's rough draft of the argument in favor of the bonds and state loan, to be printed on the ballot. They were urged to make any change in time to meet a Dec. 30 deadline.

Too, they learned that they will have to appoint an election board to count absentee ballots. This is a new requirement, brought about by the shifting of school elections from the office of County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis to that of County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

The board received a report of the audit from fiscal 1965, and learned that the first issue of the district's newsletter is being mailed to district residents this week.

The regular meeting, which ended at 10:15 p.m., was followed by an hour and 45 minute closed discussion on renewal of McCunniff's contract. At its end, McCunniff reported, board members announced they had informally agreed to renew the contract but had not agreed on its terms.

An open door and an unlocked safe made work easy yesterday for the burglar of a Fairfax home who made off with $1,200 in Series E U.S. Savings Bonds and $520 in cash.

Ernest Filiberti, 67, of 8 Creek Road, reported the burglary yesterday at 8:15 p.m. He said the burglar entered his house through a sliding glass door left ajar for a pet cat. The thief made his way through the house, entered the garage, and took the money and bonds from an unlocked floor safe, Filiberti reported.

"The burglar evidently knew what he was doing. Nothing else in the house was disturbed. It must have been someone who knew where the safe was," reported Police Chief James Orr.

Orr said the theft occurred yesterday between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. while Filiberti was working.

Hospitalized

Roy Keith Dearth, president of Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., has been hospitalized at Marin General Hospital. His physician, Dr. Carroll Russell, said it is hoped he will be able to return home for Christmas.

Line To Santa Open Tonight

Approximately 350 children from many parts of Marin County phoned Santa Claus at Novato last night to tell him what they wanted for Christmas, according to Eugene Strockbine, president of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce who tabulated the calls.

About half of the calls came from San Rafael, Terra Linda, Mill Valley and other parts of the county outside Novato, he said.

Santa can be reached again at 892-9000 from 7 to 9 p.m. today.

GRANDSON — Former president Harry S. Truman arrived at Kennedy Airport in New York City yesterday and was met by his grandson, Clifton Daniel Jr., 8, and the boy's father. He will spend Christmas with his daughter and son-in-law. (UPI Telephoto)

Marin Debutantes Make Bows At Fourth Annual Ceremony

In a ballroom decked with holiday greenery and a Christmas tree flanking the stage, the 22 Marin debutantes were introduced and made their bows last night at the Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael. Some 500 guests attended Marin's fourth annual white tie event.

As each girl stepped through the red felt backdrop on the stage, she was introduced by Ernest Mendenhall Jr., made her bow, and was escorted to the ballroom floor by her father. After the grand march figure, danced with her escorts, the debs were rejoined by their fathers to dance the traditional first waltz.

As the three orchestras struck up a variety of dance tunes in the ballroom, jazz tent and supper room, the girls, escorts, their families, the ball committee and guests mingled to chat and join the lines along the dazzling buffet table which was centered with a carved ice swan and arrangements of holiday greens.

A red and white striped tent was set up off of the main ballroom of the club and featured an up-beat combo, and a long white tent covered the patio area for the buffet and individual supper tables. The foyer of the club held an old fashioned stout green Christmas tree with multicolored ornaments and lights, and the entire ceiling of the club was decorated with green fir boughs set with tiny white lights.

Proceeds from the ball this year will benefit various youth causes throughout Marin.

The 1965 debutantes who bowed last night are:

ELIZABETH BERNHARD, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Russel Bernhard of San Rafael, escorted by Curtiss Hayden III and Nicholas Scales.

RUTH DOLORES BROWN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Brown Jr. of Kentfield, escorted by Michael Mahoney and John Frederick Lindahl.

VIRGINIA COOKE, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donovan O. Cooke of Tiburon, escorted by Richard P. Wynne and Judd Simmons.

BRENDA DALY, daughter of C. D. Daly Jr. of Eureka and the late Mrs. Daly, escorted by Robert Hesse and Silas Wrigley.

HER FATHER, Wishard A. Brown of Greenbrae, escorts his daughter, Karen, to the ballroom floor after she curtsied and received the traditional gold charm favor from Ernest Mendenhall on stage. The girls' escorts then joined them for the grand march.

THE FABULOUS BUFFET table was the attraction for debutantes, escorts and the 500 guests at last night's white tie gathering at Peacock Gap Country Club. Here deb Marilee Griffith finds a dish to her liking as her escort, Roger Lais, assists in the selection. Guests dined at small tables set up throughout the club around the three dance floors, and the buffet was served in the tent area over the patio.

A Glittering Ball For 22 Debutantes

COLD, DRY WEATHER OUTLOOK

United States Weather Bureau forecasts for the period through Jan. 15 indicate that the Bay Area and Marin County are likely to have more of the frosty weather it has been experiencing, and less rainfall than usual for the period. Practically all of the nation will have above-normal rain and snowfall, but below-normal temperatures, according to the maps.

Land Development Brings $100,000 Suit For Damages

A squabble over development of two parcels purchased by Loyal Davis, Mill Valley builder, has resulted in filing of a $100,000 suit in Marin Superior Court.

Plaintiffs Edna M. Schumacher and Meda D. Childers, both of 548 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, allege Davis and his wife, Astarte, purchased the parcels adjacent to the Miller Avenue address, but misrepresented that an access strip of land would be given the plaintiffs.

They also charge that agreement to develop the purchased land without removal of a stone retaining wall or trees was violated.

The plaintiffs stated their efforts to return down payment money Sept. 13 was rejected by the purchaser. They ask revoking of deeds of both parcels, $25,000 punitive damages, and a temporary injunction preventing Davis from further development. They further ask that if the court denies revoking the sales, they be awarded $100,000 damages.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled 2 p.m. Monday for the defendants to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

Strep Tops Marin List Of Diseases

Two cases of shigella dysentery were discovered in Marin County in the week ending Saturday, according to the Marin County Health Department's communicable disease report.

A brother and sister, aged five and six respectively, from Marin City, were treated for the disease at Marin General Hospital. The health department epidemiologist today had not yet submitted a report on the occurrence.

Streptococcus infections continued heavy in the county, with 60 cases reported, including 24 in San Rafael, 22 in Novato and 10 in Mill Valley.

There were eight cases of gonorrhea, five of them in San Rafael, two in Sausalito and the other in Kentfield. Three cases of infectious hepatitis were reported. One was in San Rafael and the others in West Marin.

A single case each of tuberculosis and mumps, both in San Rafael, completed the list.

Joan Sutherland To Open Season

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The San Francisco Opera will open its 1966 season on Tuesday, Sept. 20 with a new production of Bellini's "I Puritani."

Soprano Joan Sutherland will star in the production. Her husband, Richard Bonynge, will conduct.

Miss Sutherland was last heard with the San Francisco Opera in 1964 when she sang the role of Violetta in Verdi's "La Traviata."

Marin Counsel, Auditor Split Over Light Bill

Marin County supervisors yesterday ordered a showdown on a disagreement between the county auditor-controller office and county counsel over a $300 loan requested to pay street lighting cost for the recently formed Stinson Beach County Services area.

Auditor - Controller Michael Mitcheil has argued that the county cannot legally make such a loan since the district will not receive any tax revenue until next fiscal year.

Thomas G. Hendricks, deputy county counsel, at first agreed with this view, but later changed his mind, saying that such a loan would be legal.

Despite this, Mitchell declared in a letter to supervisors yesterday that he will not honor any claims submitted to his office for street lighting bills from the district.

County Administrator Alan Bruce told the board he saw little point in making an issue over $300, even though he too disagrees with Mitchell. He suggested the board seek other ways to finance the lighting payment.

Supervisors, however, on the insistence of supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, voted unanimously to rely on the opinion of the county counsel.

Mitchell said it will take a court order to make him change his stand.

Rustlers Foiled

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)— Sicilian police recovered a flock of 70 rustled sheep by using helicopters. The stolen sheep were sighted in an isolated valley far from the nearest roads. Police said they had been hidden there, awaiting a chance to drive them to market.

Mill Valley Center Ballet Classes Set

The Mill Valley Park and Recreation department will sponsor ballet lessons at the Community and Youth Center starting in January.

Classes, under instruction of Mrs. Judy Modell, formerly with the San Francisco Ballet Co., will be for children starting at the age of seven and for adults. There will be a special beginning class for teen-agers.

Coed Gets A Chance For Study In Japan

Kathy Jenkins, Tamalpais High School senior, has been selected to go to Japan in the International Christian Youth Exchange program for school year 1966-67.

Miss Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins of 188 Hazel Avenue, Mill Valley, will be guest of a host family, yet unannounced, in Japan.

Her acceptance is a conditional one in that she must yet satisfactorily complete some assignments given her by the national selection committee by April 1. They include an introductory study of the Japanese language and certain readings.

"The most exciting thing about my acceptance," said Miss Jenkins, "was that two weeks from the time they received my application, I received notification that I was to study the Japanese language."

The Christian Youth Exchange program is similar to that of the American Field Service, excepting that while the former is church-affiliated, the latter is school-affiliated.

Kathy applied for her program under sponsorship of the Mill Valley Community Church. She is an active church member and a member of the Northern California Conference of the United Church of Christ Youth Ministry Committee.

KATHY JENKINS
Must study Japanese

On return from Japan, Miss Jenkins hopes to attend Stanford University and study to become a medical doctor to work in social welfare.

Novato Spring Show Singing Leads Sought

Tryouts for singing leads in "Guys and Dolls," spring production of the Novato Community Club, will be at 8 p.m., Jan. 9, at the Novato Community House.

Marie Bliss, who toured three years with the Merv Griffin Show, has been named choral director for the Frank Lesser and Abe Burrows show, scheduled for presentation March 11, 12, 18 and 19 at the community club.

Academic Freedom To Be Radio Topic

Is academic freedom being abused in Marin County schools? This question will be discussed by two high school teachers and two parents on the "Marin Sounding Board" program over radio station KTIM tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Taking part are Albert Gautraud, chairman of the social science department of Terra Linda High School, and George Matthews, a teacher in the department. Mrs. James Rowen and Halford Carmona, both of San Rafael. A recording of the program will be rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Old Parking Meters Slated For Trade-ins

Retired, easy-to-open San Rafael parking meters have been piled up like watermelons outside the rear entrance to the San Rafael Police Department, but their life is not over.

They will go back to their manufacturer, the Traffic Appliance Corp., Los Angeles, to be rebuilt and sent to some other city, probably outside the United States.

Asst. City Mgr. Tom Goodale explained yesterday that the city will receive a $9 trade-in credit for each one of the 1,000 meters being replaced by new meters. The new meters were ordered to replace the old ones after a series of thefts.

The new meters cost $60.84 each, before trade-in, including tax and transportation. Goodale said a few of the old meters will still be left in the city, but "out in the boondocks."

The city will pay for the meters in four annual installments of $12,950, using meter revenue, Goodale reported. Most of the meters will be within the city's parking asessment district, and district funds will be tapped.

But 259 meters have been placed on posts outside the district, and payment will come from a special parking meter fund, kept separate from the city's general fund, Goodale added.

Jury Trial Scheduled On Robbery Charge

Jury trial for James Lee Fields, 20, of Petaluma, charged with armed robbery of Rudy's Liquor Store in San Rafael, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Superior Court for Feb. 21.

Fields allegedly robbed the store Nov. 13.

Marin Man Ends Career Of Taxing Smokes, Drinks

A. C. Jones of Corte Madera will retire at the end of the month from a job supported and financed every time someone lights up a cigarette or drinks a glass of beer.

He is supervisor in charge of alcohol and tobacco tax in Northern California, Nevada and Utah and will leave his office in San Francisco after working 35 years in this section of the U.S. Treasury Department.

"We work through about 120 field operators who go out supervising the production of alcohol and tobacco to ensure the application of the law," he said today.

When he started with the department in 1930, he said, tax on a proof gallon of liquor was $1.10. Now it is $10.50.

"Back in those days, we still had our work to do although it was three years before the repeal of Prohibition," he said, adding, "there was legal selling as well as illegal selling."

The only tax on alcohol during the 14 years of Prohibition came from liquor specially licensed for medicinal purposes and from wine used in church services.

A resident of Marin County since 1930, Jones has a son, Clyde Jones, operator of San Rafael Floor Covering Inc., and a daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Leach, wife of an Air Force major at Houston, Tex.

"Even after I've retired," said Jones, who is 65, "I'll continue to remember the office. I smoke and drink a little. After all, you have to support home industry."

He and his wife live at 9 Golden Hind Passage.

COLD, DRY WEATHER OUTLOOK

United States Weather Bureau forecasts for the period through Jan. 15 indicate that the Bay Area and Marin County are likely to have more of the frosty weather it has been experiencing, and less rainfall than usual for the period. Practically all of the nation will have above-normal rain and snowfall, but below-normal temperatures, according to the maps.

Land Development Brings $100,000 Suit For Damages

A squabble over development of two parcels purchased by Loyal Davis, Mill Valley builder, has resulted in filing of a $100,000 suit in Marin Superior Court.

Plaintiffs Edna M. Schumacher and Meda D. Childers, both of 548 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, allege Davis and his wife, Astarte, purchased the parcels adjacent to the Miller Avenue address, but misrepresented that an access strip of land would be given the plaintiffs.

They also charge that agreement to develop the purchased land without removal of a stone retaining wall or trees was violated.

The plaintiffs stated their efforts to return down payment money Sept. 13 was rejected by the purchaser. They ask revoking of deeds of both parcels, $25,000 punitive damages, and a temporary injunction preventing Davis from further development. They further ask that if the court denies revoking the sales, they be awarded $100,000 damages.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled 2 p.m. Monday for the defendants to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

TRAFFIC DEATHS

He Tries To Do As Wife Would

By FRANK FARRARA
(Third of a series)

Hugh Boyce, a Santa Venetia electrical contractor, is trying to rear his family the way his wife would if she were alive.

"I try to do what my wife would like, do what she would do," he said. "But you can never replace a mother."

Boyce has been the lone parent since his wife, Ella Marie Boyce, 47, was struck and killed by a car while crossing Highway 101 near Novato on Dec. 9, 1964.

Boyce and the three children, now living at their home at 405 Adrian Way, combine their efforts with the housebold chores, such as cooking, shopping and cleaning.

"The children have been a tremendous help," he said.

At the time of the interview, his 18-year-old son, Jerry, was in the kitchen preparing the supper under long-range supervision from his father, who was seated in the living room.

Boyce, formerly a chef on a passenger steamship, said he sometimes cooks and sometimes supervises. "Even before, I used to cook some special meals like veal scallopini," he said.

"The housecleaning we do ourselves, although sometimes I have to push the kids."

Boyce said he had never called in any outside help until a few days ago when he had a woman come in to do some ironing.

"I never realized how much laundry there was," he said.

Boyce also has the job of supervising the shopping. "She (his wife) had a set routine and we follow it pretty closely," he said.

Aside from Jerry, Boyce has a 17-year-old son, Hugh, and a 14-year-old daughter, Christine, living at home. Two older sons, Donald, 24, of Santa Venetia, and Dennis, 21, of San Rafael, are married and living away from home.

The family suffered a second tragedy less than a month ago when Mrs. Boyce's sister, Amy May Hayden of Sonoma, was killed in an auto crash on Highway 37 at Black Point.

"We always relied a little on my sister-in-law," Boyce said. "She was our short-stop. If Chris had a problem, she'd take care of it."

Now, Boyce said, his prime concern is his mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert Lee Hayden of Boyes Springs, who has lost her only children in auto accidents. "To lose both in one year is pretty tough," he said.

Boyce said that his wife and her sister were "like two peas in a pod" and, because of this, he gave his cemetery plot next to his wife to his sister-in-law.

Boyce said that because his wife was younger, he made all the financial provisions for her. "I didn't want her in any financial problem," he said.

"Now my insurance man tells me, I took care of everybody but myself."

Asked about other changes in family life since the death of his wife, Boyce said: "We used to go on picnics. I don't think we go on picnics any more, but that was just one summer."

Voyager Suffers Fall, Broken Leg

Mrs. Randall Gould of Mill Valley is recovering in a New York hospital from a leg fracture suffered when she fell while aboard ship on return from a tour of Europe.

The accident happened as Mrs. Gould was walking on deck soon after the ship left the Azores, her husband reported. The Goulds and Mrs. Adolph S. Oko of Point Reyes Station had just completed a tour of Southern Europe.

Gould said his wife is expected to remain in the hospital about two more weeks, and they plan to fly back to their Marin home sometime in January.

Yule Fantasy In Marinwood Wins Contest

An intricate outdoor display featuring moving characters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stitham, 285 Adobestone Court, Marinwood, was judged county grand winner in the 17th annual Marin County Outdoor Christmas Home Decorations Contest lest night.

The Stithams, who also won the county award in 1963, have a vast display on the theme of Santa Claus getting ready for Christmas.

While Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus are sitting on the porch checking their lists, there are elves at work on the roof, and reindeer and sleigh.

TOYLAND, TOO

There is a toyland with dolls from throughout the world, an elephant that sprays, and a drummer boy who drums.

Stitham has used motors to move some of the characters, such as an old washing machine agitator which moves Mrs. Santa Claus.

Stitham won the $100 cash award in the contest sponsored by the Independent-Journal, the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and the Marin Visitors Bureau.

The six runners-up, who each will receive a table lamp, donated by the Christmas Lighting Assn. of California, are:

G. W. Robertson, 342 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley.

D. E. Simonds, 23 LaCuesta Drive, Greenbrae.

CHIDLREN'S PRIZES

There were 56 entries in the countywide contest. Citations, merit ribbons, honorable mentions ribbons and gold ribbons for children under 14 who created their own designs also will be awarded.

Meeting Cancelled

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce directors cancelled their meeting yesterday and agreed to meet next on Jan. 11 at noon at Zack's-by-the-Bay, Robert Rogers, board president, said today.

Airport Commission Member Is Appointed

Marin County supervisors yesterday added another man to the recently created airport commission. He is Melville Dickson of Woodacre, a pilot and owner of a heating business.

Dickson's name was suggested by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer.

He was the fourth to be appointed to the seven-member commission. The board earlier named Benjamin R. Ostlind of San Rafael, Richard Nave of Novato, and Douglas M. Christensen of Kentfield.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Approved rental of two apartment units in Marin City for the county community relations staff, moving that office from the welfare department at the Civic Center. Rent and utilities will total $2,040 for the balance of this fiscal year.

2. Authorized the public works department to surface a muddy spot beside the runway of the county airport at Novato where two planes became stuck Monday.

3. Set hearing for Jan. 25 on a proposal for a county dump in Corte Madera that could be converted to a golf course. The proposal has brought protests from residents of Greenbrae Boardwalk which would border the dump.

4. Delayed until Jan. 4 a decision on the request of the human rights commission for employment of a man to assure fair employment on the hall of justice construction job.

5. Rejected a claim for $230,-052 in damages by Stanley W. Taylor or Harbor Point. Taylor charged that large lot standards imposed by the county planning commission and board of supervisors have damaged him.

6. Set hearing for 9:30 a.m. Jan. 18, on annexation of Tomales High School District and other north county territory to the Marin Junior College District.

7. Agreed to abandon Hillside Road, an unused right of way in Kentfield, on condition that a five-foot pedestrian easement be established.

8. Set hearing Jan. 4 on planning commission denial of permit for a large sign advertising harbor point at Strawberry.

9. Tabled a dispute over recent board action to rename Hamilton Lane as Lattie Lane in Tamalpais Valley. The change, asked by Arthur H. Kelly, was protested by the Tamalpais Fire Protection District Board.

10. Learned that 130 members of the Marin County Historical Society want the courthouse building preserved while 14 are in favor of sale of the property. There were 150 replies to 256 questionnaires mailed to members. Six who replied had no opinion. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen was disappointed in the poll because it failed to include alternatives.

11. Awarded contract to Bormolini-Anderson Co. of Novato, lowest of 11 bidders at $39,992.56, for construction of a box culvert in Gallinas Creek at Civic Center Drive. Highest bid was $82,-827.88. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost reported.

12. Hired Earl M. Fitzgerald and John L. Rader as junior appraisers at $510 a month each in the assessor's office; Patricia Palmer as senior account clerk at $399 a month in the date processing office; Joan G. Schulz as intermediate clerk at $345 a month in the recorder's office; Gerald B. Carder at $510 a month and Tuano Sjoblom and Arlie Evans at $463 a month each as public works maintenance men, and Nancy Hall as social worker II at $486 a month in the social services (welfare) department.

13. Created a new position of assistant sanitarian in the health department with a starting salary of $510 a month.

14. Authorized a stop sign on Coloma Street at Olema Street outside Sausalito.

15. Awarded contract to North Bay Electric Works of San Rafael at $3,199 for installation of lighting for employee parking lot at the Civic Center. The firm was the lowest of three in bidding that ranged up to $4,144.

16. Authorized letters to boards of community services districts, sanitary districts, Marin Hospital District and North Marin County Water District, urging that they consolidate their elections with the primary elections next June.

17. Adjourned at 7:45 p.m. until Jan. 4. There will be no meeting of the board next Tuesday.

Coroner Merger Debate Scheduled

Marin County supervisors yesterday set discussion of the proposed merger of the county coroner's office with the district attorney's office for Jan. 4.

The merger was recommended by County Administrator Alan Bruce. It will be one of several controversial issues to be taken up with the first board meeting of the new year.

Also set for then is the debate over the proposed new position of vocational education coordinator for the county schools office. Supervisors balked at the proposal last week and were to discuss it again yesterday, but it was postponed for lack of time.

Cigarettes Offered At Service Station

A youth suspected of burglary passed around cigarettes early Monday at the Standard service station, Fourth Street at Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael—and not in the San Rafael police station as reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal, police said today.

According to a San Rafael police report, station attendant Daniel F. Thome recognized the youth when he came in spreading Christmas cheer.

The suspect and other youths were arrested late Monday by Marin County sheriff's deputies.

BYRON W. LEYDECKER

Leydecker Next In Line For Chairman

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker appeared today to be in line for appointment as 1966 chairman of the Marin County board of supervisors, succeeding Peter H. Behr.

Only board member having reservations about the appointment yesterday was Leydecker himself. He said he has some changes to propose in the conduct of meetings and is not sure whether other board members will agree to them.

He was not prepared to discuss the proposals yesterday, and Supervisor William A. Gnoss was absent when the chairmanship came up for discussion.

When Behr was appointed last January, the board agreed the job should be rotated each year. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen suggested yesterday that Leydecker be appointed, but the action was put off until the Jan. 4 meeting.

Marine Study Funds Granted

The University of the Pacific has received a $16,295 grant from the National Science Foundation so high school teachers can do research this summer at the university's Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach.

Among the fields of research involved are systematic zoology, field ecology, marine botany, environmental physiology and paleontology. All will be studied under the conditions present in Tomales Bay.

The research will be carried out under marine station director Edmund H. Smith.

Davis Apartments Appeal Is Denied

Marin County supervisors yesterday, after hearing an hour and a half of debate, voted 4-1 to deny approval for a 12-unit apartment development proposed by Loyal Davis near Mill Valley.

The proposed development at 548 Miller Avenue, has been under attack by neighbors and has prompted a law suit against Davis by the former owners of the property, Mrs. Edna Shumaker and Mrs. Meta Childers.

Attorney Richard A. Clarke, representing the former owners, charged yesterday that Davis deliberately represented to the planning commission that he owned more property than he really did in order to get approval of a 32-unit development almost a year ago.

After the grading and retaining wall project which Davis started came under attack by neighbors. it was discovered that he did not own all the land.

Attorney Julius H. Selinger, representing Davis, declared Mrs. Shumaker and Mrs. Childers had merely cancelled an agreement with Davis on development of the entire one-and-three-quarter- acre parcel.

Attorney Leonard A. Bjorklund Jr., representing Mary Lord with land to the north of Davis, told supervisors that Davis had acquired an easement from the Tamalpais Sanitary District in order to increase the building area to get 12 units on it. He said the easement was thought to be public, not subject to purchase.

Veterans' Group To Install Officers

A headline in yesterday's Independent-Journal confused the names of two Marin County veterans' groups.

The story said that Marin Barracks 550, Veterans of World War I and its auxiliary would hold joint installation of officers at 8 p.m. Monday at the San Rafael Recreation Center, Second and Brooks Streets.

The headline, however, said erroneously that the Veterans of Foreign Wars would install officers.

Refuse Fire Causes Unplanned Dumping

Fire broke out in a Mill Valley Refuse Co. truck at 7:10 a.m. today at 120 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, causing garbage workers to dump their entire load of refuse in the street.

Firemen doused the fire and refuse men cleaned up the scented street. No damage to the truck was reported.

He Tries To Do As Wife Would

By FRANK FARRARA
(Third of a series)

Hugh Boyce, a Santa Venetia electrical contractor, is trying to rear his family the way his wife would if she were alive.

"I try to do what my wife would like, do what she would do," he said. "But you can never replace a mother."

Boyce has been the lone parent since his wife, Ella Marie Boyce, 47, was struck and killed by a car while crossing Highway 101 near Novato on Dec. 9, 1964.

Boyce and the three children, now living at their home at 405 Adrian Way, combine their efforts with the housebold chores, such as cooking, shopping and cleaning.

"The children have been a tremendous help," he said.

At the time of the interview, his 18-year-old son, Jerry, was in the kitchen preparing the supper under long-range supervision from his father, who was seated in the living room.

Boyce, formerly a chef on a passenger steamship, said he sometimes cooks and sometimes supervises. "Even before, I used to cook some special meals like veal scallopini," he said.

"The housecleaning we do ourselves, although sometimes I have to push the kids."

Boyce said he had never called in any outside help until a few days ago when he had a woman come in to do some ironing.

"I never realized how much laundry there was," he said.

Boyce also has the job of supervising the shopping. "She (his wife) had a set routine and we follow it pretty closely," he said.

Aside from Jerry, Boyce has a 17-year-old son, Hugh, and a 14-year-old daughter, Christine, living at home. Two older sons, Donald, 24, of Santa Venetia, and Dennis, 21, of San Rafael, are married and living away from home.

Simple Precautions Will Ready You For Blackout

It is unlikely that California will ever face a massive power failure like the one that hit the East last month.

That's the word from the state Public Utilities Commission in its preliminary report on California's power systems. The commission found that the state's electric utilities have adequate capacity and reserves to meet major outages, except in the most extraordinary circumstances.

The governor has asked the California Disaster Office, the Department of Water Resources, and the PUC to continue their surveys on the state's electricity, water, gas and communications systems to ferret out any shortcomings.

The unprecedented eastern blackout has put the rest of the nation on guard. California is taking a close look at its own resources.

This is all reassuring. However, "most extraordinary circumstances" can and sometimes do occur. Furthermore, localized blackouts are not uncommon occurrences, even in Marin County.

Governor Brown has urged every householder to take five simple precautionary steps recommended by the California Disaster Office.

Most of us, periodically battered by wind and rainstorms, are probably well prepared to meet emergencies like temporary power shutoffs. But we take the occasion to pass on these tips from the state disaster office:

1. Keep on hand a flashlight, a battery-operated or kerosene lantern, or candles and a supply of fresh batteries.

2. A battery-operated radio may be your only means of receiving emergency information. Keep one handy with fresh batteries.

3. Have a first aid kit handy, and know how to use it.

4. Maintain an emergency supply of food that does not need refrigeration and does not require cooking.

5. Plan for emergency transportation. You may not be able to get gasoline from regular sources. Most gasoline pumps are electrical and depend on commercial power. Keep your gas tank at least half full at all times.

Getting Gray?

Are you getting gray? Don't worry. Most of us are. By the time he reaches 50 years of age, the average person is more than half white. According to studies made in Australia, neither the original color nor the sex of individual appeared to make any difference.

There are a number of remedies for the situation—wigs, dyes, etc. Some of us have a rather drastic solution called baldness.

Better gray than skin should be the motto.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

BRITISH PERFECT "INSTANT TREE"

An "instant tree," has been developed in England by a private forestry organization. It is saving schools, highways and housing developments from the usual long wait while a sapling grows into a shady tree.

The tree-raising group maintains sites throughout the country, where it grows trees to semi-maturity and carries out soil analyses and pruning.

A special technique makes it possible to confine tree roots to a manageable size. Trees can be transplanted, even when they are 30 feet tall.

Architects and landscape planners can now design buildings already equipped with arbors. Farmers can also get instant windbreaks to protect their soil.

Human ingenuity keeps discovering new ways to make available to mankind the innumerable blessings that a loving Creator wishes man to enjoy on his pilgrimage to heaven.

Pray that all men may share in the advantages that are often limited to the few.

"Giving thanks always for all things . . ."

Highway Commission Delaying Tahoe Road Routing Decision

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—One of the curses of democratic government — that is, government of the people, by the people, and for the people—is the penchant of the peoples' elected representatives to delay and put off decisions, sometimes for years.

This is particularly true in one specific instance in California: Adoption of the routing of the highway on the west side of Lake Tahoe by the California Highway Commission.

For a number of years now, the commission has dallied with various routes, the specific question being whether to bridge Emerald Bay or go the high route and dig a tunnel through an earthquake fault.

All the routings for future highways on the west side of the lake have been adopted, except the controversial highway either around or through Emerald Bay.

THE COMMISSION has not yet made up its mind, despite the action of one member, Joseph Houghteling, to force the issue with a resolution. Houghteling was voted down, so the question remains to be settled.

The low route, which could be adopted and a bridge put across the mouth of Emerald Bay, is the least costly and the most convenient for the people who have to use the road between the north and south ends of the lake. It generally is favored by the people who reside in the area and by those who have to use roads to get from place to place, instead of for scenic purposes.

THE HIGH ROUTE would cost the taxpayers of the state several million dollars more in highway taxes. It would involve a tunnel through an area which has been known to slide and would be extremely dangerous to construction. Earthquakes, which are possible in that particular place, could endanger the highway and lives of travelers.

However, the conservationist do-gooders, who believe roads should permit an occasional tourist to view the scene, have prevailed with the highway commission and the administration, and so far have stalled a firm decision on where the highway should be located.

MEANWHILE, the people of the area are continuing to have a closed highway in the winter months and a winding, dangerous road when it is open, all because of the fuzzy thinking of the people who want roads for scenery instead of for use, which is what the people pay for.

It's a reasonable bet that the conservationists who oppose a low-level road do not make much use of the west-side highway at Tahoe. Therefore, in their selfish way of thinking, they have little regard for the people who must use the road every day, as well as the people who pay the highway taxes.

Institute Needs Christmas Gifts

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The lead editorial of Dec. 14 pointed out clearly that there is an effective organized effort in Marin County to deal with the disease of alcoholism. The Marin Institute of Alcoholism has waged an effective battle for one year with donated services of social workers, clergy, psychologists and physicians.

The institute needs more than donated professional services. The institute will not survive without adequate funds. The editorial did not state that private donations at this crucial point are urgently needed.

A Christmas donation to the institute would be a gift that is wanted, needed and useful. Not all Christmas gifts this year will fall into that category. The insttitue is classified as a charitable, non-profit organization. For that reason contributions are tax deductible.

The address of the Marin Institute on Alcoholism is 745 B Street, San Rafael.

Thanks For Help In Search For Dog

Editor, Independent-Journal:

When my boys came home Wednesday night and told me that they had asked you for help in finding their dog, I was a little appalled but very touched at your response.

You will never know the lift it gave those children to know that you were going to help them. The youngest had eyes free from tears for the first time that day. They were able to settle down to their homework without worrying. When the oldest went to bed he said, "I just know that we will get Smokey back now."

Even though the dog came home on his own after being gone four days, your help in restoring their confidence and hope was immeasurable. Don't ever withhold this kind of help from another child because this one back-fired.

Our Christmas preparations had come to a complete halt after the dog was lost, but now we can look forward to a wonderful day. May your Christmas be as merry.

I can never thank you enough.

La Paz Project Would Welcome Aid

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On behalf of the Novato- La Paz Project Committee, I wish to thank you for your recent publicity.

When I visited in the homes and schools of La Paz, in Baja California, Mexico, I was so favorably impressed with those wonderfully friendly, respectful, and wellgroomed children that I had to share my enthusiasm with others.

. . . These children (approximately 60 of them, ages 7 to 16) are well trained and ready to come to various parts of the United States to stay during July and August and, accompanied by their teachers, help to teach Spanish in our summer sessions. Our school administration sees no problem in having them enroll in our summer school program. Summer school usually lasts for five weeks.

We are already having a good response in offers to host the children for a five-week period. We will also need homes for the two teachers from La Paz who will accompany the 10 to 12 children for the five weeks. . . .

If any of your readers would like to do something that will help others understand and appreciate our way of life, as well as leave a lasting impression on our children, send any amount you feel you would like to the Novato-La Paz Project Account, Novato Branch of Crocker Citizens Bank.

We need funds for transportation — $60 for a half fare child; $120 will bring a child over 12 years of age. The teachers will pay their own way. . . .

If you wish further information or would like to help the committee, phone Mrs. William E. Bolton. Other members of this committee are Mrs. Richard G. Prasil, Mrs. Phillip E. Rosenberg, Mrs. Louis Dorshkind and Ralph Giovanniello.

Republican Leaders Not United On Whether Birchers Wanted

WASHINGTON — The Republican leaders keep saying boo, but the John Birch Society just won't go away.

The party is having a hard time getting the tentacles of the John Birchers from around its neck. It's not easy.

Probably one reason it's not easy is that the GOP leaders are not entirely united on whether they want to succeed.

This was the reason the extremists-get-out resolution had to be considered watered down before it was finally passed by the Republican Coordinating Committee this week. In the end it didn't name any names — just said the GOP ought to "reject radical or extremist organizations." Instantly a spokesman for the John Birchers said he certainly agreed with that kind of resolution, but it couldn't mean them.

THE REPUBLICAN leaders had not expected the Birch Society to like their resolution so much so soon. They were obviously taken back when John Rousselot, its public relations director, said he thought the GOP was wise in citing the Birchers because "they had never attempted to use the Republican party for their own ends."

You will find Republicans who dispute that statement. One would be Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota who finds a Birchite candidate trying to unseat him in the primary next year because Mundt, one of the most conservative Republicans in Congress, isn't conservative enough.

In California the Birchers are so eager to get Ronald Reagon the Republican nomination for governor that they have offered him either support or opposition. "We'll openly endorse you," he was told, "or we'll openly oppose you—whichever you feel would help the most."

Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, said that "if Mr. Rousselot endorsed our resolution, he couldn't have understood it."

THAT'S THE PENALTY which comes from resolutions which deal in generalities. Its anti-extremist resolution is a good beginning toward getting the GOP back to its political center, but it will have to make it stronger to make it stick.

In its only other resolution, the Republican Coordinating Committee couldn't have been more specific. It both endorsed and criticized the president's course in Viet Nam.

The position of the Republican leaders is that the administration is right in defending South Viet Nam but wrong in not doing more. They make two specific proposals:

1. An immediate naval quarantine of North Viet Nam to prevent military supplies from reaching its ports.

2. "Maximum use of U.S. air power against all significant military targets" in the north.

By advancing these proposals as official party policy, the Republicans are obviously getting ready to make the trend of the war in Viet Nam a 1966 campaign issue—if it seems advantageous.

There is no reason why they shouldn't. It is perfectly fair politics. And the Republicans can raise the issue — the issue of how well the administration is fighting the war — in good faith and in good conscience, because, more than some leading Democrats, they have supported strongly every measure the president has taken. They simply argue that he should be doing more.

It is, of course, easy to criticize when you don't have the responsibility for action—and for its consequences.

The issue will almost certainly not be as simple as the Republicans would like to make it. Take the quarantine proposal. The question is not alone whether a quarantine would be desirable, in itself, but whether it might do more harm by widening the war.

But it is well that the Republicans, as firm supporters of the defense of South Viet Nam, are bringing these matters into the open. They deserve to be fully explored and openly debated.

Government Seeking American Defectors

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Federal authorities are conducting a worldwide search to ascertain the wherabouts of nine of the 21 former U.S. prisoners of war who defected to Red China in the Korean war.

Although the Central Intelligence Agency and the Justice Department have been able over the years to keep close tabs on twelve of these former turncoats, the others have mysteriously disappeared.

The missing defectors include four of the 14 who returned to the U.S. after living for a number of years in Communist China. Federal officials haven't been able to locate the four during the past several years.

ACCORDING TO information compiled by government investigative agencies, the four missing turncoats being tracked in the U.S. and the latest information regarding them are as follows:

"Sgt. Richard G. Corden of Chicago, Ill., arrived in San Francisco on Jan. 19, 1959. He lived in Milwaukee in 1961; Chicago in 1962. Present employment and residence unknown.

"Cpl. Andrew Fortuna of Greenup, Ky., returned to U.S. July 3, 1957. Worked as laborer at Portsmouth, Ohio, in 1958; Detroit, 1963-64; and Chicago, March 1964. Last reported August 1964, to be at Salvation Army Center, 1401 Madison Street, Gary, Indiana.

"Pfc. Otto Grayson Bell, formerly of East Olympia, Wash.; last reported working as handyman in Olympia in December, 1964. He returned from Communist China in July, 1955.

"Cpl. Aaron P. Wilson, of Urania, La., returned to the U.S. on Dec. 6, 1956. As of May, 1964, Wilson reportedly was employed in New Orleans. His recent location and work not known."

U.S. AUTHORITIES have a good idea where the other 10 returned defectors are living and working, although some of their activities could be deemed mysterious.

For example: Pfc. Morris P. Willis, Fort Ann, N.Y., most recent returned turncoat, is working on an article on life in Red China for a national magazine. The publishers are keeping Willis in close seclusion.

Intelligence authorities charged with the surveillance of the six defectors who have not returned to the U.S. are having great difficulty keeping track of them.

Cpl. Howard G. Adams, Corsicana, Texas; Pfc. James G. Veneria, Vandergrift, Pa.; and Pfc. Clarence C. Adams, Washington, D.C., are believed to be still in Communist China. But CIA has had no "hard information" on them since 1963.

Pfc. Adams is listed in intelligence files as a student at Wu Han University, Wu Han, China, in 1957; Cpl. Adams, working in Shantung Paper Mill, Tsinan, in 1960; and Pfc. Veneria as "somewhere in Communist China in January, 1963."

Cpl. John R. Dunn, a former potato chip salesman from Altoona, Pa., was reported to have left China in December, 1959, for Zilina, Czechoslovakia. Cpl. Harold Webb, of Jacksonville, Fla., was residing in Katowice, Poland, in January, 1964. Although it is known he married a Polish girl and worked as an English tutor in Katowice, his present whereabouts is unknown.

Cpl. Albert Constant Belhomme, who worked in a paper mill in Tsinan, China, after defecting, was traced to Antwerp, Belgium, in November, 1963, where U.S. authorities lost his trail.

REP. MICHAEL FEIGHAN, D.-O., chairman of the House immigration investigating subcommittee, is planning a full-scale inquiry of state and defense department handling of these turncoats.

He wants to determine why the returned defectors have not been prosecuted, and whether they have ties with the Communists.

Simple Precautions Will Ready You For Blackout

It is unlikely that California will ever face a massive power failure like the one that hit the East last month.

That's the word from the state Public Utilities Commission in its preliminary report on California's power systems. The commission found that the state's electric utilities have adequate capacity and reserves to meet major outages, except in the most extraordinary circumstances.

The governor has asked the California Disaster Office, the Department of Water Resources, and the PUC to continue their surveys on the state's electricity, water, gas and communications systems to ferret out any shortcomings.

The unprecedented eastern blackout has put the rest of the nation on guard. California is taking a close look at its own resources.

This is all reassuring. However, "most extraordinary circumstances" can and sometimes do occur. Furthermore, localized blackouts are not uncommon occurrences, even in Marin County.

Governor Brown has urged every householder to take five simple precautionary steps recommended by the California Disaster Office.

Most of us, periodically battered by wind and rainstorms, are probably well prepared to meet emergencies like temporary power shutoffs. But we take the occasion to pass on these tips from the state disaster office:

1. Keep on hand a flashlight, a battery-operated or kerosene lantern, or candles and a supply of fresh batteries.

2. A battery-operated radio may be your only means of receiving emergency information. Keep one handy with fresh batteries.

3. Have a first aid kit handy, and know how to use it.

4. Maintain an emergency supply of food that does not need refrigeration and does not require cooking.

5. Plan for emergency transportation. You may not be able to get gasoline from regular sources. Most gasoline pumps are electrical and depend on commercial power. Keep your gas tank at least half full at all times.

Getting Gray?

Are you getting gray? Don't worry. Most of us are. By the time he reaches 50 years of age, the average person is more than half white. According to studies made in Australia, neither the original color nor the sex of individual appeared to make any difference.

There are a number of remedies for the situation—wigs, dyes, etc. Some of us have a rather drastic solution called baldness.

Better gray than skin should be the motto.

BRITISH PERFECT "INSTANT TREE"

An "instant tree," has been developed in England by a private forestry organization. It is saving schools, highways and housing developments from the usual long wait while a sapling grows into a shady tree.

The tree-raising group maintains sites throughout the country, where it grows trees to semi-maturity and carries out soil analyses and pruning.

A special technique makes it possible to confine tree roots to a manageable size. Trees can be transplanted, even when they are 30 feet tall.

Architects and landscape planners can now design buildings already equipped with arbors. Farmers can also get instant windbreaks to protect their soil.

Human ingenuity keeps discovering new ways to make available to mankind the innumerable blessings that a loving Creator wishes man to enjoy on his pilgrimage to heaven.

Pray that all men may share in the advantages that are often limited to the few.

Highway Commission Delaying Tahoe Road Routing Decision

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—One of the curses of democratic government — that is, government of the people, by the people, and for the people—is the penchant of the peoples' elected representatives to delay and put off decisions, sometimes for years.

This is particularly true in one specific instance in California: Adoption of the routing of the highway on the west side of Lake Tahoe by the California Highway Commission.

For a number of years now, the commission has dallied with various routes, the specific question being whether to bridge Emerald Bay or go the high route and dig a tunnel through an earthquake fault.

All the routings for future highways on the west side of the lake have been adopted, except the controversial highway either around or through Emerald Bay.

THE COMMISSION has not yet made up its mind, despite the action of one member, Joseph Houghteling, to force the issue with a resolution. Houghteling was voted down, so the question remains to be settled.

The low route, which could be adopted and a bridge put across the mouth of Emerald Bay, is the least costly and the most convenient for the people who have to use the road between the north and south ends of the lake. It generally is favored by the people who reside in the area and by those who have to use roads to get from place to place, instead of for scenic purposes.

THE HIGH ROUTE would cost the taxpayers of the state several million dollars more in highway taxes. It would involve a tunnel through an area which has been known to slide and would be extremely dangerous to construction. Earthquakes, which are possible in that particular place, could endanger the highway and lives of travelers.

Harold Webb, of Jacksonville, Fla., was residing in Katowice, Poland, in January, 1964. Although it is known he married a Polish girl and worked as an English tutor in Katowice, his present whereabouts is unknown.

Cpl. Albert Constant Belhomme, who worked in a paper mill in Tsinan, China, after defecting, was traced to Antwerp, Belgium, in November, 1963, where U.S. authorities lost his trail.

REP. MICHAEL FEIGHAN, D.-O., chairman of the House immigration investigating subcommittee, is planning a full-scale inquiry of state and defense department handling of these turncoats.

He wants to determine why the returned defectors have not been prosecuted, and whether they have ties with the Communists.

Santa Claus Has Many Helpers At Post Office On Peninsula

St. Nick will be delivering his gifts on Friday night, and Friday also marks the end of the busiest season of the year for his helpers at the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office.

Postmaster Theodore J. Lehman says planning for the Christmas rush begins about Oct. 1. "We analyze our needs based on past years and the growth of the area. And the area is growing."

Lehmann says the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office has 26 regular employees: 12 carriers, 11 clerks, a superintendent of mails, an assistant postmaster and himself. The branch has seven vehicles for eight regular routes.

"THIS YEAR we decided we needed 18 extra hands for the increased work load and have hired 12 additional carriers and six clerks since Dec. 11. We also rented extra vehicles.

"We just didn't have the space for the anticipated parcel post so we rented a room at 1610 Tiburon Boulevard to sort the parcels. And we were lucky to find the place just across Juanita Lane from the post office."

Lehmann says the rush on incoming mail started about Dec. 1 and reached its peak last Saturday. The rush on outgoing mail started around Thanksgiving and continued until last Saturday also when it began to dwindle off.

"And we've kept right on top of it," Lehmann declares.

POSTMEN COVER both inincorporated Tiburon and Belvedere, serving about 3,500 homes and businesses with an estimated population of 12,500 In addition there are 700 boxes at the post office on Beach Road and Juanita Lane, Tiburon.

"Carriers start work at 6 a.m. sorting out packages that have arrived and getting them on their way. We still only have one delivery a day, but two men working on it.

"We are very careful about enforcing the rule on not leaving packages on porches or on top of mail boxes," Lehmann says. "But we try delivering them three times before we leave a notice informing a resident he has to come down to the post office to get a package.

"It will all be over Friday when we let our extra help go and return the rented vehicles. We can all relax then and enjoy Christmas ourselves," Lehmann sighed.

"Of course, Monday will be a heavy mail day for us, too," he added. "That's the day when all the bills start to arrive for delivery."

AND SPEAKING of mail, someone did come up with a new wrinkle this Christmas.

At our house we received a throwaway ad from a hardware store inviting one and all to pack up their youngsters and come down to meet Mrs. Santa Claus. Mrs. Santa Claus?

There was a very jolly picture of her, with ruddy cheeks and wearing spectacles. She looked like she baked good cookies. And why wasn't she at home at the North Pole making some?

It struck me as just another case of women creeping into the realm of what properly is a man's world.

ART BUCHWALD

Follow Dr. Spock's Reasoning And See Family Go To Pieces

WASHINGTON — Dr. Spock, America's leading authority on children, has come up with some revolutionary ideas for Christmas. He says that the holiday season is so overdone that children go to pieces under the tension and he warns that Christmas exploits and fosters children's naturally greedy tendencies.

To solve the problem the good doctor thinks we should do away with mass family gatherings and visits, that we should leave children home when shopping, that we should be shielded from live Santas, and that a child should be limited to only one or, at the most, two Christmas presents.

The scene is Christmas morning. A 10-year-old child comes running down the stairs in his pajamas while his parents sit nervously by the Christmas tree.

THERE ARE two packages under the tree. The boy rips them both open. "Oh, boy," he cries, "an Erector set and a pair of galoshes." He starts looking behind the tree. "Where's the other stuff?" he asks.

The mother says, "That's all there is, son."

"All there is?" the boy says. "But it's Christmas."

"We know that, son," the father says. "But Dr. Spock says you should only get one or at the most two Christmas presents this year."

"Who's Dr. Spock?"

"He is a very famous pediatrician and he writes books on how to raise children. He says the more presents we buy you, the more chance you have of going to pieces on Christmas Day."

The boy says, "He must be some kind of a nut."

"HE IS NOT a nut. He is a very distinguished man who knows what goes on in the minds of children."

"Well, if he's not a nut, he's a fink," the boy cries. "What kind of a Christmas is this, anyway?"

"Dr. Spock is just trying to keep your greedy tendencies in check. He says the less we give you, the happier you will be."

The boy screams, "I'm not greedy. I only want what's coming to me."

"But if we gave you everything you wanted, you would just go to pieces. We don't want you to have a nervous breakdown."

"What's a nervous breakdown?"

"It's when you get sick and depressed."

"But I'm sick and depressed now."

"Yes, but you would be much worse if you got a lot of presents."

"I'm going to tell grandma this afternoon," the boy says.

"She's not coming over this afternoon," the mother tells the son.

"WHY NOT?"

"Because Dr. Spock doesn't believe in mass family gatherings at Christmas time. He says it will only unnerve you. The three of us are going to spend a quiet day together."

"Without any toys?"

"We'll sing Christmas carols," the father says.

"What am I going to tell all my friends when they ask me what I got for Christmas?" the boy asks.

"Tell them you may not have material things, but mentally you're much better off than they are."

"They'll never believe it," the boy says. "I think I'm having a nervous breakdown." He begins to cry and won't stop.

The father says, "Now, calm down while your mother opens her two presents."

"Two presents?" the mother starts weeping. "I thought Dr. Spock was only talking about children."

The father says, "I never saw so many people go to pieces in my life."

RESOLUTION NO. 102

RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO THE CITY OF NOVATO OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED HIGHWAY 37—ANNEXATION NO. 1 AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NOVATO:

1. That it has come to the attention of the City Council of the City of Novato, and this Council finds, that it would be for the best interests of said City and of the residents of the contiguous area herein described to alter the boundaries of said City by annexing thereto and incorporating therein as a part thereof under the provisions of the annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, as amended, certain property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, hereby designated Highway 37—Annexation No. 1, and described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof.

2. The reasons why the City of Novato desires said annexation are as follows:

(a) Said territory because of its location and other features should be governed in its development by the same zoning and planning regulations which govern territory within the City of Novato.

(b) Because of its location, said territory will receive the benefit of and should therefore participate in supporting the municipal services of said city.

3. The City of Novato has heretofore filed with the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County, a notice of intention to annex the territory more particularly described in Exhibit "A". Said notice contained the specific boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed. The description of said territory was submitted to the Marin County Boundary Commission, and the attached description is in accordance with the report of said Commission. Thereafter, the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County after public hearing did approve said proposed annexation.

4. That Tuesday, January 18, 1966, at the hour of 8 o'clock P.M., in the Council Chambers, Novato Community House, in the City of Novato, County of Marin, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the City of Novato, and having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the Council of the City of Novato and show cause why such uninhabited territory should not be so annexed to the City of Novato. The protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed annexation, and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected and the description and area of such property, in general terms.

5. The City Clerk of the City of Novato is hereby authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Novato Advance, a newspaper of general circulation published in said City of Novato and in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin, said publication to be complete at least twenty (20) days prior to the date set for hearing.

6. The City Clerk is directed to cause written notice to be given to such other persons as may be legally entitled thereto, in the manner required by law.

* * * * * *

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

X-rays Can Be Used To Predict How Tall A Youngster Will Grow

VAN DELLEN

How tall will I get to be? This question is of more concern to children who are tall or short for their age. X-ray studies of the bones of the wrist and hand probably offer the most accurate predictions because the changes in the growing ends (epiphyses) of the bones mirror the maturation level at all times. When these bone centers fuse, no more linear growth occurs. This usually takes place at the end of adolescence, which is age 19 in the boy and slightly earlier in the girl.

THE SKELETAL age of a person does not always follow the chronological age. It is determined by studying the ends of the bone and referring to a special table. The girl who is tallest at age 12 may be the most advanced. If the former begins to mature she may go through an early growth spurt with an early cessation of growth. The shorter girl may continue at a slower pace and mature later in her teens. If she spends a longer time growing, she may end up the taller of the two.

Heredity plays a major role in the developing skeleton, but in reality the skeletal age also is altered by illness, the endocrine glands, and nutrition. The role of exercise is difficult to assess.

SPECIALISTS in this field are able to predict the adult height of a child with a far degree of accuracy. The error will be 1 inch or less when the X-rays are made before 12 to 14 years of age and less than ½ inch after this time. Other body dimensions are not necessarily related to skeletal age. The X-rays often disclose if the child is ahead or behind schedule as far as sexual maturity is concerned.

Predicting growth has many emotional implications. The tall, athletic girl may value femininity and consider herself inferior until told that she is a fast grower. The reverse may occur to the small immature boy. His day will come, but he must wait for it.

CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NOVATO
RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO THE CITY OF NOVATO OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED HIGHWAY 37—ANNEXATION NO. 1 AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NOVATO:

1. That it has come to the attention of the City Council of the City of Novato, and this Council finds, that it would be for the best interests of said City and of the residents of the contiguous area herein described to alter the boundaries of said City by annexing thereto and incorporating therein as a part thereof under the provisions of the annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, as amended, certain property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, hereby designated Highway 37—Annexation No. 1, and described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof.

2. The reasons why the City of Novato desires said annexation are as follows:

(a) Said territory because of its location and other features should be governed in its development by the same zoning and planning regulations which govern territory within the City of Novato.

(b) Because of its location, said territory will receive the benefit of and should therefore participate in supporting the municipal services of said city.

3. The City of Novato has heretofore filed with the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County, a notice of intention to annex the territory more particularly described in Exhibit "A". Said notice contained the specific boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed. The description of said territory was submitted to the Marin County Boundary Commission, and the attached description is in accordance with the report of said Commission. Thereafter, the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County after public hearing did approve said proposed annexation.

4. That Tuesday, January 18, 1966, at the hour of 8 o'clock P.M., in the Council Chambers, Novato Community House, in the City of Novato, County of Marin, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the City of Novato, and having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the Council of the City of Novato and show cause why such uninhabited territory should not be so annexed to the City of Novato. The protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed annexation, and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected and the description and area of such property, in general terms.

5. The City Clerk of the City of Novato is hereby authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Novato Advance, a newspaper of general circulation published in said City of Novato and in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin, said publication to be complete at least twenty (20) days prior to the date set for hearing.

6. The City Clerk is directed to cause written notice to be given to such other persons as may be legally entitled thereto, in the manner required by law.

* * * * * * * * *

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

How tall will I get to be? This question is of more concern to children who are tall or short for their age. X-ray studies of the bones of the wrist and hand probably offer the most accurate predictions because the changes in the growing ends (epiphyses) of the bones mirror the maturation level at all times. When these bone centers fuse, no more linear growth occurs. This usually takes place at the end of adolescence, which is age 19 in the boy and slightly earlier in the girl.

THE SKELETAL age of a person does not always follow the chronological age. It is determined by studying the ends of the bone and referring to a special table. The girl who is tallest at age 12 may be the most advanced. If the former begins to mature she may go through an early growth spurt with an early cessation of growth. The shorter girl may continue at a slower pace and mature later in her teens. If she spends a longer time growing, she may end up the taller of the two.

Heredity plays a major role in the developing skeleton, but in reality the skeletal age also is altered by illness, the endocrine glands, and nutrition. The role of exercise is difficult to assess.

SPECIALISTS in this field are able to predict the adult height of a child with a far degree of accuracy. The error will be 1 inch or less when the X-rays are made before 12 to 14 years of age and less than ½ inch after this time. Other body dimensions are not necessarily related to skeletal age. The X-rays often disclose if the child is ahead or behind schedule as far as sexual maturity is concerned.

Predicting growth has many emotional implications. The tall, athletic girl may value femininity and consider herself inferior until told that she is a fast grower. The reverse may occur to the small immature boy. His day will come, but he must wait for it.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

TWITCHING EXTREMITIES

I. McC. writes: Please advise me regarding the treatment of Parkinson's disease. I have twitching of the arms and legs but not the head. Why are doctors reluctant to treat this condition?

REPLY

Physicians are not reluctant to treat Parkinson's disease, but they may balk when they do not believe that the twitching is caused by this disorder. There are many drugs and an operation that lessen the muscle rigidity and typical tremor.

TISSUE DEGENERATION

E. J. writes: I have a ganglion on the back of my wrist. My job requires the lifting of heavy trays. Is there any connection between my job and the lesion on my wrist?

REPLY

This is dobtful. A ganglion is a cyst that develops on the wrist as a result of tissue degeneration. Hard work may aggravate the swelling.

TWITCHING MUSCLES

J. M. writes: What might cause twitching of the calves of the legs? I am 65 and walk 10 miles per week.

REPLY

Irritable muscles often twitch. This may be due to poor circulation, arthritis, arch trouble, or too much coffee, tea and tobacco. Many persons of your age walk 10 or more miles every day.

CHEST HERNIA

K. B. P. writes: Could a person have a hernia in the chest?

REPLY

Yes. The most common type is protrusion through an opening in the diaphragm and is known as a hiatus, or diaphragmatic hernia.

Customers Have Wide Range For Shopping

DALLAS (UPI) —Harding Lawrence, president of Braniff International, says this mobile age has a breed of consumers who move about fast and want interesting things to buy and to do.

"We are living in an age when the consumer can say, 'if I can't get it here in Dallas, I'll pick it up on my next flight to New York, Chicago or Houston,'" he said in a recent speech.

Hamilton Loses New Construction To Pentagon's Ax

Almost $1 million in new construction planned for Hamilton Air Force Base this year was wiped out yesterday when the Pentagon ordered a cutback in military construction to make more money available for the fighting in Viet Nam.

Two dormitories for airmen were eliminated. One would have cost $400,000, and the other $418,000, according to federal estimates. They would have replaced dormitories on the base which were built during World War II.

The other cut for Hamilton was construction of a warm-up and holding pad near a runway strip, to be used for maintenance and operation of jet planes. This project was estimated to cost $149,000.

In all, $45,467,000 in construction in California was killed.

Given Probation

Charles Claude Winslow, 37, Santa Rosa, was fined $276 and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Oct. 11 by San Rafael police on Third Street.

Stolen Goods Trial Scheduled Feb. 28

William Patrick Maloney, 24, was scheduled for jury trial Feb. 28 in Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of possession of stolen goods.

Maloney, of 182 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, allegedly had in his home articles including four beer steins, sterling silver, and furniture which were taken in a burglary last February of the home of Kermit H. Fisher, 635 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia.

Heavy Trucks Banned At Sea Haven

Marin County supervisors yesterday, after learning of damage done to the pavement by heavy trucks, ordered a ban on trucks of seven tons or more on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard beyond Sea Haven near Inverness.

Agricultural vehicles would be excepted.

The damage has come from equipment used to construct roads for Point Reyes National Seashore. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost has declared that his efforts to get some compensation from contractors have failed.

The ban was adopted unanimously by the board as an emergency ordinance, meaning it took effect at once.

The power used by an electric toaster to toast one slice of bread would operate the (Accutron) clock on the control panel of Gemini 5 for 250 years.

Customers Have Wide Range For Shopping

DALLAS (UPI) —Harding Lawrence, president of Braniff International, says this mobile age has a breed of consumers who move about fast and want interesting things to buy and to do.

"We are living in an age when the consumer can say, 'if I can't get it here in Dallas, I'll pick it up on my next flight to New York, Chicago or Houston,'" he said in a recent speech.

Hamilton Loses New Construction To Pentagon's Ax

Almost $1 million in new construction planned for Hamilton Air Force Base this year was wiped out yesterday when the Pentagon ordered a cutback in military construction to make more money available for the fighting in Viet Nam.

Two dormitories for airmen were eliminated. One would have cost $400,000, and the other $418,000, according to federal estimates. They would have replaced dormitories on the base which were built during World War II.

The other cut for Hamilton was construction of a warm-up and holding pad near a runway strip, to be used for maintenance and operation of jet planes. This project was estimated to cost $149,000.

In all, $45,467,000 in construction in California was killed.

Given Probation

Charles Claude Winslow, 37, Santa Rosa, was fined $276 and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Oct. 11 by San Rafael police on Third Street.

Stolen Goods Trial Scheduled Feb. 28

William Patrick Maloney, 24, was scheduled for jury trial Feb. 28 in Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of possession of stolen goods.

Maloney, of 182 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, allegedly had in his home articles including four beer steins, sterling silver, and furniture which were taken in a burglary last February of the home of Kermit H. Fisher, 635 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia.

Heavy Trucks Banned At Sea Haven

Marin County supervisors yesterday, after learning of damage done to the pavement by heavy trucks, ordered a ban on trucks of seven tons or more on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard beyond Sea Haven near Inverness.

Agricultural vehicles would be excepted.

The damage has come from equipment used to construct roads for Point Reyes National Seashore. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost has declared that his efforts to get some compensation from contractors have failed.

The ban was adopted unanimously by the board as an emergency ordinance, meaning it took effect at once.

The power used by an electric toaster to toast one slice of bread would operate the (Accutron) clock on the control panel of Gemini 5 for 250 years.

Repeat Thefts Ire Restaurant Owner

The Schooner, Sausalito restaurant on Gate Five Road in Marinship, was broken into last night for the sixth time within 18 months.

Maryannis's wife, Anna, discovered the latest burglary when she opened the restaurant at 6:20 a.m. today. Loot included beer and cigarettes—$200 worth, Maryannis said.

"About a month ago someone broke into my home and stole $3,000 in cash, including my coin collection," Maryannis related. "Another time they took $90 in change from my restaurant. And one time they broke eggs, cooked steaks and slept here."

Mrs. Maryannis reported to police that the burglar entered by breaking a window.

A cigarette machine was broken open and 23 cartons of cigarettes plus an unknown amount of change was taken. In addition, eight cases of beer were stolen.

The Maryannises live at 518 Nevada Street.

Amputee Aims At Space Post

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Navy pilot Lt. Cmdr. Frank K. Ellis, despite the loss of the lower part of his legs, wants to become an astronaut. The Navy approves of his ambition and is backing his candidacy.

"If Ellis were fully qualified he would have been rated fifth in the list of 70 candidates," Adm. David MacDonald, chief of naval operations, wrote the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Ellis, 32, lost his ankles and feet in 1962 when he bailed out of a jet moments before it crashed near Point Mugu, Calif. He has continued as a pilot with artificial limbs.

Fairfax Asks Federal Coin For Special Education Plan

The Fairfax School District board last night agreed to contract with the county schools office for help in setting up a program using federal funds which the district hopes to get to aid pupils considered educationally handicapped.

Supt. Homer Sisk said the district will pay five per cent of the expected funds, about $20,400, to the county office for the services of a coordinator who will help set up special classes.

To obtain the funds, the district must identify a "target area" in which families have the least money. Sisk said he hopes to establish the whole district as such an area.

Special classes, he said, will probably be set up in language arts and mathematics. They will provide remedial work but will tie in with regular classes also.

Sisk said the district hopes to have the program underway by next semester.

The four board members present tried in vain once more to name the school they plan to build on White's Hill.

They reached 2-2 deadlocks on at least 10 names, Sisk reported.

Among these were Canada de Herrera, Blacksmith Canyon, Smith Valley, Westwood, Buckeye Canyon, Oak Canyon and Hillside. To Sisk's chagrin, someone also prposed his name. It was rejected, he said, as being too hard to pronounce in conjuncetion with the word "school."

Two Cars Stolen From Sausalito

Two car thefts were reported to Sausalito police today..

Paula Espinosa reported that her 1958 four door Chevrolet sedan was stolen from a parking spot across from her home at 428 Turney Street. Dick Weening of 529 North Street said his 1959 Chrysler Saratoga was stolen from in front of his home.

Playground Building Approved For School

The 450-square-foot facility will be financed on a 50-50 basis with the Tiburon Peninsula Little League and is expected to cost about $10,000. The plans must be approved by the state division of architecture.

The Reed School District board also:

1. Agreed to seek $3,700 in federal funds for a pre-school program aimed at finding potential problem learners.

2. Approved creating a new teaching position at Granada School because of increased enrollment. Enrollment has gone from 249 to 282 since September.

3. Accepted the resignation of Mary C. Rogers, second grade teacher at Reed School, and hired Patricia McCoy to replace her.

4. Appointed administrative intern L. Wesley Johnson as Reed District summer school principal at a salary of $1,000.

English Walker Ordered To Jail

She was ordered locked up yesterday after she refused to give a judge assurance that she would not interfere with a neighbor's right of way over a shared forecourt at her home in Surrey.

Dr. Moore gained fame in 1960 with her 3,200-mile hike across America. The judge set no time limit on how long she would have to be in jail.

Store Fire Routs Shoppers

OAKLAND (UPI) — Thousands of Christmas shoppers fled into the streets yesterday when fire broke out in the huge Montgomery Ward and Company store.

Firemen estimated that between 7,000 and 8,000 shoppers and employees were in the 11-story structure when smoke began seeping through it.

No injuries were reported and firemen confined the flames to an electrical equipment center where they began.

Damage to wiring was estimated at $70,000, but there was no immediate estimate of the loss from smoke damage or lost sales. Manager William Barger said the store would be open today.

Sayers Is Runaway Winner As NFL Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears' exciting halfback, has been voted Rookie of the Year in a season that has been called the Year of the Rookie in the National Football League.

Sayers won by a landslide in the voting of a panel of 42 sports writers and sportscasters, three from each of the 14 league cities, in an Associated Press poll.

The former Kansas star received 35 votes, fullback Ken Willard of the San Francisco 49ers and North Carolina drew four and linebacker Dick Butkus of the Bears and Illinois, got three.

Although several members of the panel suggested The AP name a rookie on both offense and defense, because of the greater opportunity for an offensive man to attraction attention, it was decided to select only one winner as in the past. Butkus probably would have won easily if there had been a separate poll for defense.

Sayers simply was sensational. There was no other word for it. The six touchdowns he scored against San Francisco, tying the mark set by Ernie Nevers in 1929, and the record-breaking total of 22 touchdowns in his first season made him a standout in a year of good rookies.

"Gale Sayers has everything," said Jim Brown, Cleveland's great runner, when both appeared at the same luncheon recently. "He has the acceleration, speed, power, hands and the mental ability and supreme confidence to do the job for 10 or 12 more years."

Just to review some of the testimonials to Sayers during the season:

"Sayers could be the greatest of them all,"-Owner-coach George Halas of the Bears.

In addition to setting the TD record with 22, Sayers led the league in scoring with 132 points and finished second to Jim Brown in rushing with 217 yards and a 5.2-yard average.

The 6-foot, 198-pound newcomer also ranked second in punt returns with a 14.9-yard average and second in kickoff returns with a 31.4-yard average. Every now and then he would throw a pass.

Butkus, the big bruiser from Illinois, roamed the league knocking down people, intercepting passes and making life miserable for fullbacks and assorted offensive players. He had such a fine year that he was voted middle linebacker on The AP's first team.

Willard showed what he could do in the All-America game at Buffalo last June and carried it right on through the season with the 49ers. The North Carolina product, No. 1 draft choice by San Francisco, wound up fourth in rushing with 778 yards on 189 carries and averaged 4.1 yards.

The 1964 Rookie of the Year was Charley Taylor of Washington who was injured in the Redskins' first exhibition game and never hit his true stride until late season.

Oklahoma Finally Finds New Head Grid Mentor

JIM MURRAY

Now I'm El Cid On A Two-Wheel 'Hog'

It's taken a little thought but I finally know what I want for Christmas — black denim trousers and motorcycle boots and a black leather jacket with an eagle on the back.

I may also want a spiked helmet, a swastika or two, and I'll have to find a dame who looks like Moonbeam McSwine to ride around with me. I'll have to let my hair and my beard grow and I won't be able to take a bath for at least a year. I'll get "Hell's Angels—Berdoo" stencilled on the back of my jacket.

I have become Marlon Murray, one of the Wild Ones. You see, I got a "hog" the another night by appearing on coach Tommy Prothro's Bruin TV show.

Well, it's not really a "hog." A "hog" is one of those big Harleys or Triumphs, the kind of cycles the German couriers used to run down dogs and chickens —and people—with in World War II—low, brutish machines with drivers to match.

MY "HOG" is really a Suzuki trail bike 80—a kind of a slant-eyed hog. My wife thinks it's going to be fine for running up to the market for a late bottle of milk when unexpected guests show up for dinner, or for borrowing a cup of sugar from the Daniels' or whipping a few shirts down to the laundromat.

But that's what she thinks. What she doesn't know is what comes over a man when he gets aboard one of these two-wheeled symbols of manhood. You feel like El Cid, Billy the Kid, King Arthur and Roy Rogers all at once. The first thing you notice is that all those Cadillacs and Chryslers and Continental's bully you all over the road. The next thing you notice is that all their inmates look at you as if they can't understand why you have not been imprisoned or at least committed. You are clearly what the police department blotter refers to as a "vag lewd" — mounted division.

I CAN'T SEE why this is true in my case. In the first place, my 200 pounds makes the poor little cycle look faintly as if it had its tongue hanging out carrying me. If they had a society for the prevention of cruelty to motorcycles, I would be one of the first indicted. In the second place, I haven't yet mastered the technique of getting it out of first gear without falling off. This makes me fair game for every dog on the point of land where I live. I really don't cut a very dashing figure at all. I can't get goggles over my horn-rimmed glasses. I'll tell you something else: motorcycles are like horses. They KNOW when they've got a greenhorn in the saddle. They BUCK on you, baby. Usually, when there's a big truck right behind you or you're in a busy—a VERY busy —intersection. It gets busier when the critter throws you over the handlebars.

NONETHELESS, a man can dream. And in my mind's eye,

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL
ON VACATION

I don't see myself tootling down theh ighway at a scorching 17 mph in first gear forgetting to turn off the hand throttle when I brake. I see Marlon Murray, the scourge of the two-wheelers, addressing his group of Hell Divers in San Berdoo, and outlining the big raid. I'm wearing a T-shirt and I'm scratching. My "hog" is purring silently by my side.

"Al right, you guys, now, this it IT. The big one. We're going to raid a small town in Northern California. San Francisco. Now you all have your orders. Dirty Joe, you're going to raid all the candy stores. Big Duke, you bring the marshmallows. Buzzard, you will lead us in song, and Arapahoe Joe, you be the chaplain. Now, adjust your coal scuttles and we're ready to go. Remember, no smoking. Gentlemen, start your engines."

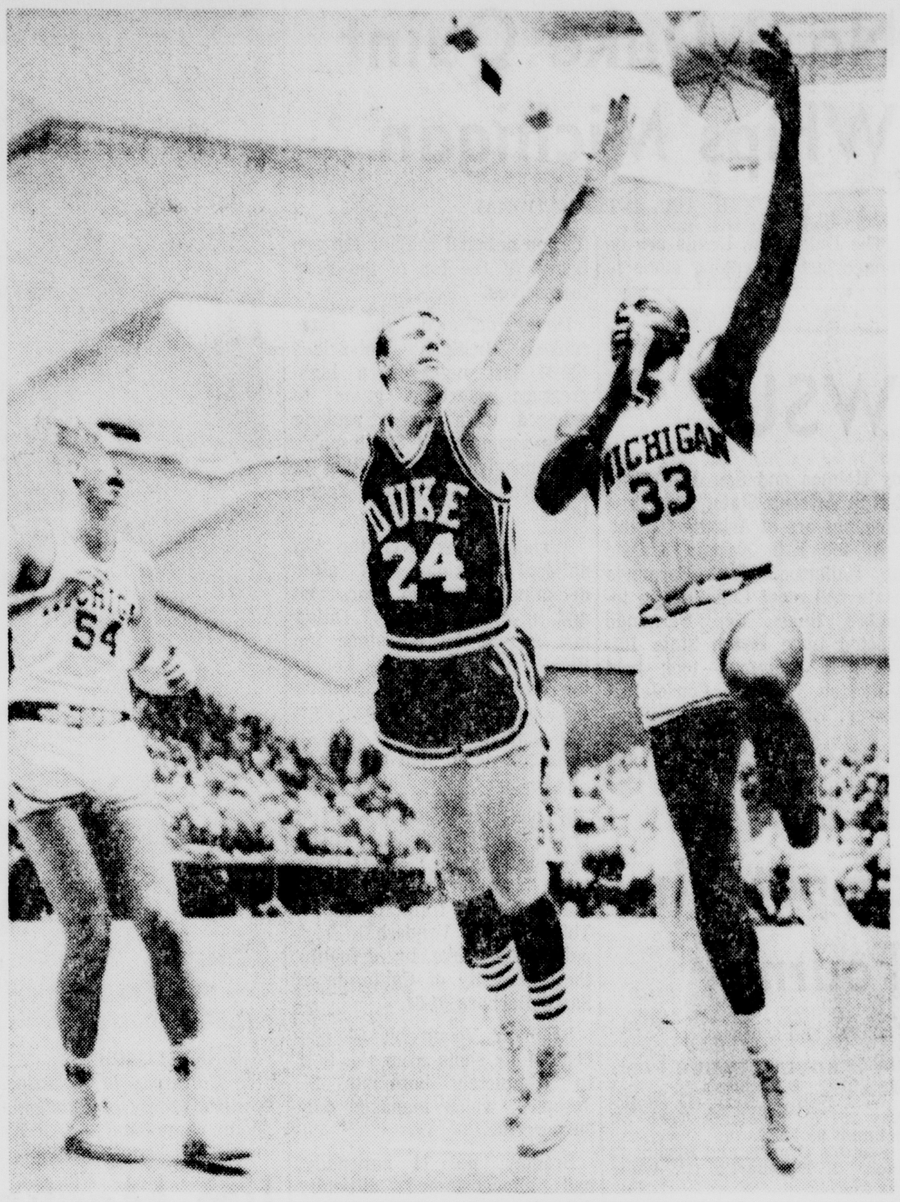
FROM THE BACK of the crowd comes a troublemaker. "Wait a minute, Marlon, you can't lead a Hell Diver raid in a little old trail bike. Why you might as well lead us in a Schwinn!"

Justice for the mutineer will be swift. "Seize that man and strip him of his jelly beans," I will order. "And sentence him to five days at the wash basin. Cut off his sideburns." He will be led, screaming, out, by a security officer with soap and towel, his piteous cries of "Anything but that!" drowned out in the roaring of 50 one-cylinder trail bikes with loose chains.

"But, Marlon," a protest will come from another one of the Smith Bros. on bike-back. "Why San Francisco? I thought we were going to Monterey for the Jazz Festival."

"JAZZ FESTIVAL!" I'll squelch him. "Who needs that high-brow music? That's for the bourgeois. We're going to attend the San Francisco opera to hear Lohengrin—a real way-out, modern sound. After that, we're going over to the art museum to look at some dirty pictures."

My reverie was interrupted. I heard my wife on the phone. "Yes, honey," she was saying. "We need a cup and a half of sugar. Pammy's making a cake. Jim will be over on his bicycle in about a half-hour. What? Well, I figure it's about three-quarters of a mile. So, in first gear, with two engine stalls and allowing for a couple of fall-offs at Grayfox Hill, he should make it easily in that time. Get Tom to hold the bike for him as he starts home, will you?"



CAGE TITANS DUEL

Michigan's star forward Cazzie Russell tried to hook over Duke's Jack Marin last night at Detroit. Both scored 29 points as the top-ranked Blue Devils surged from 10 points back to tie Michigan in the last minute and then won in overtime 100-93. The Wolverines were ranked fifth. Last year the Wolves beat Duke in Durham, N.C., after the Devils had beaten them in the NCAA semifinals the previous year. See story on page 30.

A POSSIBLE SPRING BOUT

Clay Vs. Brian London?

LONDON (AP) — British boxing promoter Laurie Lewis left London by air Wednesday confident he could arrange a world heavyweight title fight between champion Cassius Clay and former British champion Brian London.

Lewis is working with Jack Solomons in a bid to stage the fight in London next spring, and Lewis said, "There are excellent chances the fight will go on."

Solomons said: "We are thinking of putting on the fight at the World Sporting Club in London. We could get 1,200 fans to pay 100 guineas ($294) each."

That would bring in $352,800 at the gate. Receipts from closed circuit television in Britain alone would hike the total to something in the region of 1,120,000, the promoters estimated.

More money could be expected from closed circuit television in Europe and the United States, said Ted Francis, a director and adviser of Solomons' World Today, a close circuit television company.

Francis, said there were up to 20 outlets in Britain for closed circuit television. He maintained there were another 20 in Europe plus those in the United States.

Solomons said that Lewis would meet with Bill Faversham, one of Clay's millionaire handlers; Arthur Grafton, an attorney; and manager Angelo Dundee.

"It's up to Clay to suggest the date. We could follow from there," said Solomons.

Drake Bees Dumped In Tournament

The Drake B basketball team dropped a 69-35 decision to Terra Nova yesterday in the first round of the Jefferson High lightweight tourney in Daly City. Terra Nova's pressing defense late in the first half broke the game open and a 20-4 margin in the third quarter iced it.

The Little Pirates played Oceana this morning in the consolation round. Other scores yesterday: South San Francisco 61, San Mateo 53; Carlmont 42, Aragon 29, and Jefferson 41, Oceana 35.

Terra Nova	13	18	20	18—69

Soccer Action Slated Sunday

The second round of the Bay Area Soccer League starts Sunday at Balboa Stadium in San Francisco. The league-leading Scots tangle with fourth-place Mercury at 3:10 p.m. in the final game of the day. Arkansas Assistant Gets Job

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Arkansas assistant Jim Mackenzie, pledging to revitalize Oklahoma's sagging football fortunes, was named today to be the Sooners new head coach.

The 35-year-old Arkansas aide, named after a 16-day search for a new coach, said from Brownsville, Tex:

"I hope to incorporate the same type of offense that Frank Broyles has used so successfully at Arkansas."

Mackenzie said he was "very thrilled" to get the job, and pledged that he would go to work immediately to rebuild the Sooners into a football power.

Dr. George L. Cross, university of Oklahoma president, said the Athletic Council had recommended unanimously that Mackenzie be given the post.

"Their recommendation, in effect, was that we go no further," Cross said.

Cross said Gomer Jones, who Mackenzie replaces, "had previously spoken of Mackenzie as being his choice."

Cross also said university regents will formally vote on Mackenzie's appointment at their next meeting Jan. 13.

Mackenzie, a former star tackle at Kentucky under Paul 'Bear' Bryant, says there is no doubt on that score. "I don't want there to be any mistake," he said. "If I am offered the job, I will take it. That is definite."

Contacted at Brownsville, where the undefeated Arkansas team is practicing for a Jan. 1 date with Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl classic, Mazkenzie said. "Any official announcement will have to come from the University of Oklahoma."

Mackenzie, top assistant to Broyles, said he will probably remain with Arkansas until after the Cotton Bowl game.

"Frank wants me to and I think the publicity will hurt us that much," he said. Mackenzie, known as a superlative recruiter, added, "Besides, I don't think the publicity will hurt us any with Texas boys.

Mackenzie was one of three coaches interviewed by Oklaho-

Garrett May Be Busy As Beaver

The West's head coach, John Ralston of Stanford, in outlining offensive strategy for the Dec. 31 charity battle at Kezar Stadium, said:

Asked if using the spread might mean Garrett would run less than the 30 or so times he usually carried the ball for Southern California, Ralston replied:

"No. He might carry 35 times. He might even carry 40."

Where the West has an All America back in Garrett, the East has one in fullback Jim Grabowski of Illinois, the 220-pounder just signed by the Green Bay Packers for a reported $250,000.

Garrett was dratted by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League and Kansas City of the AFL but says he won't make any decision until after he plays baseball for USC this spring.

So many of the players on the East squad have big money offers or have already signed that head coach Ben Schartzalder of Syracuse quipped that they should be underdogs.

"John's boys are going to be the hungry ones," the East coach declared.

The squads assembled today for the annual visit to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children. The 40 previous East - West games have earned $4,772,618 for the charity. When this game is played, the total will exceed $5 million.

After visiting the youngsters and attending a civic luncheon, the 25 players on each squad go to their training camps—Santa Clara for the East and Stanford for the West.

Warriors Vs. Pistons In Capitol City

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— The San Francisco Warriors bid farewell to California for the year tonight with a game in Sacramento against the Detroit Pistons, who occupy last place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors have won only four of their past 15 games and rest in third place, four games behind division-leading Los Angeles.

Included in the Warriors' trip is a home game at Miami, Fla., of all places. That's where rookie Rick Barry used to play and the San Francisco management hopes there are still enough people there who'll pay to see the former Miami University star cavort among the pros.

Poly Of S.F. Defeats Marin Catholic Cagers

Big, muscular Poly High of San Francisco struggled to a 43-35 win over Marin Catholic yesterday in Greenbrae, as both clubs neared the end of their pre-league schedule.

Except for a bad second quarter when they were outscored 10-4, the Wildcats gave Poly a pretty even tussle. The Parrots took advantage of their height, particularly 6-2 Kevin Gochet. He worked inside and scored a total of 18 points to lead both teams.

Mike Lasater led the Wildcats wits 14, but no other 'Cat was able to sink more than two field goals.

Marin hosts another Academic Athletic Association team from San Francisco tomorrow, when Mission invades at 1 p.m. The B-130 game will follow the varsity clash.

The scoring:

Poly	9	10	11	13—43
Marin Catholic	11	4	8	12—35

Marin Catholic: Mike Lasater 6-2—14; Ches Bornia 2-2—6; Rick Rafael 0-3—3; Bob Lombardi 2-1—5; Pat Waltz 2-0—4; Brian Grove 1-0—2; Paul Vickers 0-1—1. Total: 13-9—35.

Arkansas Assistant Gets Job

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Arkansas assistant Jim Mackenzie, pledging to revitalize Oklahoma's sagging football fortunes, was named today to be the Sooners new head coach.

The 35-year-old Arkansas aide, named after a 16-day search for a new coach, said from Brownsville, Tex:

"I hope to incorporate the same type of offense that Frank Broyles has used so successfully at Arkansas."

Mackenzie said he was "very thrilled" to get the job, and pledged that he would go to work immediately to rebuild the Sooners into a football power.

Dr. George L. Cross, university of Oklahoma president, said the Athletic Council had recommended unanimously that Mackenzie be given the post.

"Their recommendation, in effect, was that we go no further," Cross said.

Cross said Gomer Jones, who Mackenzie replaces, "had previously spoken of Mackenzie as being his choice."

Cross also said university regents will formally vote on Mackenzie's appointment at their next meeting Jan. 13.

Mackenzie, a former star tackle at Kentucky under Paul 'Bear' Bryant, says there is no doubt on that score. "I don't want there to be any mistake," he said. "If I am offered the job, I will take it. That is definite."

Contacted at Brownsville, where the undefeated Arkansas team is practicing for a Jan. 1 date with Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl classic, Mazkenzie said. "Any official announcement will have to come from the University of Oklahoma."

Mackenzie, top assistant to Broyles, said he will probably remain with Arkansas until after the Cotton Bowl game.

"Frank wants me to and I think the publicity will hurt us that much," he said. Mackenzie, known as a superlative recruiter, added, "Besides, I don't think the publicity will hurt us any with Texas boys.

Mackenzie was one of three coaches interviewed by Oklaho-

Garrett May Be Busy As Beaver

Asked if using the spread might mean Garrett would run less than the 30 or so times he usually carried the ball for Southern California, Ralston replied:

"No. He might carry 35 times. He might even carry 40."

Where the West has an All America back in Garrett, the East has one in fullback Jim Grabowski of Illinois, the 220-pounder just signed by the Green Bay Packers for a reported $250,000.

Garrett was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League and Kansas City of the AFL but says he won't make any decision until after he plays baseball for USC this spring.

So many of the players on the East squad have big money offers or have already signed that head coach Ben Schartzalder of Syracuse quipped that they should be underdogs.

"John's boys are going to be the hungry ones," the East coach declared.

The squads assembled today for the annual visit to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children. The 40 previous East - West games have earned $4,772,618 for the charity. When this game is played, the total will exceed $5 million.

After visiting the youngsters and attending a civic luncheon, the 25 players on each squad go to their training camps—Santa Clara for the East and Stanford for the West.

Warriors Vs. Pistons In Capitol City

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— The San Francisco Warriors bid farewell to California for the year tonight with a game in Sacramento against the Detroit Pistons, who occupy last place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors have won only four of their past 15 games and rest in third place, four games behind division-leading Los Angeles.

Included in the Warriors' trip is a home game at Miami, Fla., of all places. That's where rookie Rick Barry used to play and the San Francisco management hopes there are still enough people there who'll pay to see the former Miami University star cavort among the pros.

Poly Of S.F. Defeats Marin Catholic Cagers

Big, muscular Poly High of San Francisco struggled to a 43-35 win over Marin Catholic yesterday in Greenbrae, as both clubs neared the end of their pre-league schedule.

Except for a bad second quarter when they were outscored 10-4, the Wildcats gave Poly a pretty even tussle. The Parrots took advantage of their height, particularly 6-2 Kevin Gochet. He worked inside and scored a total of 18 points to lead both teams.

Mike Lasater led the Wildcats wits 14, but no other 'Cat was able to sink more than two field goals.

Marin hosts another Academic Athletic Association team from San Francisco tomorrow, when Mission invades at 1 p.m. The B-130 game will follow the varsity clash.

The scoring:

Poly	9	10	11	13	—43
Marin Catholic	11	4	8	12	—35

Marin Catholic: Mike Lasater 6-2—14; Ches Bornia 2-2—6; Rick Rafael 0-3—3; Bob Lombardi 2-1—5; Pat Waltz 2-0—4; Brian Grove 1-0—2; Paul Vickers 0-1—1. Total: 13-9—35.

49er Offense Best In League

NEW YORK (AP) — The final team statistics for the National Football League season provide a confusing preview of Sunday's Baltimore-Green Bay playoff game because of the difference between the Colts' season-long passing attack and their current desperate straits.

With Johnny Unitas and, to a lesser extent, Gary Cuozzo, doing the pitching, Baltimore ranked third in passing and fifth in total offense. However, the Colts threw only seven passes last week at Los Angeles and must depend now on Tom Matte's rollout efforts. Baltimore's running attack ranked ninth in the NFL.

Green Bay's sputtering offense as 12th in total ratings, 10th in running and 11 in passing.

Both clubs are comparatively sound on defense where they are closely matched. The Packers were third in total defense, 13th against the rush and led in pass defense. Baltimore was fifth in total, fourth against the run and seventh against the pass.

The league leader in both total offense and passing as San Francisco. The 49ers piled up 5,270 yards total and 3,487 passing. Cleveland led in running offense with 2,331.

Detroit was the over-all leader in defense, permitting 3,557 yards. Los Angeles was toughest to run against, allowing 1,409 yards and Green Bay's pass defense was best with 1,981.

In the vital matter of touchdowns the 49ers and Chicago Bears scored the most, 52 each, and the Packers allowed the fewest, 22.

The best pass rush was Detroit's which smeared the passer 49 times and the best pass blocker was San Francisco which let the enemy dump its quarterback only 19 times all season.

In the individual statistics, Gale Sayers, Chicago's rookie sensation, set a record with 22 touchdowns, bettering Lennie Moore's mark by two, and led the scorers with 132 points.

Cleveland's Jimmy Brown on his eighth rushing title in nine years with 1,544 yards; Rudy Bukich of the Bears took the passing title, hitting on 176 of 312 for 2,641 yards and 20 touchdowns; Dave Parks of San Francisco topped the pass receivers with 80 for 1,344 yards and 12 touchdowns; Baltimore's Bob Boyd was first in interceptions with nine; Cleveland's Gary Collins paced the punters ith a 46.7 average; Leroy Kelly of Cleveland topped the punt return specialists with a 15.6 yard average and Detroit's Tom Watkins led the kickoff returners ith a 34.4 yard average.

No. 1 Duke Quint Whips Michigan

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Duke Blue Devils are no longer just a stepping stone to the top national ranking but are firmly at the top of the heap themselves.

Duke defeated the fifth-ranked Michigan Wolverines 100-93 last night in a high-pressure overtime game to enhance their No. 1 ranking while second-rated St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania was losing to eighth-ranked Brigham Young 103-83.

Michigan took over the top national ranking soon after defeating Duke two years ago and improved its no. 1 rating last season by defeating the Blue Devils. Duke also got to the National Collegiate Athletic Association finals two years ago only to lose the title to UCLA, a team defeated twice this season by the Blue Devils.

Finesse triumphed over brawn in Detroit last night as the diminutive Blue Devils came from far behind to whip the monsters from Michigan. Third-ranked Vanderbilt kept pace with Duke by defeating the University of California at Santa Barbara 91-64.

Brigham Young hit 56 percent of its shots from the field to completely humiliate St. Joseph's, which managed only 30 percent.

Bradley, no. 11 nationally, had unaccustomed difficulty defeating Montana 87-77 for its ninth consecutive victory without a loss, while UCLA, which tumbled from the national rankings after losing three of its first six games, scored 17 consecutive points to overcome a nine-point deficit in the first half and defeat the University of Southern California 86-67.

In other games, Loyola of Chicago defeated St. Joseph's of New Mexico 109-91, West Virginia overcame a 33-27 halftime deficit to beat Maryland 76-74, San Francisco whipped Gonzaga 80-67, Northwestern downed Texas 73-71 to win the Memphis State Classic, Davidson routed Ohio University 96-63, and Indiana easily tripped up Notre Dame 80-58.

WEST COAST BASKETBALL

Bruins Win; 7 Straight For WSU

By U.P. International

UCLA, San Francisco and Seattle have returned to the top of the heap of West Coast basketball powers as usual, but there's a stranger up there beside them.

Washington State made it seven straight last night with a 101-86 victory at tough Idaho. One of the Cougars' bevy of hot sophs, Jim McKean, led the scoring parade with 26, while Idaho's Bob Pipking had 25. Playing in an enemy gym, the Cougars still hooped 53 per cent of their shots and 87 per cent of their free throws.

Many thought Southern California might upset UCLA in their practice battle, but the Bruins scored 17 straight points late in the first half and rolled to an 86-67 win.

GOSS RETURNS

Edgar Lacey and Kenny Washington, disappointing so far in much of the early season play, flashed their best 1965-66 form with 22 and 17 points. And guard Freddie Goss returned to the team after a bout with stomach illness. He still is far from top shape, but he scored four points in seven minutes.

San Francisco was unimpressive in rolling to an 80-67 win over Gonzaga. But it still was the Dons' 26th consecutive in at home and Joe Ellis was at his flashy best as he collected 30 points. The Dons host St. Louis tonight.

STREAK SNAPPED

Seattle hosted a tough customer in Colorado State and managed to squeeze out an 83-78 win to snap a five-game win streak for the Rams. Seattle center Malkin Strong hit 26 points.

Touring San Francisco State flopped at Buffalo, 80-62, and Bradley dispatched Montana, 87-77. But Nevada appeared ready to challenge favored Chico State for the Far Western Conference crown this year after a surprising 97-96 win over Creighton in the first round of the Mississippi Valley Classic at Rock Island, Ill. Nap Montgomery scored 36 and hit the winning basket at the buzzer.

University of Washington hosted Florida and looked disappointing in losing, 66-60. Jerry Keller got 24 for the Gators, who had 24 of 31 from the free throw line while Washington hit only half of its charity losses.

Pepperdine nipped Pasadena, 97-95 behind 31 points by Tandy Holmes and San Jose State fell at Arizona State, 67-62. The Spartans are at Arizona tonight.

At the Kris Kringle Klassic at Fullerton, San Fernando State will meet Chapman in tonight's finals. San Fernando blasted Long Beach State 101-77 while Chapman took host Fullerton, 93-83. Consolation scores: Riverside 97 Sacramento State 82, Irvine 67 Redlands 65. Guard Ollie Carter of San Fernando was the day's star ith a 36-point performance.

350 Kids Compete In Basketball Tourney

About 350 boys turned out yesterday at the San Rafael High School gymnasium for the second day of action in the sixth annual youth basketball tournament, co-sponsored by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce and the San Rafael Park and Recreation Dept.

As was the case Monday, in nearly every game one or both teams found it almost impossible to put the ball in the hoop. There were some good games, however, such as the double overtime struggle won by the Coleman Raiders 10-8 over the San Pedro Barracudas in the elementary school division. Another close battle was the Davidson Golds' 24-22 victory over the Santa Venetia Falcons.

Some of the boys are finding the going a bit rough. Take the Glenwood Trotters, for instance, who were trounced Monday 23-0; yesterday they broke the scoring ice but succumbed again, 18-1. Then there was the shocking case of the Coleman Colts, who must have broken training Monday night. They had won 20-4 that day, but yesterday they played three games and fell 16-0, 16-3 and 10-1. A coaching change is rumored.

The West End Sharks finally got to play after having to settle for a forfeit the day before, but they were rusty due to the enforced layoff and lost 10-6 to the rugged Laurel Dell Gophers.

In the less frenzied world of adult recreation, where everyone breaks training to even up the teams, Ron Pedersen scored 17 to lead the Huskers past the Scats 54-40 in a B game, while the Bus Stop team clipped Marin Gardens 57-51. Mike Wroblewski of the winners and Ken Jaramillo of the losers each had 17.

North And South Coaches Excited Over Grid Talent

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Rival coaches, looking over their squads for the North-South College All-Star game in the Orange Bowl Saturday afternoon, figure they have the best material ever assembled for this affair.

"I'm just plain excited over the wonderful material we have here," said South Coach Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa. "Our only trouble might be in containing those big North linemen long enough to get passes off, but that's just what we will be trying to do."

Dobbs will have his Tulsa combination of Billy Anderson and Howard Twilley. If the North defensive backs gang up on Twilley, Anderson can throw to Bob Dunlevy of West Virginia or George Pearce from William and Mary. Dick Leftridge of West Virginia is fullback.

The South's offensive line will have Don Lynch of Duke and Sam Ball of Kentucky at tackles, Jim Vining of Rice and Tommy Lucas of Ole Miss at guards, with Tulsa's John Osmond in center.

Defenisvely, the South is "not real big but very, very fast," said assistant coach F. A. Dye.

Linebackers include Tommy Nobis of Texas, Doug Buffone of Louisville, Russ Smith of Miami and Bill Clay of Ole Miss.

Up front the South defensively will have Ed Weisacosky of Miami and Pete Lammons of Texas at ends, Ron Buschbom of Navy and Bob Kowalkowski of Virginia with middle guard Frank Bodrick of Texas.

Quarterbacks for Ara Parseghian's North team will be Don Unverforth of Ohio State and Kenny Lucas of Pittsburgh, with Sam Price, Illinois; John Kuzniewski, Purdue, and Dave McNaughton, Penn State as backs.

Receivers will include James Todd, Ball State; Dan McGinn, Notre Dame; Randy Minniear, Purdue, and Steve Smith, Michigan.

Tackles will be Bob Meeker, Notre Dame, and Karl Singer, Purdue, with guards Dick Arrington, Notre Dame, and Chuck Ehinger, Penn State. Center will be Fred Hoaglin of Pittsburgh.

Kickoff time is 4:30 p.m., EST.

Mrs. Agnew Is Turkey Winner

There was a turkey at the 18th hole at Las Gallinas yesterday, but Mrs. James L. Agnew was the only golfer to get that far in a flag tourney held by the Women's Golf Club and she took home the bird.

The tourney was held with handicaps, so the quality of golf is somewhat camouflaged in the scoring, Mrs. Agnew got to within 15 feet of the 18th before running out of strokes. Mrs. Kenneth Crawford ran out five inches from the 17th and Mrs. Richard Honey was fifteen inches farther away.

Mrs. Agnew reported that it was cold turkey, mighty cold.

Jim Mackenzie Is New Coach For Oklahoma

ma officials Monday. Others were Oregon State assistant Sam Boghosian and Gene Corrotto, Norman High School coach.

Darrell Royal of Texas, a former Oklahoma quarterback, and Vince Dooley of Georgia were offered the post earlier, but both decided to remain with their present jobs.

The all-out hunt for a new coach began Dec. 6 when Gomer Jones resigned just two days after the Sooners concluded ed a 3-7 season, worst in the school's modern history.

Green Bay's sputtering offense as 12th in total ratings, 10th in running and 11 in passing.

Both clubs are comparatively sound on defense where they are closely matched. The Packers were third in total defense, 13th against the rush and led in pass defense. Baltimore was fifth in total, fourth against the run and seventh against the pass.

The league leader in both total offense and passing as San Francisco. The 49ers piled up 5,270 yards total and 3,487 passing. Cleveland led in running offense with 2,331.

Detroit was the over-all leader in defense, permitting 3,557 yards. Los Angeles was toughest to run against, allowing 1,409 yards and Green Bay's pass defense was best with 1,981.

In the vital matter of touchdowns the 49ers and Chicago Bears scored the most, 52 each, and the Packers allowed the fewest, 22.

The best pass rush was Detroit's which smeared the passer 49 times and the best pass blocker was San Francisco which let the enemy dump its quarterback only 19 times all season.

In the individual statistics, Gale Sayers, Chicago's rookie sensation, set a record with 22 touchdowns, bettering Lennie Moore's mark by two, and led the scorers with 132 points.

Cleveland's Jimmy Brown on his eighth rushing title in nine years with 1,544 yards; Rudy Bukich of the Bears took the passing title, hitting on 176 of 312 for 2,641 yards and 20 touchdowns; Dave Parks of San Francisco topped the pass receivers with 80 for 1,344 yards and 12 touchdowns; Baltimore's Bob Boyd was first in interceptions with nine; Cleveland's Gary Collins paced the punters ith a 46.7 average; Leroy Kelly of Cleveland topped the punt return specialists with a 15.6 yard average and Detroit's Tom Watkins led the kickoff returners ith a 34.4 yard average.

No. 1 Duke Quint Whips Michigan

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Duke Blue Devils are no longer just a stepping stone to the top national ranking but are firmly at the top of the heap themselves.

Duke defeated the fifth-ranked Michigan Wolverines 100-93 last night in a high-pressure overtime game to enhance their No. 1 ranking while second-rated St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania was losing to eighth-ranked Brigham Young 103-83.

Michigan took over the top national ranking soon after defeating Duke two years ago and improved its no. 1 rating last season by defeating the Blue Devils. Duke also got to the National Collegiate Athletic Association finals two years ago only to lose the title to UCLA, a team defeated twice this season by the Blue Devils.

Finesse triumphed over brawn in Detroit last night as the diminutive Blue Devils came from far behind to whip the monsters from Michigan. Third-ranked Vanderbilt kept pace with Duke by defeating the University of California at Santa Barbara 91-64.

Brigham Young hit 56 percent of its shots from the field to completely humiliate St. Joseph's, which managed only 30 percent.

Bradley, no. 11 nationally, had unaccustomed difficulty defeating Montana 87-77 for its ninth consecutive victory without a loss, while UCLA, which tumbled from the national rankings after losing three of its first six games, scored 17 consecutive points to overcome a nine-point deficit in the first half and defeat the University of Southern California 86-67.

In other games, Loyola of Chicago defeated St. Joseph's of New Mexico 109-91, West Virginia overcame a 33-27 halftime deficit to beat Maryland 76-74, San Francisco whipped Gonzaga 80-67, Northwestern downed Texas 73-71 to win the Memphis State Classic, Davidson routed Ohio University 96-63, and Indiana easily tripped up Notre Dame 80-58.

WEST COAST BASKETBALL

Bruins Win; 7 Straight For WSU

By U.P. International

UCLA, San Francisco and Seattle have returned to the top of the heap of West Coast basketball powers as usual, but there's a stranger up there beside them.

Washington State made it seven straight last night with a 101-86 victory at tough Idaho. One of the Cougars' bevy of hot sophs, Jim McKean, led the scoring parade with 26, while Idaho's Bob Pipking had 25. Playing in an enemy gym, the Cougars still hooped 53 per cent of their shots and 87 per cent of their free throws.

Many thought Southern California might upset UCLA in their practice battle, but the Bruins scored 17 straight points late in the first half and rolled to an 86-67 win.

GOSS RETURNS

Edgar Lacey and Kenny Washington, disappointing so far in much of the early season play, flashed their best 1965-66 form with 22 and 17 points. And guard Freddie Goss returned to the team after a bout with stomach illness. He still is far from top shape, but he scored four points in seven minutes.

San Francisco was unimpressive in rolling to an 80-67 win over Gonzaga. But it still was the Dons' 26th consecutive in at home and Joe Ellis was at his flashy best as he collected 30 points. The Dons host St. Louis tonight.

STREAK SNAPPED

Seattle hosted a tough customer in Colorado State and managed to squeeze out an 83-78 win to snap a five-game win streak for the Rams. Seattle center Malkin Strong hit 26 points.

Touring San Francisco State flopped at Buffalo, 80-62, and Bradley dispatched Montana, 87-77. But Nevada appeared ready to challenge favored Chico State for the Far Western Conference crown this year after a surprising 97-96 win over Creighton in the first round of the Mississippi Valley Classic at Rock Island, Ill. Nap Montgomery scored 36 and hit the winning basket at the buzzer.

University of Washington hosted Florida and looked disappointing in losing, 66-60. Jerry Keller got 24 for the Gators, who had 24 of 31 from the free throw line while Washington hit only half of its charity losses.

Pepperdine nipped Pasadena, 97-95 behind 31 points by Tandy Holmes and San Jose State fell at Arizona State, 67-62. The Spartans are at Arizona tonight.

At the Kris Kringle Klassic at Fullerton, San Fernando State will meet Chapman in tonight's finals. San Fernando blasted Long Beach State 101-77 while Chapman took host Fullerton, 93-83. Consolation scores: Riverside 97 Sacramento State 82, Irvine 67 Redlands 65. Guard Ollie Carter of San Fernando was the day's star ith a 36-point performance.

350 Kids Compete In Basketball Tourney

About 350 boys turned out yesterday at the San Rafael High School gymnasium for the second day of action in the sixth annual youth basketball tournament, co-sponsored by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce and the San Rafael Park and Recreation Dept.

As was the case Monday, in nearly every game one or both teams found it almost impossible to put the ball in the hoop. There were some good games, however, such as the double overtime struggle won by the Coleman Raiders 10-8 over the San Pedro Barracudas in the elementary school division. Another close battle was the Davidson Golds' 24-22 victory over the Santa Venetia Falcons.

Some of the boys are finding the going a bit rough. Take the Glenwood Trotters, for instance, who were trounced Monday 23-0; yesterday they broke the scoring ice but succumbed again, 18-1. Then there was the shocking case of the Coleman Colts, who must have broken training Monday night. They had won 20-4 that day, but yesterday they played three games and fell 16-0, 16-3 and 10-1. A coaching change is rumored.

The West End Sharks finally got to play after having to settle for a forfeit the day before, but they were rusty due to the enforced layoff and lost 10-6 to the rugged Laurel Dell Gophers.

In the less frenzied world of adult recreation, where everyone breaks training to even up the teams, Ron Pedersen scored 17 to lead the Huskers past the Scats 54-40 in a B game, while the Bus Stop team clipped Marin Gardens 57-51. Mike Wroblewski of the winners and Ken Jaramillo of the losers each had 17.

North And South Coaches Excited Over Grid Talent

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Rival coaches, looking over their squads for the North-South College All-Star game in the Orange Bowl Saturday afternoon, figure they have the best material ever assembled for this affair.

"I'm just plain excited over the wonderful material we have here," said South Coach Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa. "Our only trouble might be in containing those big North linemen long enough to get passes off, but that's just what we will be trying to do."

Dobbs will have his Tulsa combination of Billy Anderson and Howard Twilley. If the North defensive backs gang up on Twilley, Anderson can throw to Bob Dunlevy of West Virginia or George Pearce from William and Mary. Dick Leftridge of West Virginia is fullback.

The South's offensive line will have Don Lynch of Duke and Sam Ball of Kentucky at tackles, Jim Vining of Rice and Tommy Lucas of Ole Miss at guards, with Tulsa's John Osmond in center.

Defenisvely, the South is "not real big but very, very fast," said assistant coach F. A. Dye.

Linebackers include Tommy Nobis of Texas, Doug Buffone of Louisville, Russ Smith of Miami and Bill Clay of Ole Miss.

Up front the South defensively will have Ed Weisacosky of Miami and Pete Lammons of Texas at ends, Ron Buschbom of Navy and Bob Kowalkowski of Virginia with middle guard Frank Bodrick of Texas.

Quarterbacks for Ara Parseghian's North team will be Don Unverforth of Ohio State and Kenny Lucas of Pittsburgh, with Sam Price, Illinois; John Kuzniewski, Purdue, and Dave McNaughton, Penn State as backs.

Tackles will be Bob Meeker, Notre Dame, and Karl Singer, Purdue, with guards Dick Arrington, Notre Dame, and Chuck Ehinger, Penn State. Center will be Fred Hoaglin of Pittsburgh.

"We're really beginning to look good now," Parseghian said after yesterday's practice.

Kickoff time is 4:30 p.m., EST.

Mrs. Agnew Is Turkey Winner

There was a turkey at the 18th hole at Las Gallinas yesterday, but Mrs. James L. Agnew was the only golfer to get that far in a flag tourney held by the Women's Golf Club and she took home the bird.

The tourney was held with handicaps, so the quality of golf is somewhat camouflaged in the scoring, Mrs. Agnew got to within 15 feet of the 18th before running out of strokes. Mrs. Kenneth Crawford ran out five inches from the 17th and Mrs. Richard Honey was fifteen inches farther away.

Mrs. Agnew reported that it was cold turkey, mighty cold.

Jim Mackenzie Is New Coach For Oklahoma

ma officials Monday. Others were Oregon State assistant Sam Boghosian and Gene Corrotto, Norman High School coach.

Darrell Royal of Texas, a former Oklahoma quarterback, and Vince Dooley of Georgia were offered the post earlier, but both decided to remain with their present jobs.

The all-out hunt for a new coach began Dec. 6 when Gomer Jones resigned just two days after the Sooners concluded ed a 3-7 season, worst in the school's modern history.

'65 Had Some Fine Moments In Sports World

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) —Looking back at 1965, there were some personal memories that they'll never be able to wring out even when they ring in the new year.

Like the last conversation with Branch Rickey that took place toward the end of January.

He had made a special trip here to help elect the late James (Pud) Galvin to baseball's hall of fame and while few knew anything about Galvin, Rickey did.

"He deserves to be enshrined," said Rickey. "Galvin pitched 649 complete games and any man who does that should be remembered for posterity." . . . .

Then there was that sunny March day in Lakeland, Fla., when a sudden halt was called to all activity in the spring training camp of the Detroit Tigers.

The players were summoned to the clubhouse and told manager Chuck Dresser had suffered a heart attack . . .

Over at Vero Beach, Fla., that same month, Sandy Koufax did some huffing and puffing after finishing 15 laps around the field.

"What I'd like most is to be able to pitch the entire year,' he said, shifting some bubble gum to the other side of his mouth, "This is my 11th year coming up. I'd like to make 15 if I can." . . . .

Still later in March, Dick Groat called the turn on the World Champion Cardinals when asked to predict where they would finish in 1965.

"I really wouldn't care to say," declared Groat at St. Petersburg, Fla. "Some kind of disease seems to have set into this league. Pittsburgh won in 1960 and finished sixth in 1961; Cincinnati won in 1961 and finished third the following year; San Francisco dropped in 1963 after winning in 1962, and then the Dodgers finished sixth in '63 after sweeping the Yankees in '62."

Groat must have known something. The Cards wound up seventh in '65 . . . .

Then it was on to Augusta, Ga., for the Masters in April and it's hard to forget the cloud of frustration that passed over Sammy Snead's face as he didn't even make the cut.

"I feel like burning my clubs," scowled Snead.

"I don't care if they don't pay a penny for winning this one," he said. "I play more for money. Financially, it doesn't mean a whole lot. . .But I'm not gonna give it back." . . .

There was that feeling of utter helplessness among those who watched catcher Johnny Blanchard cry like a baby when the Yankees traded him to the A's in May and that same month, Sonny Liston's trainer, Willie Reddish, came up with the prediction of the century two days before the title fight

Gary Player's U.S. Open victory at St. Louis in June along with his subsequent turnover of the prize money to charity was memorable enough, but even more so in my book, anyway, was the great try made by 44-year-old runnerup Kel Nagle . . .

A month later, after blowing the Insurance City Open, Dave Marr sat down in the kitchen of his apartment and told his wife he'd never win a golf tournament because "there's too much dog in me."

There were tears of happiness in Marr's eyes when he won the PGA title two weeks later at Ligonier, Pa., where he recalled the conversation with his wife.

Casey Stengel broke his hip in July only hours after friends had begged him to go home because it was getting late. Casey wouldn't leave, though. Too busy talking baseball with several of his old-timer buddies. . . .

Then came August, with Johnny Roseboro wondering whatever possessed Juan Marichal to konk him over the head with a bat, and that episode was followed by Manuel Santana's national singles' tennis victory at Forest Hills in September.

Koufax monopolized the month of October although there was a momentary interlude during which Leo Durocher was named manager of the Cubs.

That man Clay was back again in November and it wasn't enough that he beat Floyd Patterson, but then everyone had to listen to how he did it. . . .

Before the year was out, baseball introduced a new commissioner and the White Sox a new manager. Everyone had heard of the manager before but no one had heard of the commissioner. And that's the kind of year it was.

Marin PAL Wants Full Sports Year

Marin Police Athletic League members, in a rejuvenation effort, are investigating a mutual assistance program to work with city park and recreation commissions and other youth groups in the county toward a year-around sports calendar.

Boxing, wrestling, judo and weight lifting have been suggested as sports to concentrate upon. A "sports night" has been suggested to be held twice a year in cities such as San Rafael, Novato and Mill Valley with proceeds to go into the league's treasury.

Such sports need only individual participation and would probably reach more youths than teams of football players, the membership agreed, according to report made yesterday by PAL Secretary Norman Snellgrove.

TROUBLES

The police-supervised county-wide youth program, now a year old, was formed to work with youngsters who have had minor troubles with the law, schools or their families. The two main activities supported this year were a Marin City baseball team for teen-age boys and sponsorship of an old-time vaudeville show which brought in $1,500 to be used for operating expenses.

Team sports have not been ruled out and are to be discussed at another meeting of the league. The board of directors will meet next at 11:30 a.m., Jan. 14, at Zacks-by-the-Bay, Sausalito.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Leonard Lyons, an officer at San Quentin Prison, has been named athletic director and persons with coaching experience, PAL members or not, are encouraged to get in touch with Lyons if they wish to help out, said Snellgrove.

Lt. William Porter, California highway patrolman, is newly elected league president, taking over duties from Herbert Smith, former Sausalito patrolman. Other new officers are Harvey Teague, sheriff's department, vice president; Harvey Zion, Corte Madera Police Department, treasurer, and Snellgrove, of San Quentin, secretary.

Donald E. Midyett, Robert Coppock, Richard Douglas and Teague comprise the board of directors.

Drag Winners

WATERMELON MEN OF NORTH

It looks as if Don Unverferth (left) of Ohio State and Kenny Lucas of Pittsburgh will be throwing watermelons for the North against the South in the annual Christmas Day Shrine game in Miami. Actually, those are footballs and neither they nor the quarterbacks' hands are as large as the angle of this photograph would suggest. Unverferth and Lucas will pose large problems for the South defense, however.

McCone Report Left Out Talk Of Tighter Gun Laws

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The recently released McCone Commission report on last August's Watts riots, in one respect, is like the 1957 Booz, Allen and Hamilton study and report on the fish and game department and commission—it was so expensive there's not likely to be another one.

The McCone report had a price tag of $250,000 and, with 88 pages in the text, this figured out to a little better than $2,840 per page.

Perhaps the most interesting reading to the sportsman in the McCone report is what is not written. This is the fact that the report contains no recommendations or conclusions as far as firearm control regulations are concerned.

In his charge to the commission, Gov. Edmund G. Brown included one subsection for a suggested study area: "The weapons used and how they were obtained."

The fires of Watts scarcely had stopped burning before some do-gooders and politicians were attempting to use the outbreak as an argument for stiffer firearms control. This generally was on two scores: (1) Many of the rioters had guns, including rifles used by snipers; and (2) many of the citizenry, including business people, purchased guns for self-protection.

About the only specific mention of guns in the report appears on page 25:

"The police and sheriff's department have long known that many members of gangs, as well as others, in the south central area possessed weapons and knew how to use them. However, the extent to which pawn shops, each one of which possessed an inventory of weapons, were the immediate target of looters, leads to the conclusion that a substantial number of the weapons used were stolen from these shops. During the riots, law enforcement officers recovered 851 weapons."

The report said there were 3,952 adult and juvenile arrests during the riots. Of this total, 2,461 had prior criminal records — 1,376 of minor natures and 1,085 of major, or felony, conviction natures.

The McCone report would indicate its conclusions that a number of guns were owned illegally by the "gangs." The large number of criminal records attached to the persons arrested would indicate this as most of them could not own weapons legally under present laws.

The report also would indicate that present laws exercise a pretty good control over sale and possession of firearms in that the pawn shops were the early victims of looters.

The commission, with its apparent preoccupation in determining the disadvantages that caused the 10,000 persons to riot and means of spending money and offering programs to correct these disadvantages, did not offer any objections to private citizens' arming themselves for self-protection.

It is interesting to note, too, that investigators from the committee of Sen. Thomas Dodd were in the Watts area shortly after the riots, no doubt looking for ammunition for their publicity campaign for Dodd's highly restrictive gun bill. But they left without holding a hearing.

The Slow Clock At Kezar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The officials acted correctly last Sunday, in ending the Green Bay-San Francisco game with two seconds showing on the scoreboard clock, according to Mark Duncan, chief of National Football League officials.

The 49ers had taken over the ball with seven seconds showing on the clock after a punt return went out of bounds on the Green Bay Packer 46-yard line.

The 49ers tried a pass that sailed out of bounds incomplete. The gun went off as the San Francisco field goal team shuffled onto the field. The game ended in a 24-24 tie that forced a playoff this Sunday between the Baltimore Colts and Green Bay for the right to meet the Eastern Conference champion Cleveland Browns for the NFL championship.

"The reason the gun blast was delayed," explained Duncan, who was at the game, "was that our rules provide for no firing until the play is dead and it is determined that no foul has been committed."

The delay was caused because line judge Charles Heberling, who fired the gun, had to find referee Art McNally to make sure there was no penalty on the pass play, Duncan said. Players and fans were milling around and on the field.

"The scoreboard clock is not official in the NFL. Time is kept at a table near the sidelines. The fourth quarter had ended with the pass in the air.

"You can see what would happen if there was a rule infraction," Duncan said. "There's no telling what would happen if we tried to clear the field for one more play."

If the 49ers had made a field goal, Baltimore would have won the Western Conference title outright. But 49er Tommy Davis would have had to put it through from about 51 yards away with a strong wind blowing against him.

'65 Had Some Fine Moments In Sports World

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) —Looking back at 1965, there were some personal memories that they'll never be able to wring out even when they ring in the new year.

Like the last conversation with Branch Rickey that took place toward the end of January.

He had made a special trip here to help elect the late James (Pud) Galvin to baseball's hall of fame and while few knew anything about Galvin, Rickey did.

"He deserves to be enshrined," said Rickey. "Galvin pitched 649 complete games and any man who does that should be remembered for posterity." . . . .

Then there was that sunny March day in Lakeland, Fla., when a sudden halt was called to all activity in the spring training camp of the Detroit Tigers.

The players were summoned to the clubhouse and told manager Chuck Dresser had suffered a heart attack . . .

Over at Vero Beach, Fla., that same month, Sandy Koufax did some huffing and puffing after finishing 15 laps around the field.

"What I'd like most is to be able to pitch the entire year,' he said, shifting some bubble gum to the other side of his mouth, "This is my 11th year coming up. I'd like to make 15 if I can." . . . .

Still later in March, Dick Groat called the turn on the World Champion Cardinals when asked to predict where they would finish in 1965.

"I really wouldn't care to say," declared Groat at St. Petersburg, Fla. "Some kind of disease seems to have set into this league. Pittsburgh won in 1960 and finished sixth in 1961; Cincinnati won in 1961 and finished third the following year; San Francisco dropped in 1963 after winning in 1962, and then the Dodgers finished sixth in '63 after sweeping the Yankees in '62."

Groat must have known something. The Cards wound up seventh in '65 . . . .

Then it was on to Augusta, Ga., for the Masters in April and it's hard to forget the cloud of frustration that passed over Sammy Snead's face as he didn't even make the cut.

"I feel like burning my clubs," scowled Snead.

"I don't care if they don't pay a penny for winning this one," he said. "I play more for money. Financially, it doesn't mean a whole lot. . .But I'm not gonna give it back." . . .

There was that feeling of utter helplessness among those who watched catcher Johnny Blanchard cry like a baby when the Yankees traded him to the A's in May and that same month, Sonny Liston's trainer, Willie Reddish, came up with the prediction of the century two days before the title fight

Gary Player's U.S. Open victory at St. Louis in June along with his subsequent turnover of the prize money to charity was memorable enough, but even more so in my book, anyway, was the great try made by 44-year-old runnerup Kel Nagle . . .

A month later, after blowing the Insurance City Open, Dave Marr sat down in the kitchen of his apartment and told his wife he'd never win a golf tournament because "there's too much dog in me."

There were tears of happiness in Marr's eyes when he won the PGA title two weeks later at Ligonier, Pa., where he recalled the conversation with his wife.

Casey Stengel broke his hip in July only hours after friends had begged him to go home because it was getting late. Casey wouldn't leave, though. Too busy talking baseball with several of his old-timer buddies. . . .

Then came August, with Johnny Roseboro wondering whatever possessed Juan Marichal to konk him over the head with a bat, and that episode was followed by Manuel Santana's national singles' tennis victory at Forest Hills in September.

Koufax monopolized the month of October although there was a momentary interlude during which Leo Durocher was named manager of the Cubs.

That man Clay was back again in November and it wasn't enough that he beat Floyd Patterson, but then everyone had to listen to how he did it. . . .

Before the year was out, baseball introduced a new commissioner and the White Sox a new manager. Everyone had heard of the manager before but no one had heard of the commissioner. And that's the kind of year it was.

Marin PAL Wants Full Sports Year

Marin Police Athletic League members, in a rejuvenation effort, are investigating a mutual assistance program to work with city park and recreation commissions and other youth groups in the county toward a year-around sports calendar.

Boxing, wrestling, judo and weight lifting have been suggested as sports to concentrate upon. A "sports night" has been suggested to be held twice a year in cities such as San Rafael, Novato and Mill Valley with proceeds to go into the league's treasury.

Such sports need only individual participation and would probably reach more youths than teams of football players, the membership agreed, according to report made yesterday by PAL Secretary Norman Snellgrove.

TROUBLES

The police-supervised county-wide youth program, now a year old, was formed to work with youngsters who have had minor troubles with the law, schools or their families. The two main activities supported this year were a Marin City baseball team for teen-age boys and sponsorship of an old-time vaudeville show which brought in $1,500 to be used for operating expenses.

Team sports have not been ruled out and are to be discussed at another meeting of the league. The board of directors will meet next at 11:30 a.m., Jan. 14, at Zacks-by-the-Bay, Sausalito.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Leonard Lyons, an officer at San Quentin Prison, has been named athletic director and persons with coaching experience, PAL members or not, are encouraged to get in touch with Lyons if they wish to help out, said Snellgrove.

Lt. William Porter, California highway patrolman, is newly elected league president, taking over duties from Herbert Smith, former Sausalito patrolman. Other new officers are Harvey Teague, sheriff's department, vice president; Harvey Zion, Corte Madera Police Department, treasurer, and Snellgrove, of San Quentin, secretary.

Donald E. Midyett, Robert Coppock, Richard Douglas and Teague comprise the board of directors.

Drag Winners

WATERMELON MEN OF NORTH

It looks as if Don Unverferth (left) of Ohio State and Kenny Lucas of Pittsburgh will be throwing watermelons for the North against the South in the annual Christmas Day Shrine game in Miami. Actually, those are footballs and neither they nor the quarterbacks' hands are as large as the angle of this photograph would suggest. Unverferth and Lucas will pose large problems for the South defense, however.

McCone Report Left Out Talk Of Tighter Gun Laws

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

Independent-Journal Sports

Dec. 22, 1965 31

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The recently released McCone Commission report on last August's Watts riots, in one respect, is like the 1957 Booz, Allen and Hamilton study and report on the fish and game department and commission—it was so expensive there's not likely to be another one.

The McCone report had a price tag of $250,000 and, with 88 pages in the text, this figured out to a little better than $2,840 per page.

Perhaps the most interesting reading to the sportsman in the McCone report is what is not written. This is the fact that the report contains no recommendations or conclusions as far as firearm control regulations are concerned.

In his charge to the commission, Gov. Edmund G. Brown included one subsection for a suggested study area: "The weapons used and how they were obtained."

The fires of Watts scarcely had stopped burning before some do-gooders and politicians were attempting to use the outbreak as an argument for stiffer firearms control. This generally was on two scores: (1) Many of the rioters had guns, including rifles used by snipers; and (2) many of the citizenry, including business people, purchased guns for self-protection.

The McCone commission, during its 100-day study, must have heard considerable about the use of firearms. Yet its many recommendations for action programs to prevent future outbreaks in Watts or elsewhere made no mention of the need for any tighter laws governing sale, possession or ownership of firearms.

About the only specific mention of guns in the report appears on page 25:

"The police and sheriff's department have long known that many members of gangs, as well as others, in the south central area possessed weapons and knew how to use them. However, the extent to which pawn shops, each one of which possessed an inventory of weapons, were the immediate target of looters, leads to the conclusion that a substantial number of the weapons used were stolen from these shops. During the riots, law enforcement officers recovered 851 weapons."

The report said there were 3,952 adult and juvenile arrests during the riots. Of this total, 2,461 had prior criminal records — 1,376 of minor natures and 1,085 of major, or felony, conviction natures.

The McCone report would indicate its conclusions that a number of guns were owned illegally by the "gangs." The large number of criminal records attached to the persons arrested would indicate this as most of them could not own weapons legally under present laws.

The report also would indicate that present laws exercise a pretty good control over sale and possession of firearms in that the pawn shops were the early victims of looters.

The commission, with its apparent preoccupation in determining the disadvantages that caused the 10,000 persons to riot and means of spending money and offering programs to correct these disadvantages, did not offer any objections to private citizens' arming themselves for self-protection.

It is interesting to note, too, that investigators from the committee of Sen. Thomas Dodd were in the Watts area shortly after the riots, no doubt looking for ammunition for their publicity campaign for Dodd's highly restrictive gun bill. But they left without holding a hearing.

Income Going Into Savings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are putting most of their excess income into bank savings rather than the stock market.

A Securities and Exchange Commission report covering the July-September period revealed that pattern.

During that quarter individual savings set a post-World War II record of $10.7 billion. The previous peak was $8.5 billion in the final quarter of 1964.

There was a $7.9-billion increase in bank deposits and a $2-billion increase in loans incurred for the purpose of purchasing securities.

Blue Chips Help Push Stock Average Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today but held only a fraction of its best gains.

Selected blue chips pushed averages toward a record high but sharp selling in aerospace and airline issues brought steep losses to many recent gainers in these groups.

Reports of a Christmas truce in Viet Nam may have caused selling which slashed the best gains, brokers said, but these reports could not immediately be authenticated.

Some high quality issues such as American Telephone, which have been treated like step-children for many weeks, showed strength while the erstwhile glamour stocks in aerospace, electronics and airlines ere sold heavily.

Chrysler was the outstanding gainer among motors and was actively traded.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9 million shares compared with 8.24 million yesterday.

Steels resumed their rally, with Bethlehem up 1 and Lukens about 3. Most auto shares moved upward although Ford eased.

Gains of a point or better were made by American Telephone, Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper, Illinois Central and Phelps Dodge.

Aerospace issues were very weak. Boeing lost 5, Douglas Aircraft 4, General Dynamics and United Aircraft 3 each. Lockheed, a 1-point gainer on contract news, trimmed its advance.

Quaker States Oil was up nearly 3. Ahead around 2 were American Smelting, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Swift, Singer and Reynolds Metals.

IBM ran up half a dozen points. Texas Instruments was a 6-point loser. National Steel gained 3.

McDonnell Aircraft sank 3 points.

Prices were mixed in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

ON BOARD—Samuel N. Mercer of 42 Spring Lane, Tiburon, has been elected to the board of directors of the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau. Mercer is vice president of passenger traffic for American President Lines.

Income Going Into Savings

A Securities and Exchange Commission report covering the July-September period revealed that pattern.

During that quarter individual savings set a post-World War II record of $10.7 billion. The previous peak was $8.5 billion in the final quarter of 1964.

There was a $7.9-billion increase in bank deposits and a $2-billion increase in loans incurred for the purpose of purchasing securities.

Blue Chips Help Push Stock Average Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today but held only a fraction of its best gains.

Selected blue chips pushed averages toward a record high but sharp selling in aerospace and airline issues brought steep losses to many recent gainers in these groups.

Reports of a Christmas truce in Viet Nam may have caused selling which slashed the best gains, brokers said, but these reports could not immediately be authenticated.

Some high quality issues such as American Telephone, which have been treated like step-children for many weeks, showed strength while the erstwhile glamour stocks in aerospace, electronics and airlines ere sold heavily.

Chrysler was the outstanding gainer among motors and was actively traded.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9 million shares compared with 8.24 million yesterday.

Steels resumed their rally, with Bethlehem up 1 and Lukens about 3. Most auto shares moved upward although Ford eased.

Gains of a point or better were made by American Telephone, Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper, Illinois Central and Phelps Dodge.

Aerospace issues were very weak. Boeing lost 5, Douglas Aircraft 4, General Dynamics and United Aircraft 3 each. Lockheed, a 1-point gainer on contract news, trimmed its advance.

Quaker States Oil was up nearly 3. Ahead around 2 were American Smelting, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Swift, Singer and Reynolds Metals.

IBM ran up half a dozen points. Texas Instruments was a 6-point loser. National Steel gained 3.

McDonnell Aircraft sank 3 points.

Lowest Hall Of Justice Bid Is Half Million Dollars High

'MAIN FLOOR: GIFTS, LINENS, WEDDINGS'

Their romance had its ups and downs after elevator repairman Robert McClure, 39, met elevator operator Lea Bonham, 27, a year ago. Naturally, they were married last night in the elevator of a department store in Riverside, Calif. The rites were performed by Rev. Jack Perkins a part-time Santa in the store—as the bride and bridegroom, best man and maid of honor crowded into the elevator, and friends watched from the store's main floor. (UPI Telephoto)

Imogene McNear Dies Unexpectedly

Mrs. Imogene C. McNear of San Rafael, socially prominent wife of brick company owner Lawrence P. McNear, died unexpectedly at home this morning. She was 64.

A member of the pioneer Cheney family of Sonoma County, Mrs. McNear was born in Sebastopol. She studied nursing at University of California at Berkeley and San Francisco in the mid-1920s, and came within a few weeks of graduation, but chose marriage over a degree. She wed McNear and left school due to a rule against married nursing students.

Her interest in nursing, however, continued throughout her life. She was active in the founding of volunteer and service groups at Marin General Hospital, San Rafael General Hospital, and Ross Hospital.

In 1962, the San Rafael hospital's volunteers honored her for organizing the group in 1958. She was named honorary president of the volunteers.

She has also been active in the Girl Scouts, San Rafael Guild of Sunny Hills and the Northgate Group of the Marin Art and Garden Center.

Mrs. McNear was corresponding secretary of the Marin Charitable Foundation, which sponsored last night's annual Marin Debutante Ball. She was unable to attend the ball because she felt ill. Her family believed her to be suffering from a temporary virus attack, but she became worse and died at 6:40 a.m. today.

She lived at McNear's Point the family-owned plant, which produces bricks and other building materials. Sale of family property to form the Peacock Gap development led her to an interest in the area's history. She had written many historical articles for the Peacock, published by Peacock Gap Country Club.

IMOGENE C. McNEAR
Death unexpected

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Lawrence P. and John E. McNear, of San Rafael; two sisters, Mrs. Dora Farley of San Rafael and Mrs. Dell Eykyn of Denver; a brother, Harold Cheney of San Francisco, and six grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael. Inurnment will be private.

Tributes may be donations to the Carole Farley Memorial Fund at San Rafael General Hospital, or to St. Paul's Church.

County, Architect Will Study 5 Bids

Bids on the hall of justice addition to the Marin County Civic Center exceeded everyone's expectations yesterday, with the lowest of five base bids coming in a half million dollars over the architect's most recent estimate.

Lowest base bid was $9,529,000 by Haas and Haynie of San Francisco. Resident architect Aaron Green of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation had estimated the job at $9,011,500.

The bids, opened by Marin County supervisors yesterday, do not include furnishing of the building or landscaping of the grounds. The entire addition, to include a jail, 10 courtrooms and other county offices now at the courthouse, will cost close to $12 million.

Bid separately yesterday was the site development job. Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick, builders of the present administration building at the Civic Center, jointly with Williams and Burrows, Inc., of San Francisco submitted the low site development bid at $485,568.

Green, however, said the contractors had the option of refusing the contract since their site development bid was submitted with a construction bid.

OTHER BIDS

Supervisors also opened 21 alternate bids, most of which would increase the cost through use of higher quality materials. All bids were referred to the Marin Department of Public Works and Green for study, with a recommendation expected in about three weeks.

Before bids were opened, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell told the board that $223,969 was budgeted for site development and $8,953,000 for construction.

This assumes $399,000 to be raised in property taxes toward the project and $1.4 million from sale of the courthouse property.

The five base bids compared with the architect's $9,011,500 estimate were:

BID COMPARISON

Haas and Haynie, $9,529,000; Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick with Williams and Burrows, $9,575,000; Carl W. Olson and Sons Co. of San Mateo, $9,668,000; Robert E. McKee, Inc. of Glendale, $9,730,000; Donald M. Drake Co. of San Francisco, $10,338,000.

The site development bids, compared with the public works department estimate of $500,000, were:

Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick with Williams and Burrows, Inc., $484,568; Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael, $503,761.75; Maggiora, Ghilotti and Madsen of Corte Madera, $625,013.70; O. C. Jones and Sons of Berkeley, $719,796; Carl W. Olson and Sons Co., $756,757.

JOHN MARTIN DOUGLAS
To promote industry

AMID 'BLACKMAIL' CRY

By RICHARD LYTTLE

After a long argument in which one supervisor accused another of trying to "blackmail" votes, after a 3-1 vote, and well after 7:30 p.m. yesterday, the County of Marin acquired a director of economic development.

He is John Martin Douglas, 50, of San Rafael, until recently San Francisco branch industrial manager for Honeywell, Inc. He will receive $15,600 a year, $2,400 more than supervisors agreed upon in setting up the position last budget session.

The blackmail accusation was leveled at Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen by Supervisor Peter H. Behr. Kettenhofen declared that he would not vote to create a county department of economic development until industrial zoning proposed in the Marincello master plan was assured. He said he would change his position if fellow board members would agree not to reduce industrial acreage in Marincello.

"That's a form of blackmail that I resent," Behr declared.

Last Friday supervisors asked that the planning commission study the advisibility of industrial zoning on 70 acres in Marincello next to the proposed Golden Gate Headlands state park.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker told Kettenhofen he intended to keep an open mind to the planning commission's recommendations.

Leydecker moved that the department of economic development, intended to improve the county tax base through tourism and industry, be created. Behr seconded the motion.

By then, however, Supervisor William A. Gnoss had left the meeting, and the vote appeared headed for a 2-2 deadlock with Supervisor Thomas T. Storer voting "no" on the grounds that Gnoss should be present for such a decision.

Leydecker withdrew the motion before the vote was completed, saying further delay in creating the department would mean losing qualified candidates

Christmas Truce Left Up To Field Command

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas White House said flatly today that any Christmas pause in bombings of North Viet Nam would be decided in Saigon — not by President Johnson.

Joseph Laitin, assistant press secretary, was asked at White House press headquarters here whether Johnson was considering a holiday pause in bombings.

"That's a matter to be decided in Saigon, as the secretary of state has already said," Laitin replied.

In Washington the United States and South Viet Nam were reported planning a Christmas lull in the war to the extent that the Communists are willing to go along and refrain from shooting on their side.

The Communist forces broadcast two weeks ago a suggestion for a truce in the fighting on the night before Christmas. If both sides stop shooting, there could be an effective truce even though no formal cease-fire agreement is likely.

The Communist call was for a 12-hour cease-fire beginning on Christmas Eve and lasting until Christmas morning. Apparently the United States and South Viet Nam plan a 24-hour cessation of hostilities on their side provided that the Communists do not initiate offensive actions.

Sources said that a formal acceptance would be highly unlikely since the Communist proposal came in a radio broadcast, rather than through diplomatic channels.

A State Department spokesman said then that the real Christmas present for the world would be peace negotiations on Viet Nam. At the same time, U.S. officials showed no desire

Statue Again Stolen From Creche At Hub

San Anselmo's Christmas spirit was clouded today.

Police and firemen discovered that, for the second time in less than a week, someone has stolen a statuette of the Little Lord Jesus away from his manger on the front lawn of San Anselmo's City Hall.

Fire Capt. William Souza said he found the Christ Child tucked safely in the hay just before he went to bed at 1 a.m. by 7:30 a.m., the figure was missing.

Thieves snatched a similar figurine, donated this year by the chamber of commerce, from the same Nativity scene early Saturday. Today, they took the city's only remaining statuette of the infant.

Fire Chief Frank Souza said he does not know whether the city will replace the figure.

"I don't know if it's worth replacing if they are just going to steal them," he said. "We've been putting that Nativity scene out there for 25 years. All these years it's never been touched, before now. I don't know why anybody in his right mind would want to steal him."

Humbug Arsonist Burns Up Santa

Fire destroyed a paper-stuffed Santa figure in the yard of R. Keith Dearth at 121 Circle Road, Los Ranchitos, shortly before 2 a.m. today, Marin County firemen reported.

The figure had been doused with gasoline, firemen said, and a trail of gas across the lawn acted as a fuse.

Jack Frost Relenting As Christmas Nears

Marin's Christmas may be a bit less frosty than was feared.

The temperature in San Rafael today failed to drop to the freezing point for the first time in a week. Low temperature was 35 degrees.

There was frost again in Novato, Point Reyes Station and Woodacre, all of which dropped to 32. But temperatures rose sharply during the morning. Noon reading in San Rafael was 53 degrees, 16 degrees above yesterday's temperature at the same hour.

It was about time, commented Pacific Gas and Electric Co. officials. The company reported an all-time record for gas output in a single hour in the San Rafael area between 8 and 9 a.m. yesterday. Marin residents were using nearly twice as much gas this week as they did last year at this time, say Guy E. Pannyhill, division gas superintendent.

Marin Municipal Water District reported several cases of water pipes broken by freezing in the San Geronimo Valley.

Highway Patrol Vows Drunken Driving War

He called the tipsy motorist the "No. 1 enemy of all motorists" and "therefore all 62 patrol areas throughout the state will deploy their manpower to meet anticipated problems."

Now It'll Be Wigs

TURIN, Italy (UPI) — Giovanni Gentile, 29, received a 10-month suspended sentence yesterday for shaving his wife's head. He told the Turin Court that he did it when he discovered she had spent most of his $32 unemployment subsidy at the hairdressers.

Creek Project Is Attacked; Session Set For Defenders

The $1.3 million Corte Madera Creek flood control project drew strong attack and weak defense in a three-hour hearing before Marin County supervisors yesterday.

After listening to several residents of Greenbrae Broadwalk, some of whom stand to lose their homes to the project, supervisors continued the discussion until 8 p.m. Jan. 11.

At that time, the board hopes that a representative of the Army Corps of Engineers will be on hand to explain and defend the project.

First phase of the work would extend from Bon Air Bridge south to the mouth of the creek.

Ann McCorry, a resident of Greenbrae Boardwalk and a member of the newly created Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Advisory Board, said the project would do nothing to cure flood problems farther up the creek. She said it appeared to benefit only large land owners by deepening the existing channel and making fill of marshlands more feasible.

She also questioned the equity of leaving Ross, San Anselmo and Fairfax out of the district, even though the cities will contribute to maintenance cost

A U.S. spokesman announced last night that Mary Helen Battle, 25, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was arrested in East Berlin Nov. 24. Stange said she was being held on suspicion of "aiding flight from the East German republic."

Stange said that five of the escape incidents of which the two men were accused were successful but the other four were not.

Commons Backs Rhodesia Policy

LONDON (AP) — A foreign policy debate in the House of Commons ended in triumph for Prime Minister Harold Wilson last night and split the Conservative opposition.

The Conservatives divided over the Labor government's Rhodesia policy. Wilson's announcement that he plans to meet Soviet leaders in Moscow in February silenced critics of his own party who accuse him of too much support for the American stand in Viet Nam.

By a vote of 299-272, the House defeated a Conservative motion to restrict economic sanctions against Rhodesia.

RED CHINA VISITED

Nation Prepares For U. S. Attack

(EDITOR'S NOTE—U.S. reporters are barred from Red China. The writer of this dispatch, a Briton who lives in Palo Alto, Calif., has been there four times and has made films and written two books favorable to the country. This dispatch is presented to show the situation in China as he observed it on his latest trip).

By FELIX GREENE
Distributed by Associated Press

LONDON (AP) — The government in Peking is convinced that a U.S. attack on China has become highly probable.

I was not told this by Mao Tze-tung or Chou En-lai, but after five weeks of recent travel through Communist China, I find this conclusion inescapable.

There is evidence that the people are being prepared for a major confrontation.

Chen-yi, the foreign minister, declared last September:

"It is up to the U.S. President and the Pentagon to decide whether the United States wants a big war with China."

If the United States is determined to launch a war, he said, "they are welcome to come sooner — to come as early as tomorrow."

Empty bombast?

I don't think so.

Behind this "Come on, we're waiting for you," challenge is the belief that the United States if it faces an impasse in Viet Nam and is unready to concede defeat — may, against its better military judgment, attempt to find a solution by widening the area of conflict.

Wherever I went in China I saw young people drilling and taking target practice. The civilian militiaman has been reactivated and extended so that almost every 18-to 40, women as well as men, is in training.

As a result, China today can mount the greatest defense-in-depth that the world has ever seen.

Britain's Field Marshal Lord Montgomery was in China in 1960. After seeing the country's civilian militia he laid down a cardinal rule of war — never commit an army to fight on the mainland of China.

The civilian militia has since been greatly extended.

Yet with all this drilling the Chinese are not in what would be called a "militaristic" mood.

There is none of this in China today.

I have been to China four times in recent years. I have never seen them more militantly prepared yet more relaxed than they are today.

The people walking in the streets, or strolling through the parks, were more at ease and certainly less suspicious of a foreigner like myself, than I have ever seen them.

Part of the reason is that after years of difficulties, things are improving greatly in China.

Two years ago they were just pulling out of the lean years — the food shortages and industrial setbacks of 1960-62.

Today there were no signs of food shortages. Food stores have ample supplies. Meat is no longer rationed and seemed to be plentiful. Rice and wheat still are rationed, but the rations are generous and are not normally fully used.

Peking has imported several hundred million dollars worth of wheat.

The department stores are crowded and in the larger cities special stores have been opened for children's clothes and toys. For a year or more "quality" has been stressed in factories. Bicycles are up to Western standards and have come down appreciably in price since 1963. Streets are crowded with them.

Though there is certainly no traffic problem, there are many more automobiles on the streets than two years ago. As taxis become more available, pedicabs are being withdrawn.

From what I have seen I believe that within a few years China will need to import only a relatively small amount of the more advanced machinery and equipment.

RUSS, U.N. CLASH AS U.N. ADJOURN

Long General Assembly Session Unable To Solve Disarmament, Finance Issues

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly concluded its 20th session early today after a U.S.-Soviet clash on Viet Nam marred its closing hours.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko accused the United States of escalating the Viet Nam war, using toxic substances and stepping up "savage bombings."

Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg called the charges unwarranted and unfounded. He accused Fedorenko of "violating the most elementary good taste" by injecting cold war issues into the final hours of the three-month session.

"I believe many delegations share my feelings of outrage," he said.

The clash followed approval of a resolution calling on all countries to refrain from intervening in the internal affairs of other nations, either directly or by subversion and terrorism. The vote was 109-0. Britain abstained.

This proposal, originally advanced by the Soviet Union, was aimed at U.S. policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. The references to subversion were written in by Western supporters, and Goldberg said the proposal had backfired on the Russians.

In many ways, the 20th session was reminiscent of the cold war days of Stalin. There was a difference, however.

Although the Soviet Union attacked the United States on many issues, there was a widespread feeling that the attacks were mainly for public show. Only Cuba and Albania among the Communist countries appeared to attack with vigor.

There was a brief note of East-West harmony in the final meeting when the assembly approved by acclamation an appeal to Communist and non-Communist nations of Europe "to intensify their efforts to improve reciprocal relations."

U.N. diplomats did not conceal their disappointment in the failure of the assembly to find a formula for financing future peacekeeping operations.

There were also no signs that the great powers were prepared to pledge the big contributions needed to liquidate the $100-million deficit already faced by the United Nations as a result of the refusal of the Soviet Union, France and other countries to pay past peacekeeping assessments.

In the final hours, the Soviet Union abstained on the vote approving the orld organization's $121-million budget for 1966 and warned that it would not pay its assessments for a half dozen items including interest on U.N. bonds and U.N. missions in Korea.

Presidential Family Goes To The Ranch

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and his family gathered at the old homestead in the Texas hill country today to celebrate Mrs. Johnson's 53rd birthday.

Johnson faced a heavy work load putting final touches on the new budget that will go to Congress next month.

Flying to Texas with the President and Mrs. Johnson were their daughters, Lynda, 21, and Luci, 18.

Mrs. Johnson expressed the hope of getting some relaxation after three strenuous weeks of preparing for and receiving distinguished visitors from abroad — President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan, Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Great Britain and Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany.

Johnson, still recuperating from Oct. 8 gall bladder-kidney stone surgery, hoped to get in another measure of relaxation during his holiday stay before the heavy schedule that will await him when Congress reconvenes Jan. 10.

Air Force Puzzling Over Titan' Failure

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — An Air Force investigative team probes through mountains of data today to learn why the upper stage of a Titan 3 rocket flubbed a final critical maneuver, failing to drive four satellites into their proper orbit.

At stake is a possible delay in the next Titan 3 launch, now scheduled to spread eight military communications satellites at various locations in space sometime in February.

Yesterday's failure came at the end of a complex six-hour flight and marred what otherwise had been a perfect mission yesterday.

The hefty Titan 3 successfully hoisted its 954-pound bundle of satellites into a looping orbit ranging from 120 to 20,900 miles above the earth.

Slightly more than six hours after the 6 a.m. PST liftoff, however, the upper stage — called a transtage — was supposed to restart and make the orbit a 21,000-mile-high circle.

Instead, the transtage failed to restart, and three of the four satellites went into the wrong orbit.

The Air Force said it did not know whether a fourth satellite, which was supposed to study the sun, had been released or not. At any rate, it wasn't working.

Two satellites designed to test future communications systems were sprung into the looping orbit, along with a third satellite, called Oscar 4, which beeps the signal "hi" to ham radio operators. Oscar 4 is also equipped to handle some voice communication between ham operators.

In Los Altos, Calif., a group of spare-time scientists announced it had made contact with Oscar Because of the nature of the satellites, however, they were built to function at the 21,000-mile-high circular orbit.

Dominican Capital Echoes Again To Deadly Shooting

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Gunfire echoed through the streets of the strife-torn Dominican capital last night and early today on the fourth day of an outbreak of sporadic violence which has taken a toll of at least 29 lives.

There was no immediate report of new casualties or of heavy fighting. So far as was known, no U.S. troops were involved in the overnight firing.

Union leaders agreed yesterday to postpone a threatened "general strike" for 72 hours to give Provisional President Hector Garcia Godoy time to investigate the air force attack on rebel leaders in Santiago Sunday.

The unions are demanding the dismissal of the military leaders they blame for the Santiago attack and the withdrawal from the country of the U.S. and other foreign troops who have been policing the nation.

Twenty-six persons were reported killed in the Santiago fighting, and two policemen were shot and killed by mobs here that same day. A teenager was killed in renewed rioting in Santo Domingo Monday.

Ex-Lawmaker Pardoned, Seeks Money

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Former Rep. Frank Boykin, joyful over his pardon from President Johnson, says he now hopes to recover the $40,000 fine he paid when convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States in violating conflict - of - interest laws.

"I thought all along that right would prevail," the 80-year-old Boykin said Tuesday. "And now it has. I was not worried, because I knew I had done nothing wrong. I'm very happy."

Boykin was fined $40,000 and sentenced to six months probation after he was convicted on eight counts in the U.S. District Court in Baltimore, Md., Oct. 7, 1963. He had been accused of attempting to influence the Justice Department in handling mail fraud charges in a savings and loan case.

Boykin, now active in the lumber and land business in Mobile after a 28-year career in Congress, was not given a prison sentence in view of his age.

The pardon was signed by Johnson last Friday and made effective as of Monday. The Justice Department said the former Democratic congressman has a serious heart condition and high blood pressure.

Million-Dollar Malpractice Suit Names Judge's Kin

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A $1 million malpractice suit against attorney Edward Mosk, brother of California Supreme Court Justice Stanley Mosk, was under consideration today by the District Court of Appeal.

The suit, filed by Monte Lee, charges that Edward Mosk and his partner, Norman Rudman, were "careless and negligent" in defending him against a Metro - Goldyn - Mayer, Inc., action in which MGM tried to prevent Lee from using the words "wonderful world" in a film production.

MGM filed the suit in 1961 against Monte Lee Enterprises to keep Lee from advertising a movie titled "Grimm's Fairy Tales" as "the Wonderful World of the Grimm Brothers."

MGM contended that such advertising would harm a film it planned to produce titled "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm."

The suit never came to trial.

Lee has contended that because of the MGM action, his film never was distributed, although MGM did make and distribute its picture.

In his suit, Lee asks $650,000 he contends he lost from not distributing the film and another $350,000 he claims he would have received from merchandising and promotional aspects of the film.

Herring Here, Birds Diving, Bass Coming

An abundance of diving pelicans and hungry sea gulls have been reported on Richardson Bay the past few days, heralding the start of the winter herring run.

Mrs. Ethelwyn Steese, who lives aboard the houseboat San Pablo at Waldo Point, said the birds were especially numerous during the weekend. "There were redheads, canvas backs, coots, terns, sea gulls and the pelicans were bumping into each other in mid-air," she reported. "It's an early Christmas dinner for the birds."

Many birds were reported also by S. J. Sturiale, owner of Sturiale Fish Co., Sausalito, who said today he believes this to be the start of the run although the bass, which follow the spawning herring, have not appeared.

Birds were also reported in multitudes off San Rafael Avenue in Belvedere.

through a joint powers agreement.

Donald R. Frost, county director of the public works said the lower channel work is necessary before work farther up the creek can be done.

Next year, the corps plans to extend the district from Bon Air Bridge to the Ross town limits.

The ditch will be earth-lined except through College of Marin, where cement lining will be used, Frost said.

Miss McCorry said there was no assurance that the corps would go ahead with the project next year.

Her statements were in the form of a minority report from the advisory committee. Other committee members, Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, of Corte Madera, and Mayor Neil R. Brixon and councilman Vaughn M. Marker of Larkspur, voted in favor of the project in a meeting of the committee last Friday. Councilman Charles F. Pendleton of Corte Madera was absent.

Miss McCorry said the main concern of the city representatives appeared to be in keeping the tax rate down.

The committee said the creek alignment east of Highway 101 should not be moved north to avoid taking Greenbrae Boardwalk homes if that would increase cost of the project.

Frost said 16 homes would be taken under the corps' original plan. Miss McCorry said 19 would go.

Frost said shifting the channel north into Wood Island would add $50,000 to construction cost but make little difference in land acquisition cost. Construction is estimated at $750,000 and acquisition at $600,000.

Frost presented several maps, including one showing possible areas where spoils from channel dredging could be dumped. A total of 700 acres were shown, with about 300 in one block east of Highway 101 and south of the creek.

Included in this area was the 100 acres under discussion as a possible county dump that would later become a Corte Madera town golf course. Also included were properties along William Avenue in Corte Madera, land along the north side of Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur, two parcels of College of Marin property, and the land of the San Francisco Roman Catholic Archdiocese west of Marin Catholic High School.

Vernon Humber, owner of 45 acres east of Highway 101, declared he did not want mud on his land in excess of a foot deep.

Frost said that owners involved are still to be consulted and more area was shown than needed.

Edward Epting of San Bruno, a San Francisco police sergeant, protested on behalf of his parents, who live on Greenbrae Boardwalk.

George Bertram, said he favored the project even though some of his land would be condemned.

Miss McCorry and others said the project would do nothing to improve navigation of the creek since it did not extend far enough into the bay to eliminate a large sand bar.

Frost finally concluded that the two issues raised were over the value of the project itself and over changing location of the channel in the Greenbrae Boardwalk area to save homes.

In addition to the homes lost at Greenbrae Boardwalk, seven structures at Larkspur Boardwalk No. 1 and 13 just south of Bon Air Bridge would be condemned.

Main complaint from those who own homes involved was that little advance notice had been given to the project design. Bertram countered that the corps had been studying the creek for 20 years.

Supervisors finally decided the corps should be invited to defend and explain the project.

already interviewed for the job of director.

This argument eventually persuaded Storer to change his vote. The department was thus created with Kettenhofen dissenting.

Kettenhofer continued to argue that the board must show "if it sincerely wants industry" by approving the industrial section of Marincello.

Supervisors next went into brief executive session and hired Douglas, one of four candidates recommended by an oral review board several weeks ago.

Douglas is a 1940 graduate of Pennsylvania State College with a major in science. He rose from private to captain in the Army Corps of Engineers, serving in North America and Italy during World War II.

He joined Honeywell in 1950. From 1954 to 1962, he was branch manager for the company in Cincinnati, Ohio. He came to the San Francisco branch in 1963, first in charge of data processing and later being industrial manager.

He is married and has three children. Thef amily home is at 80 Oakmont Avenue, San Rafael.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said last night that he was not certain when Douglas would start work with the county. Bruce reported that Douglas had left Honeywell since being interviewed by the county board.

Headquarters Still Is Cold

San Rafael Recreation Department headquarters at Albert Park was "like an iceberg" today as the building entered its third day without heating.

Joseph D. Rodota, recreation director, said gas pressure failed Monday morning and a check by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. discovered water in underground feed lines. The water was blown out yesterday but as the gas still would not light, city employees were checking the line today for a possible break.

Rodota said department workers were being given work elsewhere as it was too cold to work in the building.

Marinite Dies In Car Crash

James Sanders Neal, 21-year-old son of Dr. William S. Neal of San Rafael, was killed today when the car in which he was riding slammed head-on into a tanker truck on State Route 58 about 12 miles east of Bakersfield.

The California Highway Patrol reported Neal was thrown from the westbound car, driven by Gordon Libby, 20, of Berkeley, when it drifted across the center line at 7 a.m. and rammed into the truck. United Press International reported from Bakersfield.

Both Neal and Libby were students at University of California at Berkeley. Libby's mother and Neal's mother are sisters.

Sausalito Auto Thieves Active, Police Report

Three automobiles were stolen last night in Sausalito, and two of them recovered this morning, police reported.

Deputies Cite Salt Shooter

The 17-year-old Terra Linda youth, who Sunday night shot a second youth in the left leg for what he said was an attempt to steal a Christmas tree light bulb, today was cited to the Marin County juvenile probation office.

The victim, 14 and also of Terra Linda, was not cited. Deputies said the older boy said he dressed himself in black clothing, put soot on his face, and staged the shotgun vigil because light bulbs had been stolen from his home's outdoor tree twice earlier last week. He had loaded shotgun shells with salt.

Coins Taken

Two vending machines in the teacher's lounge of Adaline E. Kent School in Kentfield were broken into and an undetermined amount of coins taken by the burglars, sheriff's deputies said today. The intruders also unsuccessfully attempted to enter two classrooms, officers said.

to foreclose a break in the fighting.

Earlier this year, there was a five-day lull as the Vietnamese observed the lunar new year. The lull ended with a Communist attack on Pleiku that killed seven Americans and wounded 109.

In Saigon, one authority at U.S. headquarters said a cease-fire of some sort may be in the wind for a 12-hour period.

But another officers empowered to know such decisions said:

"We're paid for 365 days a year. Christmas is like any other day. As for the 12-hour lull, I know nothing in that regard."

Meanwhile U. S. Navy jets smashed a key railroad bridge 18 miles west of Haiphong today in another heavy bombardment of North Viet Nam's heartland, U.S. spokesmen reported, while Air Force planes carried the air war in the South within 300 yards of Cambodia.

As U.S. fighter-bombers hammered 'round the clock at the Communist North with 174 tons of bombs, the Viet Cong struck three times on Saigon's door steps during the night and killed a village chief.

In the South, Air Force Skyraiders slammed into an old Viet Cong stronghold on the Cambodian border in the marshy Plain of Reeds 35 miles northwest of Saigon. Acting on information from a Viet Cong defector, the Air Force ordered a strike on a 3-mile-square area that spokesmen said had been used for years as a hideout by the Communists and a marshalling point for supplies dribbling in from Cambodia.

Planes from the carrier Kitty Hawk used radar delivery systems to zero in on the railroad bridge near Haiphong, North Viet Nam's largest port. The area, part of the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial complex, has been hit by U.S. planes daily in the past week.

U. S. spokesmen announced the number of Americans killed in combat last week declined to 10 compared with 91 dead, the second highest toll of the war, in the previous seven-day period.

The number of Americans wounded dropped to 126, compared with 316 in the Dec. 12-18 period, and 6 were listed as missing in action, one less than the previous week.

A guerrilla band attacked the "new life" hamlet of Tan Thuan Dong, less than two miles south of Saigon, and murdered the hamlet chief, his son and another youth.

Other terrorists threw a grenade and planted a mine at a U.S. military transportation compound three miles north of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport. There were no injuries.

Water Board Buys Insurance

The North Marin County Water District board last night awarded a contract for a combination insurance policy to Travelers Insurance Co. and Lloyds of London, lowest of six bidders for general liability and automobile insurance.

The three-year policy calls for an annual payment of $7,413 and carries a three million dollar limit of liability.

The board awarded Bobo's Construction Co. of Ignacio a $538 contract for compacted fill at the San Mateo Way tank site, and approved the color scheme for the new office building on Atherton Avenue submitted by John Dolles, architect.

OBITUARIES

Stanley Cowen, 75, Dies Getting Ready For Trip

Stanley Cowen, 75, a resident of Sausalito since 1952, died yesterday at his home at 2 Toyon Lane, apparently of a heart attack.

He was telephoning police to advise them that he and his wife, Leslie, would be leaving today for a trip to Mexico. Mrs. Cowen said she heard the telephone drop and entered the room to find her husband on the floor. Her screams brought police and firement to the Cowen home in five minutes, she said.

Cowen was taken to Marin General Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 10:25 a.m.

A native of San Francisco, Cowen had lived there all his life except for the years in Sausalito.

He worked in import-export business after being graduated from college and then went into real estate, becoming a broker and running his own business. He last worked in import-export work with his brother, Mervyn Cowen, retiring in 1955 after a heart attack. Following this, he and his wife spent a year traveling in Europe.

Cowen was past president of the Sausalito Rotary Club, a former director of the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District, and served on the Marin County Grand Jury two years ago.

He was an Army Reserve officer in World War 1, and left the service as a lieutenant colonel.

Cowen was a 33rd degree Mason.

He was also very interested in Synanon Foundation.

There will be no funeral. Cowen asked that his body be given for research to the University of California and his eyes be given to the university's eye bank.

Rights Boycott Curbs Dixie City Yule Trade

FAYETTE, Miss. (AP)—Civil rights forces have stiffened their support of a boycott against white merchants here in hopes the lack of Christmas shoppers will show a need to meet their desegregation demands.

State, county and federal law officers watched yesterday while 40 pickets backing a "Black Christmas" marched through near-deserted streets — proof of the economic pinch caused by the boycott.

Field director Charles Evers of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said he formed patrols to keep Negroes out of town and to watch for Ku Klux Klan attacks on pickets.

Evers said picketing would continue until Friday when the group would stage a demonstration.

Mayor R. J. Allen said the town was quiet and stores had remained open. He declined comment on a charge by Evers that someone had aimed a shotgun at a picket Monday.

Authorities slapped a holiday ban on beer sales in this southwest Mississippi town Monday to head off any prospect of racial violence in Jefferson County. The county is more than three-fourths Negro.

Evers has called a campaign of no buying or Christmas decorating until demands are met in full. Negroes want desegregation of all public facilities, including public schools, two Negroes on the police force and use of courtesy titles — Mr., Miss or Mrs.

Two Airports On Federal Plans List

The Federal Aviation Agency yesterday recommended inclusion of Marin County Airport at Novato in its five-year airport construction and improvement program.

The agency also included improvements to the Marin County Heliport and Commodore seaplane base at Sausalito in its forecast of the state's future aviation needs.

In October, Marin County Board of Supervisors launched a $500,000 plan for improving the county airport on being told the FAA would foot 54 per cent of the bill if certain lease changes were implemented.

The FAA gave no estimate for this or any other individual project suggested for California. However, the state's total aviation improvements are expected to cost $157,831,000.

In its annual forecast, the agency proposed constructing 887 landing facilities — 763 airports and the rest heliports — and improving 3,219 other facilities.

Heat Test Survived By Fastest Bomber

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—A 10-minute heat-friction test, with heat of 530 degrees generated at 1,920 miles an hour, has been completed successfully by the No. 2 SB-70A experimental bomber.

The Air Force said the control system for air inlets was tested yesterday during the 145-minute flight. Test altitude was near 65,000 feet, officials said.

Aid Call Said Delayed In Fatal Fire

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — There was a "serious delay" in reporting a fire that killed 12 persons at a Jewish community center Monday night, according to a preliminary investigation report.

It is still not known what caused the fire, or whether some or all of the victims might have been saved if the alarm had been given earlier.

City Manager Frederick Adler, discussing the investigation yesterday, said an unidentified employee of the center had found the blaze out of control in an auditorium on the second floor.

Adler said the employee tried to fight the flames with a hand extinguisher, then started for the fourth - floor classroom here nine children and three adults lost their lives. Smoke and heat drove him back.

The employee did not turn in an alarm, Adler said.

Judge Steps Out Of Wolden Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Judge Leonard J. Ginsburg disqualified himself from the bribery trial of San Francisco Assessor Russell Wolden yesterday but called the challenge to his authority a "gratuitous demeaning of the judiciary."

James Martin MacInnis, a defense attorney, made the challenge saying the judge is a cousin of Mrs. Bert Hirschberg, wife of one of MacInnis' law associates.

Judge Ginsburg, who came here from Tulare County for the case, said he had not spoken to his cousin more than twice in the past 35 years. "In any event," he wrote, "relationships with a person associated with the defense would seem more properly to be the concern of the district attorney than the defendants."

DDT has been used as a pesticide for more than 20 years.

Vandals Enter Reed School Second Time

Reed School in Tiburon was broken into last weekend, the second weekend in succession, principal John Usilton reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Teacher Ruth Wood went to the school Sunday and found doors to a classroom and the nurse's office had been pried open, Usilton reported. Bandages were thrown on the floor in the nurse's room and obscene words were left on a piece of paper in a typewriter in the office.

Sheriff's Sgt. George R. Barnes said entry was probably made through an unlocked window. Usilton said nothing was stolen.

On the weekend of Dec. 11-12 the school was entered by prying a window, obscene words were written on a blackboard, and $6 to $7 in change was stolen from a desk.

Insurance Decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration is expected to decide early next month whether to continue the practice of paying out GI insurance dividends in January.

'HOBGOBLIN'

Spirit Doesn't Move Marin's Supervisors

The Spirit of Christmas present did not make his presence felt yesterday before Marin County supervisors as they continued to give short tempers free rein.

Near the end of a long day, supervisors Peter H. Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen got into a heated exchange, with most of the heat coming from Kettenhofen.

Kettenhofen wondered, for the sake of consistency, if he should join other board members in voting to extend time for the planning commission to report on Marincello amendments.

"Consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds," Behr said jokingly.

Kettenhofen took exception and insisted that Behr's statement be entered in the minutes. Behr insisted that it was only intended as a joke, but Kettenhofen said that he thought it "completely discourteous" and petty.

Berl said he thought Kettenhofen was being childish, and Kettenhofen asked for an apology.

Report on the Marincello amendment, incidentally, was continued until Jan. 4. The board of supervisors will not meet next Tuesday in deference to the season.

Grape Picketing Across Nation

DELANO (UPI) — Pickets supporting the Delano grape workers strike yesterday demonstrated in New York City, Los Angeles and the San Francisco Bay Area.

In New York, pickets from the Congress of Racial Equality marched in front of the offices of Schenley Industries, one of the biggest wine producers in the Delano area.

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 22, the 356th day of 1965 with 9 to follow.

The moon is in its full phase; the morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

The founder of Georgia, James Oglethorpe, was born on this day in 1696.

On this day in history:

In 1869, the American poet Edward Arlington Robinson was born.

In 1894, Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, an officer of the French general staff, was found guilty of treason.

In 1941, a message from Wake Island said the American stronghold in the Pacific had fallen to Japan.

In 1957, the Scottish freighter "Nerva" sank in the North Sea and 28 seamen went down with her.

A thought for the day — In the New Testament according to St. Matthew: "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Twice Told Bids Not Boring Stories, But Create Trouble

Children love to hear the old stories.

The tenth time they hear about Goldilocks they are even more delighted than the first time.

At bridge table, however, the best course is to tell your story once and then sit back and do some listening.

Opening lead — ◇ Q

North told his whole story in his first bid: he had 16 to 18 points in high cards, with no long suits and no short suits.

NORTH REPEATS

Still, North wasn't satisfied when East's overcall of two spades was passed around to him.

Since he had already told his story he should have passed.

North's double really meant: "Listen to me, partner, because maybe you didn't hear me the first time. I have 16 to 18 points, and so on."

South was not interested in twice-told tales.

If he passed the double, East would score game and rubber.

If South bid, he might have his head handed to him.

GETS DOUBLED

South's best chance was to bid his long suit and hope that nobody would double, but it wasn't South's lucky day.

West had an easy double of three diamonds.

West led the queen of diamonds, and South had to play hard to get two spade ruffs in his hand in addition to dummy's two trumps and the ace of clubs.

Even so, he was four tricks short of the contract, and the opponents collected a penalty of 1100 points.

If North had trusted his partner to hear the opening bid, he would have let East play the hand at two spades.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ A 9 8 7 5
♥ A J 10 3
♣ K 10 5

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

You have 12 points in high cards and 2 points for the singleton, enough for an opening bid.

Since you have 2½ Quick Tricks you have all of the requirements for a sound opening bid.

Council Sees Need Of More Wise Men

ROSSFORD, Ohio (AP)—Rossford's City Council agreed to buy three wise men.

"We can always use wise men," said Street Commissioner Joseph Duly in reporting plans to buy the wise men—and an ox and a donkey—to complete the city's Christmas Nativity scene.

School Site Revamped By Lagunitas Trustees

The Lagunitas School District board last night agreed on a slightly modified version of a proposed school site in central Woodacre.

Two weeks ago, the board agreed to build in the center of the community if a $200,000 bond issue and $400,000 state loan request were approved Feb. 15.

A Woodacre resident who attended that meeting, however, took issue with Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff's report that the board's action had committed the district to a specific site.

Last night's action, which followed a report by counting planning aide David Van Pelt, was intended to clarify the matter, McCunniff said.

The board agreed on a site of about 8.5 acres, bounded by Railroad Avenue, Aspen Way, Garden Way and Oak Grove, and agreed to make minor changes recommended by Van Pelt. Among these were a promise to permit access on Railroad Avenue (used by the nearby county fire department) and to widen narrow boundary streets.

Board members also received copies of McCunniff's rough draft of the argument in favor of the bonds and state loan, to be printed on the ballot. They were urged to make any change in time to meet a Dec. 30 deadline.

Too, they learned that they will have to appoint an election board to count absentee ballots. This is a new requirement, brought about by the shifting of school elections from the office of County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis to that of County Clerk George H. Gnoss.

The board received a report of the audit from fiscal 1965, and learned that the first issue of the district's newsletter is being mailed to district residents this week.

The regular meeting, which ended at 10:15 p.m., was followed by an hour and 45 minute closed discussion on renewal of McCunniff's contract. At its end, McCunniff reported, board members announced they had informally agreed to renew the contract but had not agreed on its terms.

An open door and an unlocked safe made work easy yesterday for the burglar of a Fairfax home who made off with $1,200 in Series E U.S. Savings Bonds and $520 in cash.

Ernest Filiberti, 67, of 8 Creek Road, reported the burglary yesterday at 8:15 p.m. He said the burglar entered his house through a sliding glass door left ajar for a pet cat. The thief made his way through the house, entered the garage, and took the money and bonds from an unlocked floor safe, Filiberti reported.

"The burglar evidently knew what he was doing. Nothing else in the house was disturbed. It must have been someone who knew where the safe was," reported Police Chief James Orr.

Orr said the theft occurred yesterday between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. while Filiberti was working.

Hospitalized

Roy Keith Dearth, president of Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., has been hospitalized at Marin General Hospital. His physician, Dr. Carroll Russell, said it is hoped he will be able to return home for Christmas.

Line To Santa Open Tonight

Approximately 350 children from many parts of Marin County phoned Santa Claus at Novato last night to tell him what they wanted for Christmas, according to Eugene Strockbine, president of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce who tabulated the calls.

About half of the calls came from San Rafael, Terra Linda, Mill Valley and other parts of the county outside Novato, he said.

Santa can be reached again at 892-9000 from 7 to 9 p.m. today.

GRANDSON — Former president Harry S. Truman arrived at Kennedy Airport in New York City yesterday and was met by his grandson, Clifton Daniel Jr., 8, and the boy's father. He will spend Christmas with his daughter and son-in-law. (UPI Telephoto)

San Quentin Trio Dates Scheduled In Gas Chamber

Ernest Leroy Jacobson, 30, is scheduled to die in the prison gas chamber on Jan. 11. He was convicted of the drowning in Los Angeles in 1964 of the 2-year-old daughter of his common-law wife.

William Earl Cotter Jr., 25, has been slated for execution on Feb. 9. He was convicted of stabbing to death 63-year-old Elizabeth Buus in Los Angeles in October, 1963.

Dovie Carl Mathis, 29, convicted of beating to death Vernon Ray in the San Jose area in 1963, has been scheduled to die on March 1.

All three men have appeals filed, reported Park.

Trustees Near Agreement On Exchange Of Easements

San Anselmo School District trustees last night tentatively agreed to exchange roadway easements with developers of the Sunny Hills Shopping Center, if the developers pave approximately 75 per cent of the road to Red Hill School.

Earlier this month, trustees were told by two appraisers that the exchange would be even only if the developers paved all of the road to the school. Appraisers David Cohn and Neil Brodsgar are now reevaluating their appraisals, said Supt. Stephen Parodi.

Parodi said he estimates the cost of paving 75 per cent of the road at $9,000. Appraisers said the easement the district would give the shopping center is worth $13,000 more than the one at the base of Red Hill, which it would get in return.

Parodi said the trade is desirable because the district's present easement is bordered on both sides by shopping center property and the district would have to allow the center access across the road.

Trustees voted to apply for $25,267 in federal war on poverty funds. Parodi said three projects have been planned for use of the funds: Creation of a language laboratory, employment of library aides at school libraries, and employment of three teachers to work with pupils on projects which stem from classroom discussions.

Trustees accepted the resignation of Joseph Silveira, night custodian at Sleepy Hollow and Brookside schools, and hired Guido L. Ostaggi in his place at $420 a month.

In a ballroom decked with holiday greenery and a Christmas tree flanking the stage, the 22 Marin debutantes were introduced and made their bows last night at the Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael. Some 500 guests attended Marin's fourth annual white tie event.

As each girl stepped through the red felt backdrop on the stage, she was introduced by Ernest Mendenhall Jr., made her bow, and was escorted to the ballroom floor by her father. After the grand march figure, danced with her escorts, the debs were rejoined by their fathers to dance the traditional first waltz.

As the three orchestras struck up a variety of dance tunes in the ballroom, jazz tent and supper room, the girls, escorts, their families, the ball committee and guests mingled to chat and join the lines along the dazzling buffet table which was centered with a carved ice swan and arrangements of holiday greens.

A red and white striped tent was set up off of the main ballroom of the club and featured an up-beat combo, and a long white tent covered the patio area for the buffet and individual supper tables. The foyer of the club held an old fashioned stout green Christmas tree with multicolored ornaments and lights, and the entire ceiling of the club was decorated with green fir boughs set with tiny white lights.

Proceeds from the ball this year will benefit various youth causes throughout Marin.

The 1965 debutantes who bowed last night are:

ELIZABETH BERNHARD, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Russel Bernhard of San Rafael, escorted by Curtiss Hayden III and Nicholas Scales.

VIRGINIA COOKE, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donovan O. Cooke of Tiburon, escorted by Richard P. Wynne and Judd Simmons.

THE FABULOUS BUFFET table was the attraction for debutantes, escorts and the 500 guests at last night's white tie gathering at Peacock Gap Country Club. Here deb Marilee Griffith finds a dish to her liking as her escort, Roger Lais, assists in the selection. Guests dined at small tables set up throughout the club around the three dance floors, and the buffet was served in the tent area over the patio.

A Glittering Ball For 22 Debutantes

COLD, DRY WEATHER OUTLOOK

United States Weather Bureau forecasts for the period through Jan. 15 indicate that the Bay Area and Marin County are likely to have more of the frosty weather it has been experiencing, and less rainfall than usual for the period. Practically all of the nation will have above-normal rain and snowfall, but below-normal temperatures, according to the maps.

Land Development Brings $100,000 Suit For Damages

A squabble over development of two parcels purchased by Loyal Davis, Mill Valley builder, has resulted in filing of a $100,000 suit in Marin Superior Court.

Plaintiffs Edna M. Schumacher and Meda D. Childers, both of 548 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, allege Davis and his wife, Astarte, purchased the parcels adjacent to the Miller Avenue address, but misrepresented that an access strip of land would be given the plaintiffs.

They also charge that agreement to develop the purchased land without removal of a stone retaining wall or trees was violated.

The plaintiffs stated their efforts to return down payment money Sept. 13 was rejected by the purchaser. They ask revoking of deeds of both parcels, $25,000 punitive damages, and a temporary injunction preventing Davis from further development. They further ask that if the court denies revoking the sales, they be awarded $100,000 damages.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled 2 p.m. Monday for the defendants to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

Strep Tops Marin List Of Diseases

Two cases of shigella dysentery were discovered in Marin County in the week ending Saturday, according to the Marin County Health Department's communicable disease report.

A brother and sister, aged five and six respectively, from Marin City, were treated for the disease at Marin General Hospital. The health department epidemiologist today had not yet submitted a report on the occurrence.

Streptococcus infections continued heavy in the county, with 60 cases reported, including 24 in San Rafael, 22 in Novato and 10 in Mill Valley.

There were eight cases of gonorrhea, five of them in San Rafael, two in Sausalito and the other in Kentfield. Three cases of infectious hepatitis were reported. One was in San Rafael and the others in West Marin.

A single case each of tuberculosis and mumps, both in San Rafael, completed the list.

Marin Counsel, Auditor Split Over Light Bill

Marin County supervisors yesterday ordered a showdown on a disagreement between the county auditor-controller office and county counsel over a $300 loan requested to pay street lighting cost for the recently formed Stinson Beach County Services area.

Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell has argued that the county cannot legally make such a loan since the district will not receive any tax revenue until next fiscal year.

Thomas G. Hendricks, deputy county counsel, at first agreed with this view, but later changed his mind, saying that such a loan would be legal.

Despite this, Mitchell declared in a letter to supervisors yesterday that he will not honor any claims submitted to his office for street lighting bills from the district.

County Administrator Alan Bruce told the board he saw little point in making an issue over $300, even though he too disagrees with Mitchell. He suggested the board seek other ways to finance the lighting payment.

Supervisors, however, on the insistence of supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, voted unanimously to rely on the opinion of the county counsel.

Mitchell said it will take a court order to make him change his stand.

Rustlers Foiled

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)— Sicilian police recovered a flock of 70 rustled sheep by using helicopters. The stolen sheep were sighted in an isolated valley far from the nearest roads. Police said they had been hidden there, awaiting a chance to drive them to market.

Coed Gets A Chance For Study In Japan

KATHY JENKINS
Must study Japanese

Kathy Jenkins, Tamalpais High School senior, has been selected to go to Japan in the International Christian Youth Exchange program for school year 1966-67.

Miss Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins of 188 Hazel Avenue, Mill Valley, will be guest of a host family, yet unannounced, in Japan.

Her acceptance is a conditional one in that she must yet satisfactorily complete some assignments given her by the national selection committee by April 1. They include an introductory study of the Japanese language and certain readings.

"The most exciting thing about my acceptance," said Miss Jenkins, "was that two weeks from the time they received my application, I received notification that I was to study the Japanese language."

The Christian Youth Exchange program is similar to that of the American Field Service, excepting that while the former is church-affiliated, the latter is school-affiliated.

Kathy applied for her program under sponsorship of the Mill Valley Community Church. She is an active church member and a member of the Northern California Conference of the United Church of Christ Youth Ministry Committee.

On return from Japan, Miss Jenkins hopes to attend Stanford University and study to become a medical doctor to work in social welfare.

Academic Freedom To Be Radio Topic

Is academic freedom being abused in Marin County schools? This question will be discussed by two high school teachers and two parents on the "Marin Sounding Board" program over radio station KTIM tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Taking part are Albert Gautraud, chairman of the social science department of Terra Linda High School, and George Matthews, a teacher in the department. Mrs. James Rowen and Halford Carmona, both of San Rafael. A recording of the program will be rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Old Parking Meters Slated For Trade-ins

Retired, easy-to-open San Rafael parking meters have been piled up like watermelons outside the rear entrance to the San Rafael Police Department, but their life is not over.

They will go back to their manufacturer, the Traffic Appliance Corp., Los Angeles, to be rebuilt and sent to some other city, probably outside the United States.

Asst. City Mgr. Tom Goodale explained yesterday that the city will receive a $9 trade-in credit for each one of the 1,000 meters being replaced by new meters. The new meters were ordered to replace the old ones after a series of thefts.

The new meters cost $60.84 each, before trade-in, including tax and transportation. Goodale said a few of the old meters will still be left in the city, but "out in the boondocks."

The city will pay for the meters in four annual installments of $12,950, using meter revenue, Goodale reported. Most of the meters will be within the city's parking asessment district, and district funds will be tapped.

But 259 meters have been placed on posts outside the district, and payment will come from a special parking meter fund, kept separate from the city's general fund, Goodale added.

Jury Trial Scheduled On Robbery Charge

Jury trial for James Lee Fields, 20, of Petaluma, charged with armed robbery of Rudy's Liquor Store in San Rafael, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Superior Court for Feb. 21.

Fields allegedly robbed the store Nov. 13.

Marin Man Ends Career Of Taxing Smokes, Drinks

A. C. Jones of Corte Madera will retire at the end of the month from a job supported and financed every time someone lights up a cigarette or drinks a glass of beer.

He is supervisor in charge of alcohol and tobacco tax in Northern California, Nevada and Utah and will leave his office in San Francisco after working 35 years in this section of the U.S. Treasury Department.

"We work through about 120 field operators who go out supervising the production of alcohol and tobacco to ensure the application of the law," he said today.

When he started with the department in 1930, he said, tax on a proof gallon of liquor was $1.10. Now it is $10.50.

"Back in those days, we still had our work to do although it was three years before the repeal of Prohibition," he said, adding, "there was legal selling as well as illegal selling."

The only tax on alcohol during the 14 years of Prohibition came from liquor specially licensed for medicinal purposes and from wine used in church services.

A resident of Marin County since 1930, Jones has a son, Clyde Jones, operator of San Rafael Floor Covering Inc., and a daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Leach, wife of an Air Force major at Houston, Tex.

"Even after I've retired," said Jones, who is 65, "I'll continue to remember the office. I smoke and drink a little. After all, you have to support home industry."

He and his wife live at 9 Golden Hind Passage.

TRAFFIC DEATHS

He Tries To Do As Wife Would

By FRANK FARRARA
(Third of a series)

Hugh Boyce, a Santa Venetia electrical contractor, is trying to rear his family the way his wife would if she were alive.

"I try to do what my wife would like, do what she would do," he said. "But you can never replace a mother."

Boyce has been the lone parent since his wife, Ella Marie Boyce, 47, was struck and killed by a car while crossing Highway 101 near Novato on Dec. 9, 1964.

Boyce and the three children, now living at their home at 405 Adrian Way, combine their efforts with the housebold chores, such as cooking, shopping and cleaning.

"The children have been a tremendous help," he said.

At the time of the interview, his 18-year-old son, Jerry, was in the kitchen preparing the supper under long-range supervision from his father, who was seated in the living room.

Boyce, formerly a chef on a passenger steamship, said he sometimes cooks and sometimes supervises. "Even before, I used to cook some special meals like veal scallopini," he said.

"The housecleaning we do ourselves, although sometimes I have to push the kids."

Boyce said he had never called in any outside help until a few days ago when he had a woman come in to do some ironing.

"I never realized how much laundry there was," he said.

Boyce also has the job of supervising the shopping. "She (his wife) had a set routine and we follow it pretty closely," he said.

Aside from Jerry, Boyce has a 17-year-old son, Hugh, and a 14-year-old daughter, Christine, living at home. Two older sons, Donald, 24, of Santa Venetia, and Dennis, 21, of San Rafael, are married and living away from home.

The family suffered a second tragedy less than a month ago when Mrs. Boyce's sister, Amy May Hayden of Sonoma, was killed in an auto crash on Highway 37 at Black Point.

"We always relied a little on my sister-in-law," Boyce said. "She was our short-stop. If Chris had a problem, she'd take care of it."

Now, Boyce said, his prime concern is his mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert Lee Hayden of Boyes Springs, who has lost her only children in auto accidents. "To lose both in one year is pretty tough," he said.

Boyce said that his wife and her sister were "like two peas in a pod" and, because of this, he gave his cemetery plot next to his wife to his sister-in-law.

Boyce said that because his wife was younger, he made all the financial provisions for her. "I didn't want her in any financial problem," he said.

"Now my insurance man tells me, I took care of everybody but myself."

Asked about other changes in family life since the death of his wife, Boyce said: "We used to go on picnics. I don't think we go on picnics any more, but that was just one summer."

Voyager Suffers Fall, Broken Leg

The accident happened as Mrs. Gould was walking on deck soon after the ship left the Azores, her husband reported. The Goulds and Mrs. Adolph S. Oko of Point Reyes Station had just completed a tour of Southern Europe.

Gould said his wife is expected to remain in the hospital about two more weeks, and they plan to fly back to their Marin home sometime in January.

Yule Fantasy In Marinwood Wins Contest

An intricate outdoor display featuring moving characters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stitham, 285 Adobestone Court, Marinwood, was judged county grand winner in the 17th annual Marin County Outdoor Christmas Home Decorations Contest lest night.

The Stithams, who also won the county award in 1963, have a vast display on the theme of Santa Claus getting ready for Christmas.

While Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus are sitting on the porch checking their lists, there are elves at work on the roof, and reindeer and sleigh.

TOYLAND, TOO

There is a toyland with dolls from throughout the world, an elephant that sprays, and a drummer boy who drums.

Stitham has used motors to move some of the characters, such as an old washing machine agitator which moves Mrs. Santa Claus.

Stitham won the $100 cash award in the contest sponsored by the Independent-Journal, the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and the Marin Visitors Bureau.

The six runners-up, who each will receive a table lamp, donated by the Christmas Lighting Assn. of California, are:

Kent R. Bulfinch, 3 Carmel Drive, Novato.

Edward Kaenel Jr., 100 Adler Avenue, San Anselmo.

Harold P. Miller, 232 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera.

G. W. Robertson, 342 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley.

D. E. Simonds, 23 LaCuesta Drive, Greenbrae.

CHIDLREN'S PRIZES

There were 56 entries in the countywide contest. Citations, merit ribbons, honorable mentions ribbons and gold ribbons for children under 14 who created their own designs also will be awarded.

Members of the San Rafael Jaycees who served as judges were Donald Beacock, Douglas Ryan, David Screechfield, James Johnson, Ronald Gonsalves, Orval Brannan, Perry Howard, J. K. Mayerchak, and Dr. L. G. Fraser, who is Marin County chairman for the Northern California Christmas Lighting Assn.

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce directors cancelled their meeting yesterday and agreed to meet next on Jan. 11 at noon at Zack's-by-the-Bay, Robert Rogers, board president, said today.

Airport Commission Member Is Appointed

Marin County supervisors yesterday added another man to the recently created airport commission. He is Melville Dickson of Woodacre, a pilot and owner of a heating business.

Dickson's name was suggested by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer.

He was the fourth to be appointed to the seven-member commission. The board earlier named Benjamin R. Ostlind of San Rafael, Richard Nave of Novato, and Douglas M. Christensen of Kentfield.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Approved rental of two apartment units in Marin City for the county community relations staff, moving that office from the welfare department at the Civic Center. Rent and utilities will total $2,040 for the balance of this fiscal year.

2. Authorized the public works department to surface a muddy spot beside the runway of the county airport at Novato where two planes became stuck Monday.

3. Set hearing for Jan. 25 on a proposal for a county dump in Corte Madera that could be converted to a golf course. The proposal has brought protests from residents of Greenbrae Boardwalk which would border the dump.

4. Delayed until Jan. 4 a decision on the request of the human rights commission for employment of a man to assure fair employment on the hall of justice construction job.

5. Rejected a claim for $230,052 in damages by Stanley W. Taylor or Harbor Point. Taylor charged that large lot standards imposed by the county planning commission and board of supervisors have damaged him.

6. Set hearing for 9:30 a.m. Jan. 18, on annexation of Tomales High School District and other north county territory to the Marin Junior College District.

7. Agreed to abandon Hillside Road, an unused right of way in Kentfield, on condition that a five-foot pedestrian easement be established.

8. Set hearing Jan. 4 on planning commission denial of permit for a large sign advertising harbor point at Strawberry.

9. Tabled a dispute over recent board action to rename Hamilton Lane as Lattie Lane in Tamalpais Valley. The change, asked by Arthur H. Kelly, was protested by the Tamalpais Fire Protection District Board.

10. Learned that 130 members of the Marin County Historical Society want the courthouse building preserved while 14 are in favor of sale of the property. There were 150 replies to 256 questionnaires mailed to members. Six who replied had no opinion. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen was disappointed in the poll because it failed to include alternatives.

11. Awarded contract to Bormolini-Anderson Co. of Novato, lowest of 11 bidders at $39,992.56, for construction of a box culvert in Gallinas Creek at Civic Center Drive. Highest bid was $82,827.88. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost reported.

12. Hired Earl M. Fitzgerald and John L. Rader as junior appraisers at $510 a month each in the assessor's office; Patricia Palmer as senior account clerk at $399 a month in the date processing office; Joan G. Schulz as intermediate clerk at $345 a month in the recorder's office; Gerald B. Carder at $510 a month and Tuano Sjoblom and Arlie Evans at $463 a month each as public works maintenance men, and Nancy Hall as social worker II at $486 a month in the social services (welfare) department.

13. Created a new position of assistant sanitarian in the health department with a starting salary of $510 a month.

14. Authorized a stop sign on Coloma Street at Olema Street outside Sausalito.

15. Awarded contract to North Bay Electric Works of San Rafael at $3,199 for installation of lighting for employee parking lot at the Civic Center. The firm was the lowest of three in bidding that ranged up to $4,144.

16. Authorized letters to boards of community services districts, sanitary districts, Marin Hospital District and North Marin County Water District, urging that they consolidate their elections with the primary elections next June.

17. Adjourned at 7:45 p.m. until Jan. 4. There will be no meeting of the board next Tuesday.

Coroner Merger Debate Scheduled

Marin County supervisors yesterday set discussion of the proposed merger of the county coroner's office with the district attorney's office for Jan. 4.

The merger was recommended by County Administrator Alan Bruce. It will be one of several controversial issues to be taken up with the first board meeting of the new year.

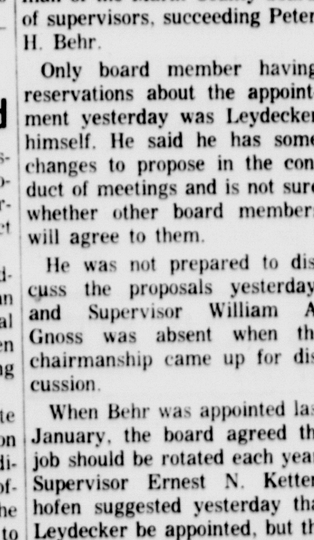
Also set for then is the debate over the proposed new position of vocational education coordinator for the county schools office. Supervisors balked at the proposal last week and were to discuss it again yesterday, but it was postponed for lack of time.

Cigarettes Offered At Service Station

A youth suspected of burglary passed around cigarettes early Monday at the Standard service station, Fourth Street at Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael—and not in the San Rafael police station as reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal, police said today.

According to a San Rafael police report, station attendant Daniel F. Thome recognized the youth when he came in spreading Christmas cheer.

The suspect and other youths were arrested late Monday by Marin County sheriff's deputies.



BYRON W. LEYDECKER

Leydecker Next In Line For Chairman

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker appeared today to be in line for appointment as 1966 chairman of the Marin County board of supervisors, succeeding Peter H. Behr.

Only board member having reservations about the appointment yesterday was Leydecker himself. He said he has some changes to propose in the conduct of meetings and is not sure whether other board members will agree to them.

He was not prepared to discuss the proposals yesterday, and Supervisor William A. Gnoss was absent when the chairmanship came up for discussion.

When Behr was appointed last January, the board agreed the job should be rotated each year. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen suggested yesterday that Leydecker be appointed, but the action was put off until the Jan. 4 meeting.

Marine Study Funds Granted

The University of the Pacific has received a $16,295 grant from the National Science Foundation so high school teachers can do research this summer at the university's Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach.

Among the fields of research involved are systematic zoology, field ecology, marine botany, environmental physiology and paleontology. All will be studied under the conditions present in Tomales Bay.

The research will be carried out under marine station director Edmund H. Smith.

Davis Apartments Appeal Is Denied

Marin County supervisors yesterday, after hearing an hour and a half of debate, voted 4-1 to deny approval for a 12-unit apartment development proposed by Loyal Davis near Mill Valley.

The proposed development at 548 Miller Avenue, has been under attack by neighbors and has prompted a law suit against Davis by the former owners of the property, Mrs. Edna Shumaker and Mrs. Meta Childers.

Attorney Richard A. Clarke, representing the former owners, charged yesterday that Davis deliberately represented to the planning commission that he owned more property than he really did in order to get approval of a 32-unit development almost a year ago.

After the grading and retaining wall project which Davis started came under attack by neighbors, it was discovered that he did not own all the land.

Attorney Julius H. Selinger, representing Davis, declared Mrs. Shumaker and Mrs. Childers had merely cancelled an agreement with Davis on development of the entire one-and-three-quarter- acre parcel.

Attorney Leonard A. Bjorklund Jr., representing Mary Lord with land to the north of Davis, told supervisors that Davis had acquired an easement from the Tamalpais Sanitary District in order to increase the building area to get 12 units on it. He said the easement was thought to be public, not subject to purchase.

Veterans' Group To Install Officers

A headline in yesterday's Independent-Journal confused the names of two Marin County veterans' groups.

The story said that Marin Barracks 550, Veterans of World War I and its auxiliary would hold joint installation of officers at 8 p.m. Monday at the San Rafael Recreation Center, Second and Brooks Streets.

The headline, however, said erroneously that the Veterans of Foreign Wars would install officers.

Refuse Fire Causes Unplanned Dumping

Fire broke out in a Mill Valley Refuse Co. truck at 7:10 a.m. today at 120 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, causing garbage workers to dump their entire load of refuse in the street.

Firemen doused the fire and refuse men cleaned up the scented street. No damage to the truck was reported.

Simple Precautions Will Ready You For Blackout

It is unlikely that California will ever face a massive power failure like the one that hit the East last month.

That's the word from the state Public Utilities Commission in its preliminary report on California's power systems. The commission found that the state's electric utilities have adequate capacity and reserves to meet major outages, except in the most extraordinary circumstances.

The governor has asked the California Disaster Office, the Department of Water Resources, and the PUC to continue their surveys on the state's electricity, water, gas and communications systems to ferret out any shortcomings.

The unprecedented eastern blackout has put the rest of the nation on guard. California is taking a close look at its own resources.

This is all reassuring. However, "most extraordinary circumstances" can and sometimes do occur. Furthermore, localized blackouts are not uncommon occurrences, even in Marin County.

Governor Brown has urged every householder to take five simple precautionary steps recommended by the California Disaster Office.

Most of us, periodically battered by wind and rainstorms, are probably well prepared to meet emergencies like temporary power shutoffs. But we take the occasion to pass on these tips from the state disaster office:

1. Keep on hand a flashlight, a battery-operated or kerosene lantern, or candles and a supply of fresh batteries.

2. A battery-operated radio may be your only means of receiving emergency information. Keep one handy with fresh batteries.

3. Have a first aid kit handy, and know how to use it.

4. Maintain an emergency supply of food that does not need refrigeration and does not require cooking.

5. Plan for emergency transportation. You may not be able to get gasoline from regular sources. Most gasoline pumps are electrical and depend on commercial power. Keep your gas tank at least half full at all times.

Getting Gray?

Are you getting gray? Don't worry. Most of us are. By the time he reaches 50 years of age, the average person is more than half white. According to studies made in Australia, neither the original color nor the sex of individual appeared to make any difference.

There are a number of remedies for the situation—wigs, dyes, etc. Some of us have a rather drastic solution called baldness.

Better gray than skin should be the motto.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

BRITISH PERFECT "INSTANT TREE"

An "instant tree," has been developed in England by a private forestry organization. It is saving schools, highways and housing developments from the usual long wait while a sapling grows into a shady tree.

The tree-raising group maintains sites throughout the country, where it grows trees to semi-maturity and carries out soil analyses and pruning.

A special technique makes it possible to confine tree roots to a manageable size. Trees can be transplanted, even when they are 30 feet tall.

Architects and landscape planners can now design buildings already equipped with arbors. Farmers can also get instant windbreaks to protect their soil.

Human ingenuity keeps discovering new ways to make available to mankind the innumerable blessings that a loving Creator wishes man to enjoy on his pilgrimage to heaven.

Pray that all men may share in the advantages that are often limited to the few.

"Giving thanks always for all things . . ."

Thanks, O bountiful Father, for the countless benefits you shower on us.

Highway Commission Delaying Tahoe Road Routing Decision

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—One of the curses of democratic government — that is, government of the people, by the people, and for the people—is the penchant of the peoples' elected representatives to delay and put off decisions, sometimes for years.

This is particularly true in one specific instance in California: Adoption of the routing of the highway on the west side of Lake Tahoe by the California Highway Commission.

For a number of years now, the commission has dallied with various routes, the specific question being whether to bridge Emerald Bay or go the high route and dig a tunnel through an earthquake fault.

All the routings for future highways on the west side of the lake have been adopted, except the controversial highway either around or through Emerald Bay.

THE COMMISSION has not yet made up its mind, despite the action of one member, Joseph Houghteling, to force the issue with a resolution. Houghteling was voted down, so the question remains to be settled.

The low route, which could be adopted and a bridge put across the mouth of Emerald Bay, is the least costly and the most convenient for the people who have to use the road between the north and south ends of the lake. It generally is favored by the people who reside in the area and by those who have to use roads to get from place to place, instead of for scenic purposes.

THE HIGH ROUTE would cost the taxpayers of the state several million dollars more in highway taxes. It would involve a tunnel through an area which has been known to slide and would be extremely dangerous to construction. Earthquakes, which are possible in that particular place, could endanger the highway and lives of travelers.

However, the conservationist do-gooders, who believe roads should permit an occasional tourist to view the scene, have prevailed with the highway commission and the administration, and so far have stalled a firm decision on where the highway should be located.

MEANWHILE, the people of the area are continuing to have a closed highway in the winter months and a winding, dangerous road when it is open, all because of the fuzzy thinking of the people who want roads for scenery instead of for use, which is what the people pay for.

It's a reasonable bet that the conservationists who oppose a low-level road do not make much use of the west-side highway at Tahoe. Therefore, in their selfish way of thinking, they have little regard for the people who must use the road every day, as well as the people who pay the highway taxes.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Institute Needs Christmas Gifts

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The lead editorial of Dec. 14 pointed out clearly that there is an effective organized effort in Marin County to deal with the disease of alcoholism. The Marin Institute of Alcoholism has waged an effective battle for one year with donated services of social workers, clergy, psychologists and physicians.

The institute needs more than donated professional services. The institute will not survive without adequate funds. The editorial did not state that private donations at this crucial point are urgently needed.

A Christmas donation to the institute would be a gift that is wanted, needed and useful. Not all Christmas gifts this year will fall into that category. The insttitue is classified as a charitable, non-profit organization. For that reason contributions are tax deductible.

The address of the Marin Institute on Alcoholism is 745 B Street, San Rafael.

Thanks For Help In Search For Dog

Editor, Independent-Journal:

When my boys came home Wednesday night and told me that they had asked you for help in finding their dog, I was a little appalled but very touched at your response.

You will never know the lift it gave those children to know that you were going to help them. The youngest had eyes free from tears for the first time that day. They were able to settle down to their homework without worrying. When the oldest went to bed he said, "I just know that we will get Smokey back now."

Even though the dog came home on his own after being gone four days, your help in restoring their confidence and hope was immeasurable. Don't ever withhold this kind of help from another child because this one back-fired.

Our Christmas preparations had come to a complete halt after the dog was lost, but now we can look forward to a wonderful day. May your Christmas be as merry.

I can never thank you enough.

Meetings Comment Hit Bullseye

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Now and then a writer really hits a bullseye. Your "Year's Longest Nights Are Those of Annual Meetings" is a classic that deserves a place alongside of Robert Benchley's "The Treasurer's Report."

I think your article should have national quotation. Also it should be at the side of the napkins at the head table of all annual meetings.

Herewith for your use, if you wish it is a comprehensive course in public speaking. "Be Prepared. Be Brief. Be Seated."

It is axiomatic that no speech should be read. I feel like hollering at the speaker, "Oh, shut up. Give me a copy. I can read it very quickly."

La Paz Project Would Welcome Aid

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On behalf of the Novato- La Paz Project Committee, I wish to thank you for your recent publicity.

When I visited in the homes and schools of La Paz, in Baja California, Mexico, I was so favorably impressed with those wonderfully friendly, respectful, and wellgroomed children that I had to share my enthusiasm with others.

. . . These children (approximately 60 of them, ages 7 to 16) are well trained and ready to come to various parts of the United States to stay during July and August and, accompanied by their teachers, help to teach Spanish in our summer sessions. Our school administration sees no problem in having them enroll in our summer school program. Summer school usually lasts for five weeks.

We are already having a good response in offers to host the children for a five-week period. We will also need homes for the two teachers from La Paz who will accompany the 10 to 12 children for the five weeks. . . .

If any of your readers would like to do something that will help others understand and appreciate our way of life, as well as leave a lasting impression on our children, send any amount you feel you would like to the Novato-La Paz Project Account, Novato Branch of Crocker Citizens Bank.

We need funds for transportation — $60 for a half fare child; $120 will bring a child over 12 years of age. The teachers will pay their own way. . . .

If you wish further information or would like to help the committee, phone Mrs. William E. Bolton. Other members of this committee are Mrs. Richard G. Prasil, Mrs. Phillip E. Rosenberg, Mrs. Louis Dorshkind and Ralph Giovanniello.

Republican Leaders Not United On Whether Birchers Wanted

WASHINGTON — The Republican leaders keep saying boo, but the John Birch Society just won't go away.

The party is having a hard time getting the tentacles of the John Birchers from around its neck. It's not easy.

Probably one reason it's not easy is that the GOP leaders are not entirely united on whether they want to succeed.

This was the reason the extremists-get-out resolution had to be considered watered down before it was finally passed by the Republican Coordinating Committee this week. In the end it didn't name any names — just said the GOP ought to "reject radical or extremist organizations." Instantly a spokesman for the John Birchers said he certainly agreed with that kind of resolution, but it couldn't mean them.

THE REPUBLICAN leaders had not expected the Birch Society to like their resolution so much so soon. They were obviously taken back when John Rousselot, its public relations director, said he thought the GOP was wise in citing the Birchers because "they had never attempted to use the Republican party for their own ends."

You will find Republicans who dispute that statement. One would be Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota who finds a Birchite candidate trying to unseat him in the primary next year because Mundt, one of the most conservative Republicans in Congress, isn't conservative enough.

In California the Birchers are so eager to get Ronald Reagon the Republican nomination for governor that they have offered him either support or opposition. "We'll openly endorse you," he was told, "or we'll openly oppose you—whichever you feel would help the most."

Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, said that "if Mr. Rousselot endorsed our resolution, he couldn't have understood it."

THAT'S THE PENALTY which comes from resolutions which deal in generalities. Its anti-extremist resolution is a good beginning toward getting the GOP back to its political center, but it will have to make it stronger to make it stick.

In its only other resolution, the Republican Coordinating Committee couldn't have been more specific. It both endorsed and criticized the president's course in Viet Nam.

The position of the Republican leaders is that the administration is right in defending South Viet Nam but wrong in not doing more. They make two specific proposals:

1. An immediate naval quarantine of North Viet Nam to prevent military supplies from reaching its ports.

2. "Maximum use of U.S. air power against all significant military targets" in the north.

By advancing these proposals as official party policy, the Republicans are obviously getting ready to make the trend of the war in Viet Nam a 1966 campaign issue—if it seems advantageous.

There is no reason why they shouldn't. It is perfectly fair politics. And the Republicans can raise the issue — the issue of how well the administration is fighting the war — in good faith and in good conscience, because, more than some leading Democrats, they have supported strongly every measure the president has taken. They simply argue that he should be doing more.

It is, of course, easy to criticize when you don't have the responsibility for action—and for its consequences.

The issue will almost certainly not be as simple as the Republicans would like to make it. Take the quarantine proposal. The question is not alone whether a quarantine would be desirable, in itself, but whether it might do more harm by widening the war.

But it is well that the Republicans, as firm supporters of the defense of South Viet Nam, are bringing these matters into the open. They deserve to be fully explored and openly debated.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Government Seeking American Defectors

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Federal authorities are conducting a worldwide search to ascertain the wherabouts of nine of the 21 former U.S. prisoners of war who defected to Red China in the Korean war.

Although the Central Intelligence Agency and the Justice Department have been able over the years to keep close tabs on twelve of these former turncoats, the others have mysteriously disappeared.

The missing defectors include four of the 14 who returned to the U.S. after living for a number of years in Communist China. Federal officials haven't been able to locate the four during the past several years.

ACCORDING TO information compiled by government investigative agencies, the four missing turncoats being tracked in the U.S. and the latest information regarding them are as follows:

"Sgt. Richard G. Corden of Chicago, Ill., arrived in San Francisco on Jan. 19, 1959. He lived in Milwaukee in 1961; Chicago in 1962. Present employment and residence unknown.

"Cpl. Andrew Fortuna of Greenup, Ky., returned to U.S. July 3, 1957. Worked as laborer at Portsmouth, Ohio, in 1958; Detroit, 1963-64; and Chicago, March 1964. Last reported August 1964, to be at Salvation Army Center, 1401 Madison Street, Gary, Indiana.

"Pfc. Otto Grayson Bell, formerly of East Olympia, Wash.; last reported working as handyman in Olympia in December, 1964. He returned from Communist China in July, 1955.

"Cpl. Aaron P. Wilson, of Urania, La., returned to the U.S. on Dec. 6, 1956. As of May, 1964, Wilson reportedly was employed in New Orleans. His recent location and work not known."

U.S. AUTHORITIES have a good idea where the other 10 returned defectors are living and working, although some of their activities could be deemed mysterious.

For example: Pfc. Morris P. Willis, Fort Ann, N.Y., most recent returned turncoat, is working on an article on life in Red China for a national magazine. The publishers are keeping Willis in close seclusion.

Intelligence authorities charged with the surveillance of the six defectors who have not returned to the U.S. are having great difficulty keeping track of them.

Cpl. Howard G. Adams, Corsicana, Texas; Pfc. James G. Veneria, Vandergrift, Pa.; and Pfc. Clarence C. Adams, Washington, D.C., are believed to be still in Communist China. But CIA has had no "hard information" on them since 1963.

Pfc. Adams is listed in intelligence files as a student at Wu Han University, Wu Han, China, in 1957; Cpl. Adams, working in Shantung Paper Mill, Tsinan, in 1960; and Pfc. Veneria as "somewhere in Communist China in January, 1963."

Cpl. John R. Dunn, a former potato chip salesman from Altoona, Pa., was reported to have left China in December, 1959, for Zilina, Czechoslovakia. Cpl. Harold Webb, of Jacksonville, Fla., was residing in Katowice, Poland, in January, 1964. Although it is known he married a Polish girl and worked as an English tutor in Katowice, his present whereabouts is unknown.

Cpl. Albert Constant Belhomme, who worked in a paper mill in Tsinan, China, after defecting, was traced to Antwerp, Belgium, in November, 1963, where U.S. authorities lost his trail.

REP. MICHAEL FEIGHAN, D.-O., chairman of the House immigration investigating subcommittee, is planning a full-scale inquiry of state and defense department handling of these turncoats.

He wants to determine why the returned defectors have not been prosecuted, and whether they have ties with the Communists.

Santa Claus Has Many Helpers At Post Office On Peninsula

St. Nick will be delivering his gifts on Friday night, and Friday also marks the end of the busiest season of the year for his helpers at the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office.

Postmaster Theodore J. Lehman says planning for the Christmas rush begins about Oct. 1. "We analyze our needs based on past years and the growth of the area. And the area is growing."

Lehmann says the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office has 26 regular employees: 12 carriers, 11 clerks, a superintendent of mails, an assistant postmaster and himself. The branch has seven vehicles for eight regular routes.

"THIS YEAR we decided we needed 18 extra hands for the increased work load and have hired 12 additional carriers and six clerks since Dec. 11. We also rented extra vehicles.

"We just didn't have the space for the anticipated parcel post so we rented a room at 1610 Tiburon Boulevard to sort the parcels. And we were lucky to find the place just across Juanita Lane from the post office."

Lehmann says the rush on incoming mail started about Dec. 1 and reached its peak last Saturday. The rush on outgoing mail started around Thanksgiving and continued until last Saturday also when it began to dwindle off.

"And we've kept right on top of it," Lehmann declares.

POSTMEN COVER both incorporated Tiburon and Belvedere, serving about 3,500 homes and businesses with an estimated population of 12,500 In addition there are 700 boxes at the post office on Beach Road and Juanita Lane, Tiburon.

"Carriers start work at 6 a.m. sorting out packages that have arrived and getting them on their way. We still only have one delivery a day, but two men working on it.

"We are very careful about enforcing the rule on not leaving packages on porches or on top of mail boxes," Lehmann says. "But we try delivering them three times before we leave a notice informing a resident he has to come down to the post office to get a package.

"It will all be over Friday when we let our extra help go and return the rented vehicles. We can all relax then and enjoy Christmas ourselves," Lehmann sighed.

"Of course, Monday will be a heavy mail day for us, too," he added. "That's the day when all the bills start to arrive for delivery."

AND SPEAKING of mail, someone did come up with a new wrinkle this Christmas.

At our house we received a throwaway ad from a hardware store inviting one and all to pack up their youngsters and come down to meet Mrs. Santa Claus. Mrs. Santa Claus?

There was a very jolly picture of her, with ruddy cheeks and wearing spectacles. She looked like she baked good cookies. And why wasn't she at home at the North Pole making some?

It struck me as just another case of women creeping into the realm of what properly is a man's world.

ART BUCHWALD

Follow Dr. Spock's Reasoning And See Family Go To Pieces

WASHINGTON — Dr. Spock, America's leading authority on children, has come up with some revolutionary ideas for Christmas. He says that the holiday season is so overdone that children go to pieces under the tension and he warns that Christmas exploits and fosters children's naturally greedy tendencies.

To solve the problem the good doctor thinks we should do away with mass family gatherings and visits, that we should leave children home when shopping, that we should be shielded from live Santas, and that a child should be limited to only one or, at the most, two Christmas presents.

The scene is Christmas morning. A 10-year-old child comes running down the stairs in his pajamas while his parents sit nervously by the Christmas tree.

THERE ARE two packages under the tree. The boy rips them both open. "Oh, boy," he cries, "an Erector set and a pair of galoshes." He starts looking behind the tree. "Where's the other stuff?" he asks.

The mother says, "That's all there is, son."

"All there is?" the boy says. "But it's Christmas."

"We know that, son," the father says. "But Dr. Spock says you should only get one or at the most two Christmas presents this year."

"Who's Dr. Spock?"

"He is a very famous pediatrician and he writes books on how to raise children. He says the more presents we buy you, the more chance you have of going to pieces on Christmas Day."

The boy says, "He must be some kind of a nut."

"HE IS NOT a nut. He is a very distinguished man who knows what goes on in the minds of children."

"Well, if he's not a nut, he's a fink," the boy cries. "What kind of a Christmas is this, anyway?"

"Dr. Spock is just trying to keep your greedy tendencies in check. He says the less we give you, the happier you will be."

The boy screams, "I'm not greedy. I only want what's coming to me."

"But if we gave you everything you wanted, you would just go to pieces. We don't want you to have a nervous breakdown."

"What's a nervous breakdown?"

"It's when you get sick and depressed."

"But I'm sick and depressed now."

"Yes, but you would be much worse if you got a lot of presents."

"I'm going to tell grandma this afternoon," the boy says.

"She's not coming over this afternoon," the mother tells the son.

"WHY NOT?"

"Because Dr. Spock doesn't believe in mass family gatherings at Christmas time. He says it will only unnerve you. The three of us are going to spend a quiet day together."

"Without any toys?"

"We'll sing Christmas carols," the father says.

"What am I going to tell all my friends when they ask me what I got for Christmas?" the boy asks.

"Tell them you may not have material things, but mentally you're much better off than they are."

"They'll never believe it," the boy says. "I think I'm having a nervous breakdown." He begins to cry and won't stop.

The father says, "Now, calm down while your mother opens her two presents."

"Two presents?" the mother starts weeping. "I thought Dr. Spock was only talking about children."

The father says, "I never saw so many people go to pieces in my life."

RESOLUTION NO. 102
RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO THE CITY OF NOVATO OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED HIGHWAY 37—ANNEXATION NO. 1 AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NOVATO:
1. That it has come to the attention of the City Council of the City of Novato, and this Council finds, that it would be for the best interests of said City and of the residents of the contiguous area herein described to alter the boundaries of said City by annexing thereto and incorporating therein as a part thereof under the provisions of the annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, as amended, certain property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, hereby designated Highway 37—Annexation No. 1, and described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof.
2. The reasons why the City of Novato desires said annexation are as follows:
(a) Said territory because of its location and other features should be governed in its development by the same zoning and planning regulations which govern territory within the City of Novato.
(b) Because of its location, said territory will receive the benefit of and should therefore participate in supporting the municipal services of said city.
3. The City of Novato has heretofore filed with the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County, a notice of intention to annex the territory more particularly described in Exhibit "A". Said notice contained the specific boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed. The description of said territory was submitted to the Marin County Boundary Commission, and the attached description is in accordance with the report of said Commission. Thereafter, the Local Agency Annexation Commission of Marin County after public hearing did approve said proposed annexation.
4. That Tuesday, January 18, 1966, at the hour of 8 o'clock P.M., in the Council Chambers, Novato Community House, in the City of Novato, County of Marin, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory above described and proposed to be annexed to the City of Novato, and having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the Council of the City of Novato and show cause why such uninhabited territory should not be so annexed to the City of Novato. The protest must be in writing, may be filed at any time before the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed annexation, and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of property affected and the description and area of such property, in general terms.
5. The City Clerk of the City of Novato is hereby authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Novato Advance, a newspaper of general circulation published in said City of Novato and in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin, said publication to be complete at least twenty (20) days prior to the date set for hearing.
6. The City Clerk is directed to cause written notice to be given to such other persons as may be legally entitled thereto, in the manner required by law.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

How tall will I get to be? This question is of more concern to children who are tall or short for their age. X-ray studies of the bones of the wrist and hand probably offer the most accurate predictions because the changes in the growing ends (epiphyses) of the bones mirror the maturation level at all times. When these bone centers fuse, no more linear growth occurs. This usually takes place at the end of adolescence, which is age 19 in the boy and slightly earlier in the girl.

THE SKELETAL age of a person does not always follow the chronological age. It is determined by studying the ends of the bone and referring to a special table. The girl who is tallest at age 12 may be the most advanced. If the former begins to mature she may go through an early growth spurt with an early cessation of growth. The shorter girl may continue at a slower pace and mature later in her teens. If she spends a longer time growing, she may end up the taller of the two.

Heredity plays a major role in the developing skeleton, but in reality the skeletal age also is altered by illness, the endocrine glands, and nutrition. The role of exercise is difficult to assess.

SPECIALISTS in this field are able to predict the adult height of a child with a far degree of accuracy. The error will be 1 inch or less when the X-rays are made before 12 to 14 years of age and less than ½ inch after this time. Other body dimensions are not necessarily related to skeletal age. The X-rays often disclose if the child is ahead or behind schedule as far as sexual maturity is concerned.

Predicting growth has many emotional implications. The tall, athletic girl may value femininity and consider herself inferior until told that she is a fast grower. The reverse may occur to the small immature boy. His day will come, but he must wait for it.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

TWITCHING EXTREMITIES

I. McC. writes: Please advise me regarding the treatment of Parkinson's disease. I have twitching of the arms and legs but not the head. Why are doctors reluctant to treat this condition?

REPLY

Physicians are not reluctant to treat Parkinson's disease, but they may balk when they do not believe that the twitching is caused by this disorder. There are many drugs and an operation that lessen the muscle rigidity and typical tremor.

TISSUE DEGENERATION

E. J. writes: I have a ganglion on the back of my wrist. My job requires the lifting of heavy trays. Is there any connection between my job and the lesion on my wrist?

REPLY

This is dobtful. A ganglion is a cyst that develops on the wrist as a result of tissue degeneration. Hard work may aggravate the swelling.

TWITCHING MUSCLES

J. M. writes: What might cause twitching of the calves of the legs? I am 65 and walk 10 miles per week.

REPLY

Irritable muscles often twitch. This may be due to poor circulation, arthritis, arch trouble, or too much coffee, tea and tobacco. Many persons of your age walk 10 or more miles every day.

CHEST HERNIA

K. B. P. writes: Could a person have a hernia in the chest?

REPLY

Yes. The most common type is protrusion through an opening in the diaphragm and is known as a hiatus, or diaphragmatic hernia.

Customers Have Wide Range For Shopping

DALLAS (UPI) —Harding Lawrence, president of Braniff International, says this mobile age has a breed of consumers who move about fast and want interesting things to buy and to do.

"We are living in an age when the consumer can say, 'if I can't get it here in Dallas, I'll pick it up on my next flight to New York, Chicago or Houston,'" he said in a recent speech.

Hamilton Loses New Construction To Pentagon's Ax

Almost $1 million in new construction planned for Hamilton Air Force Base this year was wiped out yesterday when the Pentagon ordered a cutback in military construction to make more money available for the fighting in Viet Nam.

Two dormitories for airmen were eliminated. One would have cost $400,000, and the other $418,000, according to federal estimates. They would have replaced dormitories on the base which were built during World War II.

The other cut for Hamilton was construction of a warm-up and holding pad near a runway strip, to be used for maintenance and operation of jet planes. This project was estimated to cost $149,000.

In all, $45,467,000 in construction in California was killed.

Given Probation

Charles Claude Winslow, 37, Santa Rosa, was fined $276 and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Oct. 11 by San Rafael police on Third Street.

Almost 40 million persons visited national parks in 1964.

Stolen Goods Trial Scheduled Feb. 28

William Patrick Maloney, 24, was scheduled for jury trial Feb. 28 in Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of possession of stolen goods.

Maloney, of 182 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, allegedly had in his home articles including four beer steins, sterling silver, and furniture which were taken in a burglary last February of the home of Kermit H. Fisher, 635 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia.

Heavy Trucks Banned At Sea Haven

Marin County supervisors yesterday, after learning of damage done to the pavement by heavy trucks, ordered a ban on trucks of seven tons or more on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard beyond Sea Haven near Inverness.

Agricultural vehicles would be excepted.

The damage has come from equipment used to construct roads for Point Reyes National Seashore. Public Works Director Donald R. Frost has declared that his efforts to get some compensation from contractors have failed.

The ban was adopted unanimously by the board as an emergency ordinance, meaning it took effect at once.

The power used by an electric toaster to toast one slice of bread would operate the (Accutron) clock on the control panel of Gemini 5 for 250 years.

Repeat Thefts Ire Restaurant Owner

The Schooner, Sausalito restaurant on Gate Five Road in Marinship, was broken into last night for the sixth time within 18 months.

Maryannis's wife, Anna, discovered the latest burglary when she opened the restaurant at 6:20 a.m. today. Loot included beer and cigarettes—$200 worth, Maryannis said.

"About a month ago someone broke into my home and stole $3,000 in cash, including my coin collection," Maryannis related. "Another time they took $90 in change from my restaurant. And one time they broke eggs, cooked steaks and slept here."

Mrs. Maryannis reported to police that the burglar entered by breaking a window.

A cigarette machine was broken open and 23 cartons of cigarettes plus an unknown amount of change was taken. In addition, eight cases of beer were stolen.

The Maryannises live at 518 Nevada Street.

Playground Building Approved For School

The 450-square-foot facility will be financed on a 50-50 basis with the Tiburon Peninsula Little League and is expected to cost about $10,000. The plans must be approved by the state division of architecture.

The Reed School District board also:

1. Agreed to seek $3,700 in federal funds for a pre-school program aimed at finding potential problem learners.

2. Approved creating a new teaching position at Granada School because of increased enrollment. Enrollment has gone from 249 to 282 since September.

3. Accepted the resignation of Mary C. Rogers, second grade teacher at Reed School, and hired Patricia McCoy to replace her.

4. Appointed administrative intern L. Wesley Johnson as Reed District summer school principal at a salary of $1,000.

English Walker Ordered To Jail

She was ordered locked up yesterday after she refused to give a judge assurance that she would not interfere with a neighbor's right of way over a shared forecourt at her home in Surrey.

Dr. Moore gained fame in 1960 with her 3,200-mile hike across America. The judge set no time limit on how long she would have to be in jail.

Store Fire Routs Shoppers

OAKLAND (UPI) — Thousands of Christmas shoppers fled into the streets yesterday when fire broke out in the huge Montgomery Ward and Company store.

Firemen estimated that between 7,000 and 8,000 shoppers and employees were in the 11-story structure when smoke began seeping through it.

No injuries were reported and firemen confined the flames to an electrical equipment center where they began.

Damage to wiring was estimated at $70,000, but there was no immediate estimate of the loss from smoke damage or lost sales. Manager William Barger said the store would be open today.

Amputee Aims At Space Post

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Navy pilot Lt. Cmdr. Frank K. Ellis, despite the loss of the lower part of his legs, wants to become an astronaut. The Navy approves of his ambition and is backing his candidacy.

"If Ellis were fully qualified he would have been rated fifth in the list of 70 candidates," Adm. David MacDonald, chief of naval operations, wrote the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Ellis, 32, lost his ankles and feet in 1962 when he bailed out of a jet moments before it crashed near Point Mugu, Calif. He has continued as a pilot with artificial limbs.

Fairfax Asks Federal Coin For Special Education Plan

The Fairfax School District board last night agreed to contract with the county schools office for help in setting up a program using federal funds which the district hopes to get to aid pupils considered educationally handicapped.

Supt. Homer Sisk said the district will pay five per cent of the expected funds, about $20,400, to the county office for the services of a coordinator who will help set up special classes.

To obtain the funds, the district must identify a "target area" in which families have the least money. Sisk said he hopes to establish the whole district as such an area.

Special classes, he said, will probably be set up in language arts and mathematics. They will provide remedial work but will tie in with regular classes also.

Sisk said the district hopes to have the program underway by next semester.

The four board members present tried in vain once more to name the school they plan to build on White's Hill.

They reached 2-2 deadlocks on at least 10 names, Sisk reported.

Among these were Canada de Herrera, Blacksmith Canyon, Smith Valley, Westwood, Buckeye Canyon, Oak Canyon and Hillside. To Sisk's chagrin, someone also prposed his name. It was rejected, he said, as being too hard to pronounce in conjuncetion with the word "school."

Two Cars Stolen From Sausalito

Two car thefts were reported to Sausalito police today..

Paula Espinosa reported that her 1958 four door Chevrolet sedan was stolen from a parking spot across from her home at 428 Turney Street. Dick Weening of 529 North Street said his 1959 Chrysler Saratoga was stolen from in front of his home.

Sayers Is Runaway Winner As NFL Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears' exciting halfback, has been voted Rookie of the Year in a season that has been called the Year of the Rookie in the National Football League.

Sayers won by a landslide in the voting of a panel of 42 sports writers and sportscasters, three from each of the 14 league cities, in an Associated Press poll.

The former Kansas star received 35 votes, fullback Ken Willard of the San Francisco 49ers and North Carolina drew four and linebacker Dick Butkus of the Bears and Illinois, got three.

Although several members of the panel suggested The AP name a rookie on both offense and defense, because of the greater opportunity for an offensive man to attraction attention, it was decided to select only one winner as in the past. Butkus probably would have won easily if there had been a separate poll for defense.

Sayers simply was sensational. There was no other word for it. The six touchdowns he scored against San Francisco, tying the mark set by Ernie Nevers in 1929, and the record-breaking total of 22 touchdowns in his first season made him a standout in a year of good rookies.

"Gale Sayers has everything," said Jim Brown, Cleveland's great runner, when both appeared at the same luncheon recently. "He has the acceleration, speed, power, hands and the mental ability and supreme confidence to do the job for 10 or 12 more years."

Just to review some of the testimonials to Sayers during the season:

"Sayers could be the greatest of them all,"-Owner-coach George Halas of the Bears.

In addition to setting the TD record with 22, Sayers led the league in scoring with 132 points and finished second to Jim Brown in rushing with 217 yards and a 5.2-yard average.

The 6-foot, 198-pound newcomer also ranked second in punt returns with a 14.9-yard average and second in kickoff returns with a 31.4-yard average. Every now and then he would throw a pass.

Butkus, the big bruiser from Illinois, roamed the league knocking down people, intercepting passes and making life miserable for fullbacks and assorted offensive players. He had such a fine year that he was voted middle linebacker on The AP's first team.

Willard showed what he could do in the All-America game at Buffalo last June and carried it right on through the season with the 49ers. The North Carolina product, No. 1 draft choice by San Francisco, wound up fourth in rushing with 778 yards on 189 carries and averaged 4.1 yards.

The 1964 Rookie of the Year was Charley Taylor of Washington who was injured in the Redskins' first exhibition game and never hit his true stride until late season.

Oklahoma Finally Finds New Head Grid Mentor

JIM MURRAY

Now I'm El Cid On A Two-Wheel 'Hog'

It's taken a little thought but I finally know what I want for Christmas — black denim trousers and motorcycle boots and a black leather jacket with an eagle on the back.

I may also want a spiked helmet, a swastika or two, and I'll have to find a dame who looks like Moonbeam McSwine to ride around with me. I'll have to let my hair and my beard grow and I won't be able to take a bath for at least a year. I'll get "Hell's Angels—Berdoo" stencilled on the back of my jacket.

I have become Marlon Murray, one of the Wild Ones. You see, I got a "hog" the another night by appearing on coach Tommy Prothro's Bruin TV show.

Well, it's not really a "hog." A "hog" is one of those big Harleys or Triumphs, the kind of cycles the German couriers used to run down dogs and chickens —and people—with in World War II—low, brutish machines with drivers to match.

MY "HOG" is really a Suzuki trail bike 80—a kind of a slant-eyed hog. My wife thinks it's going to be fine for running up to the market for a late bottle of milk when unexpected guests show up for dinner, or for borrowing a cup of sugar from the Daniels' or whipping a few shirts down to the laundromat.

But that's what she thinks. What she doesn't know is what comes over a man when he gets aboard one of these two-wheeled symbols of manhood. You feel like El Cid, Billy the Kid, King Arthur and Roy Rogers all at once. The first thing you notice is that all those Cadillacs and Chryslers and Continental's bully you all over the road. The next thing you notice is that all their inmates look at you as if they can't understand why you have not been imprisoned or at least committed. You are clearly what the police department blotter refers to as a "vag lewd" — mounted division.

I CAN'T SEE why this is true in my case. In the first place, my 200 pounds makes the poor little cycle look faintly as if it had its tongue hanging out carrying me. If they had a society for the prevention of cruelty to motorcycles, I would be one of the first indicted. In the second place, I haven't yet mastered the technique of getting it out of first gear without falling off. This makes me fair game for every dog on the point of land where I live. I really don't cut a very dashing figure at all. I can't get goggles over my horn-rimmed glasses. I'll tell you something else: motorcycles are like horses. They KNOW when they've got a greenhorn in the saddle. They BUCK on you, baby. Usually, when there's a big truck right behind you or you're in a busy—a VERY busy —intersection. It gets busier when the critter throws you over the handlebars.

NONETHELESS, a man can dream. And in my mind's eye,

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL
ON VACATION

I don't see myself tootling down theh ighway at a scorching 17 mph in first gear forgetting to turn off the hand throttle when I brake. I see Marlon Murray, the scourge of the two-wheelers, addressing his group of Hell Divers in San Berdoo, and outlining the big raid. I'm wearing a T-shirt and I'm scratching. My "hog" is purring silently by my side.

"Al right, you guys, now, this it IT. The big one. We're going to raid a small town in Northern California. San Francisco. Now you all have your orders. Dirty Joe, you're going to raid all the candy stores. Big Duke, you bring the marshmallows. Buzzard, you will lead us in song, and Arapahoe Joe, you be the chaplain. Now, adjust your coal scuttles and we're ready to go. Remember, no smoking. Gentlemen, start your engines."

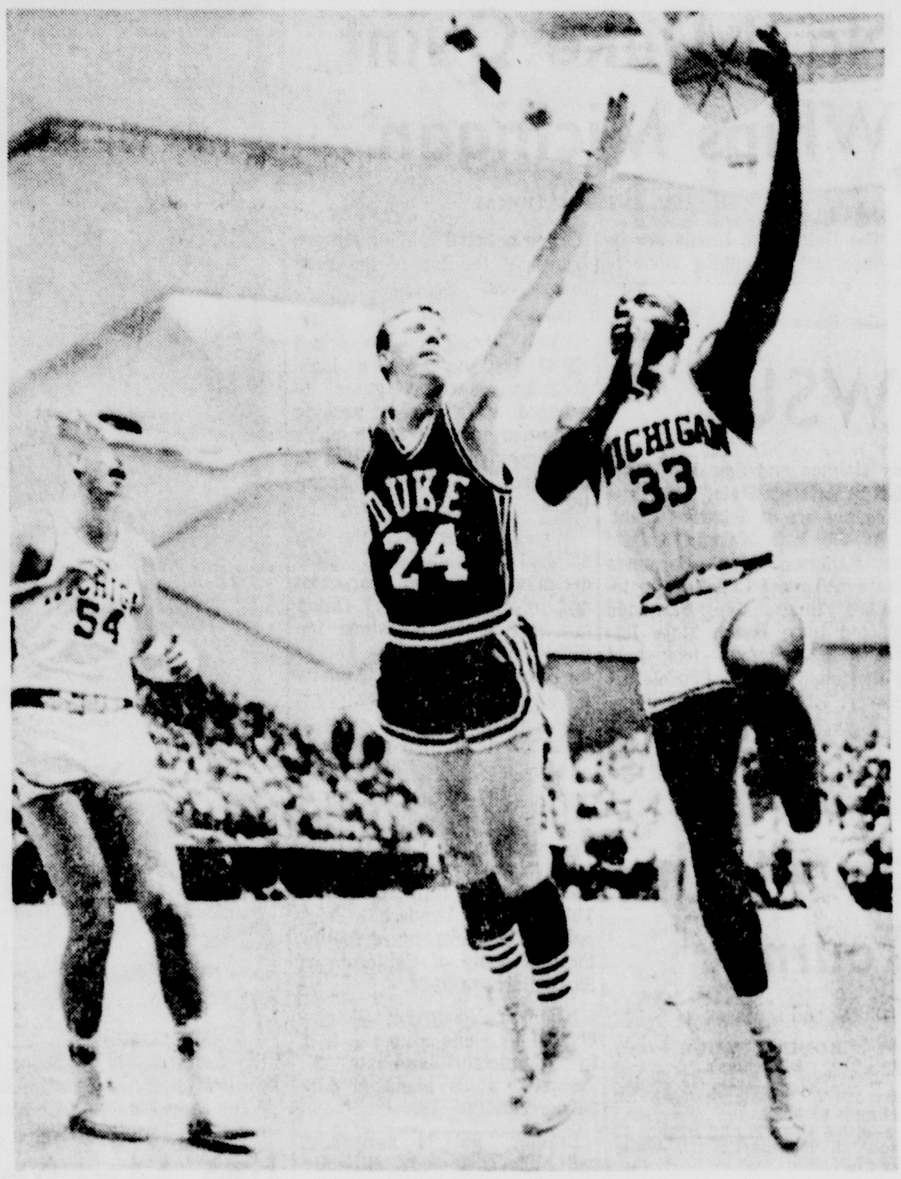
FROM THE BACK of the crowd comes a troublemaker. "Wait a minute, Marlon, you can't lead a Hell Diver raid in a little old trail bike. Why you might as well lead us in a Schwinn!"

Justice for the mutineer will be swift. "Seize that man and strip him of his jelly beans," I will order. "And sentence him to five days at the wash basin. Cut off his sideburns." He will be led, screaming, out, by a security officer with soap and towel, his piteous cries of "Anything but that!" drowned out in the roaring of 50 one-cylinder trail bikes with loose chains.

"But, Marlon," a protest will come from another one of the Smith Bros. on bike-back. "Why San Francisco? I thought we were going to Monterey for the Jazz Festival."

"JAZZ FESTIVAL!" I'll squelch him. "Who needs that high-brow music? That's for the bourgeois. We're going to attend the San Francisco opera to hear Lohengrin—a real way-out, modern sound. After that, we're going over to the art museum to look at some dirty pictures."

My reverie was interrupted. I heard my wife on the phone. "Yes, honey," she was saying. "We need a cup and a half of sugar. Pammy's making a cake. Jim will be over on his bicycle in about a half-hour. What? Well, I figure it's about three-quarters of a mile. So, in first gear, with two engine stalls and allowing for a couple of fall-offs at Grayfox Hill, he should make it easily in that time. Get Tom to hold the bike for him as he starts home, will you?"



CAGE TITANS DUEL

Michigan's star forward Cazzie Russell tried to hook over Duke's Jack Marin last night at Detroit. Both scored 29 points as the top-ranked Blue Devils surged from 10 points back to tie Michigan in the last minute and then won in overtime 100-93. The Wolverines were ranked fifth. Last year the Wolves beat Duke in Durham, N.C., after the Devils had beaten them in the NCAA semifinals the previous year. See story on page 30.

Arkansas Assistant Gets Job

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Arkansas assistant Jim Mackenzie, pledging to revitalize Oklahoma's sagging football fortunes, was named today to be the Sooners new head coach.

The 35-year-old Arkansas aide, named after a 16-day search for a new coach, said from Brownsville, Tex:

"I hope to incorporate the same type of offense that Frank Broyles has used so successfully at Arkansas."

Mackenzie said he was "very thrilled" to get the job, and pledged that he would go to work immediately to rebuild the Sooners into a football power.

Dr. George L. Cross, university of Oklahoma president, said the Athletic Council had recommended unanimously that Mackenzie be given the post.

"Their recommendation, in effect, was that we go no further," Cross said.

Cross said Gomer Jones, who Mackenzie replaces, "had previously spoken of Mackenzie as being his choice."

Cross also said university regents will formally vote on Mackenzie's appointment at their next meeting Jan. 13.

Mackenzie, a former star tackle at Kentucky under Paul 'Bear' Bryant, says there is no doubt on that score. "I don't want there to be any mistake," he said. "If I am offered the job, I will take it. That is definite."

Contacted at Brownsville, where the undefeated Arkansas team is practicing for a Jan. 1 date with Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl classic, Mazkenzie said, "Any official announcement will have to come from the University of Oklahoma."

Mackenzie, top assistant to Broyles, said he will probably remain with Arkansas until after the Cotton Bowl game.

"Frank wants me to and I think the publicity will hurt us that much," he said. Mackenzie, known as a superlative recruiter, added, "Besides, I don't think the publicity will hurt us any with Texas boys.

Mackenzie was one of three coaches interviewed by Oklaho-

Garrett May Be Busy As Beaver

The West's head coach, John Ralston of Stanford, in outlining offensive strategy for the Dec. 31 charity battle at Kezar Stadium, said:

Asked if using the spread might mean Garrett would run less than the 30 or so times he usually carried the ball for Southern California, Ralston replied:

"No. He might carry 35 times. He might even carry 40."

Where the West has an All America back in Garrett, the East has one in fullback Jim Grabowski of Illinois, the 220-pounder just signed by the Green Bay Packers for a reported $250,000.

Garrett was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League and Kansas City of the AFL but says he won't make any decision until after he plays baseball for USC this spring.

So many of the players on the East squad have big money offers or have already signed that head coach Ben Schartzalder of Syracuse quipped that they should be underdogs.

"John's boys are going to be the hungry ones," the East coach declared.

The squads assembled today for the annual visit to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children. The 40 previous East - West games have earned $4,772,618 for the charity. When this game is played, the total will exceed $5 million.

After visiting the youngsters and attending a civic luncheon, the 25 players on each squad go to their training camps—Santa Clara for the East and Stanford for the West.

Warriors Vs. Pistons In Capitol City

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors bid farewell to California for the year tonight with a game in Sacramento against the Detroit Pistons, who occupy last place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors have won only four of their past 15 games and rest in third place, four games behind division-leading Los Angeles.

Included in the Warriors' trip is a home game at Miami, Fla., of all places. That's where rookie Rick Barry used to play and the San Francisco management hopes there are still enough people there who'll pay to see the former Miami University star cavort among the pros.

A POSSIBLE SPRING BOUT

Clay Vs. Brian London?

LONDON (AP) — British boxing promoter Laurie Lewis left London by air Wednesday confident he could arrange a world heavyweight title fight between champion Cassius Clay and former British champion Brian London.

Lewis is working with Jack Solomons in a bid to stage the fight in London next spring, and Lewis said, "There are excellent chances the fight will go on."

Solomons said: "We are thinking of putting on the fight at the World Sporting Club in London. We could get 1,200 fans to pay 100 guineas ($294) each."

That would bring in $352,800 at the gate. Receipts from closed circuit television in Britain alone would hike the total to something in the region of 1,120,000, the promoters estimated.

More money could be expected from closed circuit television in Europe and the United States, said Ted Francis, a director and adviser of Solomons' World Today, a close circuit television company.

Francis, said there were up to 20 outlets in Britain for closed circuit television. He maintained there were another 20 in Europe plus those in the United States.

Solomons said that Lewis would meet with Bill Faversham, one of Clay's millionaire handlers; Arthur Grafton, an attorney; and manager Angelo Dundee.

"It's up to Clay to suggest the date. We could follow from there," said Solomons.

Drake Bees Dumped In Tournament

The Drake B basketball team dropped a 69-35 decision to Terra Nova yesterday in the first round of the Jefferson High lightweight tourney in Daly City. Terra Nova's pressing defense late in the first half broke the game open and a 20-4 margin in the third quarter iced it.

The Little Pirates played Oceana this morning in the consolation round. Other scores yesterday: South San Francisco 61, San Mateo 53; Carlmont 42, Aragon 29, and Jefferson 41, Oceana 35.

Poly Of S.F. Defeats Marin Catholic Cagers

Big, muscular Poly High of San Francisco struggled to a 43-35 win over Marin Catholic yesterday in Greenbrae, as both clubs neared the end of their pre-league schedule.

Except for a bad second quarter when they were outscored 10-4, the Wildcats gave Poly a pretty even tussle. The Parrots took advantage of their height, particularly 6-2 Kevin Gochet. He worked inside and scored a total of 18 points to lead both teams.

Mike Lasater led the Wildcats wits 14, but no other 'Cat was able to sink more than two field goals.

The Poly 130's downed the Marin Catholic B team 47-34 despite 16 points by Harry Matsinger.

Marin hosts another Academic Athletic Association team from San Francisco tomorrow, when Mission invades at 1 p.m. The B-130 game will follow the varsity clash.

49er Offense Best In League

NEW YORK (AP) — The final team statistics for the National Football League season provide a confusing preview of Sunday's Baltimore-Green Bay playoff game because of the difference between the Colts' season-long passing attack and their current desperate straits.

With Johnny Unitas and, to a lesser extent, Gary Cuozzo, doing the pitching, Baltimore ranked third in passing and fifth in total offense. However, the Colts threw only seven passes last week at Los Angeles and must depend now on Tom Matte's rollout efforts. Baltimore's running attack ranked ninth in the NFL.

Green Bay's sputtering offense as 12th in total ratings, 10th in running and 11 in passing.

Both clubs are comparatively sound on defense where they are closely matched. The Packers were third in total defense, 13th against the rush and led in pass defense. Baltimore was fifth in total, fourth against the run and seventh against the pass.

The league leader in both total offense and passing as San Francisco. The 49ers piled up 5,270 yards total and 3,487 passing. Cleveland led in running offense with 2,331.

Detroit was the over-all leader in defense, permitting 3,557 yards. Los Angeles was toughest to run against, allowing 1,409 yards and Green Bay's pass defense was best with 1,981.

In the vital matter of touchdowns the 49ers and Chicago Bears scored the most, 52 each, and the Packers allowed the fewest, 22.

The best pass rush was Detroit's which smeared the passer 49 times and the best pass blocker was San Francisco which let the enemy dump its quarterback only 19 times all season.

In the individual statistics, Gale Sayers, Chicago's rookie sensation, set a record with 22 touchdowns, bettering Lennie Moore's mark by two, and led the scorers with 132 points.

Cleveland's Jimmy Brown on his eighth rushing title in nine years with 1,544 yards; Rudy Bukich of the Bears took the passing title, hitting on 176 of 312 for 2,641 yards and 20 touchdowns; Dave Parks of San Francisco topped the pass receivers with 80 for 1,344 yards and 12 touchdowns; Baltimore's Bob Boyd was first in interceptions with nine; Cleveland's Gary Collins paced the punters ith a 46.7 average; Leroy Kelly of Cleveland topped the punt return specialists with a 15.6 yard average and Detroit's Tom Watkins led the kickoff returners ith a 34.4 yard average.

No. 1 Duke Quint Whips Michigan

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Duke Blue Devils are no longer just a stepping stone to the top national ranking but are firmly at the top of the heap themselves.

Duke defeated the fifth-ranked Michigan Wolverines 100-93 last night in a high-pressure overtime game to enhance their No. 1 ranking while second-rated St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania was losing to eighth-ranked Brigham Young 103-83.

Michigan took over the top national ranking soon after defeating Duke two years ago and improved its no. 1 rating last season by defeating the Blue Devils. Duke also got to the National Collegiate Athletic Association finals two years ago only to lose the title to UCLA, a team defeated twice this season by the Blue Devils.

Finesse triumphed over brawn in Detroit last night as the diminutive Blue Devils came from far behind to whip the monsters from Michigan. Third-ranked Vanderbilt kept pace with Duke by defeating the University of California at Santa Barbara 91-64.

Brigham Young hit 56 percent of its shots from the field to completely humiliate St. Joseph's, which managed only 30 percent.

Bradley, no. 11 nationally, had unaccustomed difficulty defeating Montana 87-77 for its ninth consecutive victory without a loss, while UCLA, which tumbled from the national rankings after losing three of its first six games, scored 17 consecutive points to overcome a nine-point deficit in the first half and defeat the University of Southern California 86-67.

In other games, Loyola of Chicago defeated St. Joseph's of New Mexico 109-91, West Virginia overcame a 33-27 halftime deficit to beat Maryland 76-74, San Francisco whipped Gonzaga 80-67, Northwestern downed Texas 73-71 to win the Memphis State Classic, Davidson routed Ohio University 96-63, and Indiana easily tripped up Notre Dame 80-58.

WEST COAST BASKETBALL

Bruins Win; 7 Straight For WSU

By U.P. International

UCLA, San Francisco and Seattle have returned to the top of the heap of West Coast basketball powers as usual, but there's a stranger up there beside them.

Washington State made it seven straight last night with a 101-86 victory at tough Idaho. One of the Cougars' bevy of hot sophs, Jim McKean, led the scoring parade with 26, while Idaho's Bob Pipking had 25. Playing in an enemy gym, the Cougars still hooped 53 per cent of their shots and 87 per cent of their free throws.

Many thought Southern California might upset UCLA in their practice battle, but the Bruins scored 17 straight points late in the first half and rolled to an 86-67 win.

GOSS RETURNS

Edgar Lacey and Kenny Washington, disappointing so far in much of the early season play, flashed their best 1965-66 form with 22 and 17 points. And guard Freddie Goss returned to the team after a bout with stomach illness. He still is far from top shape, but he scored four points in seven minutes.

San Francisco was unimpressive in rolling to an 80-67 win over Gonzaga. But it still was the Dons' 26th consecutive in at home and Joe Ellis was at his flashy best as he collected 30 points. The Dons host St. Louis tonight.

STREAK SNAPPED

Seattle hosted a tough customer in Colorado State and managed to squeeze out an 83-78 win to snap a five-game win streak for the Rams. Seattle center Malkin Strong hit 26 points.

In other action yesterday, Santa Barbara invaded Vanderbilt, a team with national title dreams. The Californians were felled 91-64 as All American Clyde Lee of the winners had 24.

Touring San Francisco State flopped at Buffalo, 80-62, and Bradley dispatched Montana, 87-77. But Nevada appeared ready to challenge favored Chico State for the Far Western Conference crown this year after a surprising 97-96 win over Creighton in the first round of the Mississippi Valley Classic at Rock Island, Ill. Nap Montgomery scored 36 and hit the winning basket at the buzzer.

University of Washington hosted Florida and looked disappointing in losing, 66-60. Jerry Keller got 24 for the Gators, who had 24 of 31 from the free throw line while Washington hit only half of its charity losses.

Pepperdine nipped Pasadena, 97-95 behind 31 points by Tandy Holmes and San Jose State fell at Arizona State, 67-62. The Spartans are at Arizona tonight.

At the Kris Kringle Klassic at Fullerton, San Fernando State will meet Chapman in tonight's finals. San Fernando blasted Long Beach State 101-77 while Chapman took host Fullerton, 93-83. Consolation scores: Riverside 97 Sacramento State 82, Irvine 67 Redlands 65. Guard Ollie Carter of San Fernando was the day's star ith a 36-point performance.

350 Kids Compete In Basketball Tourney

About 350 boys turned out yesterday at the San Rafael High School gymnasium for the second day of action in the sixth annual youth basketball tournament, co-sponsored by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce and the San Rafael Park and Recreation Dept.

As was the case Monday, in nearly every game one or both teams found it almost impossible to put the ball in the hoop. There were some good games, however, such as the double overtime struggle won by the Coleman Raiders 10-8 over the San Pedro Barracudas in the elementary school division. Another close battle was the Davidson Golds' 24-22 victory over the Santa Venetia Falcons.

Some of the boys are finding the going a bit rough. Take the Glenwood Trotters, for instance, who were trounced Monday 23-0; yesterday they broke the scoring ice but succumbed again, 18-1. Then there was the shocking case of the Coleman Colts, who must have broken training Monday night. They had won 20-4 that day, but yesterday they played three games and fell 16-0, 16-3 and 10-1. A coaching change is rumored.

The West End Sharks finally got to play after having to settle for a forfeit the day before, but they were rusty due to the enforced layoff and lost 10-6 to the rugged Laurel Dell Gophers.

In the less frenzied world of adult recreation, where everyone breaks training to even up the teams, Ron Pedersen scored 17 to lead the Huskers past the Scats 54-40 in a B game, while the Bus Stop team clipped Marin Gardens 57-51. Mike Wroblewski of the winners and Ken Jaramillo of the losers each had 17.

North And South Coaches Excited Over Grid Talent

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Rival coaches, looking over their squads for the North-South College All-Star game in the Orange Bowl Saturday afternoon, figure they have the best material ever assembled for this affair.

"I'm just plain excited over the wonderful material we have here," said South Coach Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa. "Our only trouble might be in containing those big North linemen long enough to get passes off, but that's just what we will be trying to do."

Dobbs will have his Tulsa combination of Billy Anderson and Howard Twilley. If the North defensive backs gang up on Twilley, Anderson can throw to Bob Dunlevy of West Virginia or George Pearce from William and Mary. Dick Leftridge of West Virginia is fullback.

The South's offensive line will have Don Lynch of Duke and Sam Ball of Kentucky at tackles, Jim Vining of Rice and Tommy Lucas of Ole Miss at guards, with Tulsa's John Osmond in center.

Defenisvely, the South is "not real big but very, very fast," said assistant coach F. A. Dye.

Linebackers include Tommy Nobis of Texas, Doug Buffone of Louisville, Russ Smith of Miami and Bill Clay of Ole Miss.

Up front the South defensively will have Ed Weisacosky of Miami and Pete Lammons of Texas at ends, Ron Buschbom of Navy and Bob Kowalkowski of Virginia with middle guard Frank Bodrick of Texas.

Quarterbacks for Ara Parseghian's North team will be Don Unverforth of Ohio State and Kenny Lucas of Pittsburgh, with Sam Price, Illinois; John Kuzniewski, Purdue, and Dave McNaughton, Penn State as backs.

Tackles will be Bob Meeker, Notre Dame, and Karl Singer, Purdue, with guards Dick Arrington, Notre Dame, and Chuck Ehinger, Penn State. Center will be Fred Hoaglin of Pittsburgh.

Kickoff time is 4:30 p.m., EST.

Mrs. Agnew Is Turkey Winner

There was a turkey at the 18th hole at Las Gallinas yesterday, but Mrs. James L. Agnew was the only golfer to get that far in a flag tourney held by the Women's Golf Club and she took home the bird.

The tourney was held with handicaps, so the quality of golf is somewhat camouflaged in the scoring, Mrs. Agnew got to within 15 feet of the 18th before running out of strokes. Mrs. Kenneth Crawford ran out five inches from the 17th and Mrs. Richard Honey was fifteen inches farther away.

Mrs. Agnew reported that it was cold turkey, mighty cold.

Jim Mackenzie Is New Coach For Oklahoma

ma officials Monday. Others were Oregon State assistant Sam Boghosian and Gene Corrotto, Norman High School coach.

Darrell Royal of Texas, a former Oklahoma quarterback, and Vince Dooley of Georgia were offered the post earlier, but both decided to remain with their present jobs.

The all-out hunt for a new coach began Dec. 6 when Gomer Jones resigned just two days after the Sooners concluded ed a 3-7 season, worst in the school's modern history.

'65 Had Some Fine Moments In Sports World

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) —Looking back at 1965, there were some personal memories that they'll never be able to wring out even when they ring in the new year.

Like the last conversation with Branch Rickey that took place toward the end of January.

He had made a special trip here to help elect the late James (Pud) Galvin to baseball's hall of fame and while few knew anything about Galvin, Rickey did.

"He deserves to be enshrined," said Rickey. "Galvin pitched 649 complete games and any man who does that should be remembered for posterity." . . . .

Then there was that sunny March day in Lakeland, Fla., when a sudden halt was called to all activity in the spring training camp of the Detroit Tigers.

The players were summoned to the clubhouse and told manager Chuck Dresser had suffered a heart attack . . .

Over at Vero Beach, Fla., that same month, Sandy Koufax did some huffing and puffing after finishing 15 laps around the field.

"What I'd like most is to be able to pitch the entire year,' he said, shifting some bubble gum to the other side of his mouth, "This is my 11th year coming up. I'd like to make 15 if I can." . . . .

Still later in March, Dick Groat called the turn on the World Champion Cardinals when asked to predict where they would finish in 1965.

"I really wouldn't care to say," declared Groat at St. Petersburg, Fla. "Some kind of disease seems to have set into this league. Pittsburgh won in 1960 and finished sixth in 1961; Cincinnati won in 1961 and finished third the following year; San Francisco dropped in 1963 after winning in 1962, and then the Dodgers finished sixth in '63 after sweeping the Yankees in '62."

Groat must have known something. The Cards wound up seventh in '65 . . . .

Then it was on to Augusta, Ga., for the Masters in April and it's hard to forget the cloud of frustration that passed over Sammy Snead's face as he didn't even make the cut.

"I feel like burning my clubs," scowled Snead.

"I don't care if they don't pay a penny for winning this one," he said. "I play more for money. Financially, it doesn't mean a whole lot. . .But I'm not gonna give it back." . . .

There was that feeling of utter helplessness among those who watched catcher Johnny Blanchard cry like a baby when the Yankees traded him to the A's in May and that same month, Sonny Liston's trainer, Willie Reddish, came up with the prediction of the century two days before the title fight

Gary Player's U.S. Open victory at St. Louis in June along with his subsequent turnover of the prize money to charity was memorable enough, but even more so in my book, anyway, was the great try made by 44-year-old runnerup Kel Nagle . . .

A month later, after blowing the Insurance City Open, Dave Marr sat down in the kitchen of his apartment and told his wife he'd never win a golf tournament because "there's too much dog in me."

There were tears of happiness in Marr's eyes when he won the PGA title two weeks later at Ligonier, Pa., where he recalled the conversation with his wife.

Casey Stengel broke his hip in July only hours after friends had begged him to go home because it was getting late. Casey wouldn't leave, though. Too busy talking baseball with several of his old-timer buddies. . . .

Then came August, with Johnny Roseboro wondering whatever possessed Juan Marichal to konk him over the head with a bat, and that episode was followed by Manuel Santana's national singles' tennis victory at Forest Hills in September.

Koufax monopolized the month of October although there was a momentary interlude during which Leo Durocher was named manager of the Cubs.

That man Clay was back again in November and it wasn't enough that he beat Floyd Patterson, but then everyone had to listen to how he did it. . . .

Before the year was out, baseball introduced a new commissioner and the White Sox a new manager. Everyone had heard of the manager before but no one had heard of the commissioner. And that's the kind of year it was.

Marin PAL Wants Full Sports Year

Marin Police Athletic League members, in a rejuvenation effort, are investigating a mutual assistance program to work with city park and recreation commissions and other youth groups in the county toward a year-around sports calendar.

Boxing, wrestling, judo and weight lifting have been suggested as sports to concentrate upon. A "sports night" has been suggested to be held twice a year in cities such as San Rafael, Novato and Mill Valley with proceeds to go into the league's treasury.

Such sports need only individual participation and would probably reach more youths than teams of football players, the membership agreed, according to report made yesterday by PAL Secretary Norman Snellgrove.

TROUBLES

The police-supervised county-wide youth program, now a year old, was formed to work with youngsters who have had minor troubles with the law, schools or their families. The two main activities supported this year were a Marin City baseball team for teen-age boys and sponsorship of an old-time vaudeville show which brought in $1,500 to be used for operating expenses.

Team sports have not been ruled out and are to be discussed at another meeting of the league. The board of directors will meet next at 11:30 a.m., Jan. 14, at Zacks-by-the-Bay, Sausalito.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Leonard Lyons, an officer at San Quentin Prison, has been named athletic director and persons with coaching experience, PAL members or not, are encouraged to get in touch with Lyons if they wish to help out, said Snellgrove.

Lt. William Porter, California highway patrolman, is newly elected league president, taking over duties from Herbert Smith, former Sausalito patrolman. Other new officers are Harvey Teague, sheriff's department, vice president; Harvey Zion, Corte Madera Police Department, treasurer, and Snellgrove, of San Quentin, secretary.

Donald E. Midyett, Robert Coppock, Richard Douglas and Teague comprise the board of directors.

Drag Winners

WATERMELON MEN OF NORTH

It looks as if Don Unverferth (left) of Ohio State and Kenny Lucas of Pittsburgh will be throwing watermelons for the North against the South in the annual Christmas Day Shrine game in Miami. Actually, those are footballs and neither they nor the quarterbacks' hands are as large as the angle of this photograph would suggest. Unverferth and Lucas will pose large problems for the South defense, however.

McCone Report Left Out Talk Of Tighter Gun Laws

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

Independent-Journal Sports

Dec. 22, 1965 31

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The recently released McCone Commission report on last August's Watts riots, in one respect, is like the 1957 Booz, Allen and Hamilton study and report on the fish and game department and commission—it was so expensive there's not likely to be another one.

The McCone report had a price tag of $250,000 and, with 88 pages in the text, this figured out to a little better than $2,840 per page.

Perhaps the most interesting reading to the sportsman in the McCone report is what is not written. This is the fact that the report contains no recommendations or conclusions as far as firearm control regulations are concerned.

In his charge to the commission, Gov. Edmund G. Brown included one subsection for a suggested study area: "The weapons used and how they were obtained."

The fires of Watts scarcely had stopped burning before some do-gooders and politicians were attempting to use the outbreak as an argument for stiffer firearms control. This generally was on two scores: (1) Many of the rioters had guns, including rifles used by snipers; and (2) many of the citizenry, including business people, purchased guns for self-protection.

The McCone commission, during its 100-day study, must have heard considerable about the use of firearms. Yet its many recommendations for action programs to prevent future outbreaks in Watts or elsewhere made no mention of the need for any tighter laws governing sale, possession or ownership of firearms.

About the only specific mention of guns in the report appears on page 25:

"The police and sheriff's department have long known that many members of gangs, as well as others, in the south central area possessed weapons and knew how to use them. However, the extent to which pawn shops, each one of which possessed an inventory of weapons, were the immediate target of looters, leads to the conclusion that a substantial number of the weapons used were stolen from these shops. During the riots, law enforcement officers recovered 851 weapons."

The report said there were 3,952 adult and juvenile arrests during the riots. Of this total, 2,461 had prior criminal records — 1,376 of minor natures and 1,085 of major, or felony, conviction natures.

The McCone report would indicate its conclusions that a number of guns were owned illegally by the "gangs." The large number of criminal records attached to the persons arrested would indicate this as most of them could not own weapons legally under present laws.

The report also would indicate that present laws exercise a pretty good control over sale and possession of firearms in that the pawn shops were the early victims of looters.

The commission, with its apparent preoccupation in determining the disadvantages that caused the 10,000 persons to riot and means of spending money and offering programs to correct these disadvantages, did not offer any objections to private citizens' arming themselves for self-protection.

It is interesting to note, too, that investigators from the committee of Sen. Thomas Dodd were in the Watts area shortly after the riots, no doubt looking for ammunition for their publicity campaign for Dodd's highly restrictive gun bill. But they left without holding a hearing.

NO CHANCE TO KICK

The Slow Clock At Kezar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The officials acted correctly last Sunday, in ending the Green Bay-San Francisco game with two seconds showing on the scoreboard clock, according to Mark Duncan, chief of National Football League officials.

The 49ers had taken over the ball with seven seconds showing on the clock after a punt return went out of bounds on the Green Bay Packer 46-yard line.

The 49ers tried a pass that sailed out of bounds incomplete. The gun went off as the San Francisco field goal team shuffled onto the field. The game ended in a 24-24 tie that forced a playoff this Sunday between the Baltimore Colts and Green Bay for the right to meet the Eastern Conference champion Cleveland Browns for the NFL championship.

"The reason the gun blast was delayed," explained Duncan, who was at the game, "was that our rules provide for no firing until the play is dead and it is determined that no foul has been committed."

The delay was caused because line judge Charles Heberling, who fired the gun, had to find referee Art McNally to make sure there was no penalty on the pass play, Duncan said. Players and fans were milling around and on the field.

"The scoreboard clock is not official in the NFL. Time is kept at a table near the sidelines. The fourth quarter had ended with the pass in the air.

"You can see what would happen if there was a rule infraction," Duncan said. "There's no telling what would happen if we tried to clear the field for one more play."

If the 49ers had made a field goal, Baltimore would have won the Western Conference title outright. But 49er Tommy Davis would have had to put it through from about 51 yards away with a strong wind blowing against him.

Income Going Into Savings

A Securities and Exchange Commission report covering the July-September period revealed that pattern.

During that quarter individual savings set a post-World War II record of $10.7 billion. The previous peak was $8.5 billion in the final quarter of 1964.

There was a $7.9-billion increase in bank deposits and a $2-billion increase in loans incurred for the purpose of purchasing securities.

Blue Chips Help Push Stock Average Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today but held only a fraction of its best gains.

Selected blue chips pushed averages toward a record high but sharp selling in aerospace and airline issues brought steep losses to many recent gainers in these groups.

Reports of a Christmas truce in Viet Nam may have caused selling which slashed the best gains, brokers said, but these reports could not immediately be authenticated.

Some high quality issues such as American Telephone, which have been treated like step-children for many weeks, showed strength while the erstwhile glamour stocks in aerospace, electronics and airlines ere sold heavily.

Chrysler was the outstanding gainer among motors and was actively traded.

Volume for the day was estimated at 9 million shares compared with 8.24 million yesterday.

Steels resumed their rally, with Bethlehem up 1 and Lukens about 3. Most auto shares moved upward although Ford eased.

Gains of a point or better were made by American Telephone, Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper, Illinois Central and Phelps Dodge.

Aerospace issues were very weak. Boeing lost 5, Douglas Aircraft 4, General Dynamics and United Aircraft 3 each. Lockheed, a 1-point gainer on contract news, trimmed its advance.

Quaker States Oil was up nearly 3. Ahead around 2 were American Smelting, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Swift, Singer and Reynolds Metals.

IBM ran up half a dozen points. Texas Instruments was a 6-point loser. National Steel gained 3.

McDonnell Aircraft sank 3 points.

Prices were mixed in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.
